The Board of Missions for Freedmen may make still further appropriations from its treasury as in its judgment the interests of said Colored Cumberland Presbyterians may require and the funds available will allow.

The manner of making such appropriations and the conditions imposed shall be left to the judgment of the Board of Missions for Freedmen, the same to conform as nearly as possible to the rules and regulations under which the ordinary work of the Board is conducted.

Particular attention is called to the need of special training in behalf of candidates for the ministry in this denomination. The Board feels that some special arrangement should be made, jointly with the authorities of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, colored, whereby their young men preparing for the ministry may secure better training for their life work.

During the past year scattered Colored Presbyterian ministers belonging to several Presbyteries in Oklahoma have been formed into a Colored Presbytery. A question rose during the year between the Home Mission Board and the Freedmen's Board, as to whether the care of the work of this Presbytery belonged to the Home Board or the Freedmen's Board—a previous answer to an overture from Sequoyah Presbytery in 1903 having placed the Colored Churches of that region under the care of the Home Mission Board.

After a friendly correspondence, both Boards agreed to submit the matter to the decision of the Assembly, and a request is herewith made jointly with the Home Board, that the Assembly decide the matter for us.

To direct the growth and development of this people along the lines of honesty, purity, industry, sobriety, and an intelligent apprehension of their just obligations to both God and man; to instill into them that conception of human life and responsibility that is based on the teaching of our Saviour, that the first and great commandment is to love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our strength and with all our mind, and that the second is like unto it, namely: that we should love our neighbor as our selves—this surely must be no slight contribution toward the solution of what in some quarters is proclaimed to be the greatest problem this country has ever been called to solve .

Without the kind of work we have been and are now doing, along with other Christian Churches, we firmly believe all other kind of work proposed for the saving of this people is vain.

To build this people's future on any other foundation than that which rests on the fear and the love of God, is to offer them refuge in a house of wood, hay and stubble, which will surely be burned. With them as with any other people, their works shall be tried as by fire, and there is no other way of having wrought into their lives the gold, silver and precious stones that shall stand the test, than to teach them to build on Jesus Christ as the foundation of all that is worth living for.

The man who understands our work as we mean it to be—and our purpose—and yet assails it, must be bad at heart.

The good man that assails it, must do so because he does not know its character or its underlying motive. Sufficient time has elapsed since our work began to afford proof of its wisdom, or evidence of its folly. Looking back over the years that are gone; reviewing the field as it now presents itself; counting the faithful who in life and in death have borne their testimony to the gospel as the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; noting in the ranks of workers both men and women whose record is without reproach, whose characters are commendable, whose influence is helpful, whose work is enduring, we ask ourselves—what advance this race could or would have made but for the moral forces that have already made so many measurably good men and women?

Whence comes what is now referred to as the “better class” of Negroes? What made them a “better” class? The difference between them and the dangerous class is a difference in morals, a difference in character, a difference of aim in life. If there is even now a better class that not only disarms prejudice, but inspires confidence and respect, and oft times high regard—is this not proof that that influence which has already created a “better class,” is the hopeful, helpful influence which should be strengthened than rather weakened, encouraged rather than hindered?

Five hundred and eighteen ministers more or less earnest in their efforts to persuade men to respect and turn to God and live, cannot but be an influence for good.

Three hundred and thirty-four teachers in daily contact with from thirteen to fourteen thousand pupils in our 115 schools, all of whom are professing christians pledged to do missionary work must be effective in turning many to righteousness. Surely our labor so far has not been in vain. The money we have expended has not been spent for naught.

Confident that in this work we are co-workers with God, and that we have being doing our Master's will, we make our report with heartfelt thankfulness. Although we meet, some times opposition, and oft times stolid indifference on the part of those from whom we fondly looked to for sympathy and aid, we are still thankful that we have been called to help those that need help; to lift up the hands that hang down; to strengthen the feeble knees, and to make straight paths for others' feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way: to preach the gospel to the poor, to heal the broken hearted; to preach deliverance to the captive, the recovering of sight to the blind, liberty for them that are bruised, and to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

The term of service of the following members expires with this Assembly:

ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY
AT COLUMBUS, OHIO
MAY, 1907.

RESOLUTIONS.

1. That the Assembly acknowledges and commends the fidelity of the Board, the Secretaries, and the laborers on the field, and the untiring devotion of the Woman's Department of the Board.

2. That the minutes of the Board be approved.

3. That the recommendation of the Board in regard to the contribution, the appropriation and distribution of funds for the educational and missionary work of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, colored, be adopted, as reported in full in the Annual Report of the Board.

4. That the Assembly in answer to the request of the Boards of Home Mission and Freedmen to decide whether the colored Presbytery formed during the past year in Oklahoma shall belong to the Home Board, or the Freedmen's Board, hereby places said Presbytery under the care of the Freedmen's Board.

5. That the re-united Church be urged to contribute this year for this Board the minimum of $300,000, the amount of which has been set as a standard for years past, but not yet realized, and that an immediate crusade be begun in all Synods and Presbyteries to secure this amount.

6. That the General Assembly records its grateful appreciation of two of its faithful missionaries who have been called home during the year, both of Biddle University—Rev. W. M. Hargrave, D. D., Professor of Christian Evidences and Pastoral Theology, and Rev. D. J. Sanders, D. D., President. Of Dr. Sanders the Board says: "We have sustained no greater loss in the death of any one man since the work began. He was known throughout the entire church, and respected by all for his sterling qualities."

7. That the comprehensive and excellent report of the Board be commended to the careful study of all pastors and sessions, as the basis for an aggressive campaign in the interests of the Africo-American Missions.

8. That the present year be made one of special prayer by the re-united Presbyterian Church, that God will lead us on to larger things for the new South, and that He will guide white and black alike in this great crisis of our history.

9. That the following members of the Board whose term expired with this meeting of the Assembly be re-elected, viz: Rev. William L. McEwan, D. D., Rev. David R. Breed, D. D., Mr. George B. Logan, and James C. Gray, Esq.

In behalf of the Committee.

JAMES M. WILSON, Chairman.

Attest, WM. H. ROBERTS, Stated Clerk.

TWENTY - THIRD ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE FREEDMEN'S DEPARTMENT
OF THE
WOMAN'S BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS
513 BESSEMER BUILDING, PITTSBURGH, PA.

"Safely through another year, God has brought us on our way."

In grateful acknowledgement, therefore, of His loving kindness and tender mercy which has accompanied us every step of the journey, and with a hearty appreciation of the generous support of the various organizations of the Woman's Board of Home Missions, we present to you the 23d Annual Report of the Freedmen's Department.

FINANCIAL.

The receipts for the year 1906-1907 were $73,025.30, which as compared with last year show an increase in contributions of $2,115.37. It is very encouraging to have regained lost ground.

Of the total amount received $54,439.43 came from Women's Societies; $5,330.16 from Sabbath Schools; $10,672.44 from Young Peoples Societies; $2,583.27 from Miscellaneous sources; while $182.41 came from Women's Societies direct to the Board.

This money has been applied to the educational work of the Board as follows: Teacher's Salaries, $22,787.40; Scholarships, $19,922.05; Building Fund, $15,000.00; and General Fund, $15,315.85, the last named fund being applied to salaries not especially provided for and general running expenses of the schools not met by Scholarship fund.

We are indebted to the Women's Societies for the advance made this year, the increase amounting to $2,805.71. The number of Societies contributing was 2966—which is eleven less than last year. The number of Sabbath Schools contributing through the Woman's Board was 436, or 2 less than last year. A slight advance of $57.44 was made which was more than offset by a falling off in gifts direct to the Board from this source. As generous gifts to our work, came from several schools this year, for the first time, a number of those previously contributing failed to make their usual offering to the Freedmen, and therefore the falling off in number. Every possible effort has been put forth by our department to interest and enlist the Sabbath Schools in this important branch of Missions. The Secretary's letters to pastors and superintendents with instructive programs and other literature have been sent in quantities to every presbyterial secretary, they in turn sending to each school, often with a personal letter to the superintendent. We are glad to note that many of the appeals have met with a cordial and hearty response. For these we are truly grateful and trust for their continued support; but where, oh, where are the more than 7,000 schools which fail to recognize any obligation to this most important Board of the Church.

The receipts from Young People's Societies show a falling off of $603.03. This is a continued decline on the part of the Young People of our Church, which, taken with that of last year, makes a loss to our work within two years of $1,347.49, with a loss in number of societies of nearly two hundred. While this decline is to be deplored, we do not attribute it to a lack of interest on the part of the Young People. They, as a rule, are ever ready to respond when the cause is presented. That it has not been presented and pressed as its importance demands, is, we believe, due to the fact that the duty of the young peoples secretaries in connection with their branch of Missions is not clearly defined. In some cases, the Young People's Secretary expects the Freedmen's Secretary to present the work to her Societies, or the reverse is the case. As a result, neither Secretary having been instructed, the work is not presented, and is therefore lost sight of or dropped. A definite arrangement by each Presbyterial Executive Committee, as to which of the Secretaries will be responsible for this branch of the work, will we believe prove an effective remedy for this failure, and will bring about a forward movement for Freedmen among the Young People of our church which will prove a blessing to them and to the cause. Such a movement, we are confident, will in no wise lessen the gifts to other lines of Mission Work, but rather increase them. For, "there is that scattereth and yet increaseth, and there is that withholdeth more than is meet yet tendeth to poverty."

Contributions have been received for the work of the Freedmen's Board from every Home Mission Synodical Society, twenty-nine in number. Twenty-two of these made an advance over last year. At the beginning of the year each Synodical Society was asked for a definite sum, the amounts based upon the gifts of each the preceding year, with a margin for advance. While more than two-thirds increased their gifts, but four reached the apportionment, viz: Colorado, Indian Territory, Oregon, South Dakota. None, however fell very far short of the amount asked, and these will probably have attained by the end of the Synodical year. It is worthy of special mention that California, to which on account of its recent great calamity, no apportionment was given, and from which contributions could not reasonably be expected, at most beyond definite pledges, has closed the year not only without a deficit, but with an advance of more than $200, and we are encouraged to hope for a still further advance the coming year.

One contribution, which was most inspiring, came from the "Little White Mother and her beloved Indians" of the Blackfoot Reservation in Idaho, for their "Brethren in black."

BOX WORK.

Many valuable boxes have been sent to our field this year, containing household supplies of bedding, table linen, carpet, rugs, and material for the sewing department of the day-school. Quite a number of real Christmas boxes have also been sent, which have carried with them joy and gladness to the recipients. The total number reported was eight hundred and eight, comparatively few placing any value upon them. Total of valuations given is $6,604.00.

BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS.

Several buildings have been completed during the year. The Helen A. Wells building in connection with the Mary Potter School at Oxford, N. C., to be known as Wells' Hall of Domestic Science was ready for occupancy the latter part of December. It was erected at a cost of about $10,000, all of which was contributed by the Societies of New York Synodical and stands as a testimonial of their love and esteem for their Freedmen Secretary, Miss Helen A. Wells, for whom the building is named, and also of their interest and appreciation of the needs of the colored girls in the South. The building is of frame, four stories including a basement, the latter above ground sufficiently to be well lighted, and contains a large dining room, kitchen, cooking class rooms, laundry, ironing room and the necessary store rooms and pantries. The second floor contains a large assembly room which will be used for study, and reception room, office and nine bed-rooms. The third floor is entirely given to dormitory purposes, containing sixteen rooms, while the fourth floor is divided into seven apartments, each of which will accommodate four girls. The building will be dedicated early in May, and this school we believe, will enter upon a new era of prosperity the coming year, better equipped for thorough efficient work than heretofore.

The building at Cotton Plant, Arkansas, has, after many delays at last been completed and was ready for occupancy in January. The building is of brick, two stories, and contains thirty rooms for dormitory purposes, besides an office and rooms for the President's family. The cost was about $10,000, which was furnished by the Western Synodical Societies; $1,000 of the amount being contributed by the first and second churches of St. Louis. This building will be known as Nicolls' Hall, in honor of Rev. S. J. Nicolls, D. D., pastor of St. Louis second church and a warm friend and supporter of the school.

The McClelland Academy building, the fund for which was raised by Pennsylvania and completed more than a year ago, is now in course of construction, and will be ready for the opening of school the coming fall. It is to be of frame structure, two stories, and contain the necessary class-rooms and an assembly room and will afford ample accommodations for a large number of pupils. This school was never in a more prosperous condition than in the year just closing and has a promising future.

Ingleside Seminary, which so unfortunately was destroyed by fire a year ago, is being rebuilt and will be completed ready for refurnishing about the first of July. No especial appeal was made for rebuilding funds; the insurance on the former building and furniture, $23,000, and the income of the School for the year for which it has been closed has been applied to the rebuilding. The new structure will have the same accommodations as the former one, but much of its attractiveness, notably its porches, and many conveniences will be lacking. Voluntary offerings coming from Societies will aid in the refurnishing, for which there is no provision and will be highly appreciated. Over fourteen hundred dollars has been received and designated as part of the special building fund for the year, and can be applied to the furnishing if not consumed in the building.

To build, equip and maintain the many schools under the care of the Freedmen's Board has required energetic and continuous effort along the line of securing funds. The raising of funds for this work has devolved largely on the Woman's Department and the demand is ever increasing. As fast as one building fund is completed another is substituted. A special fund not completed one year is continued the next. As no building is erected until the required amount is in the treasury the appeals sometimes becomes monotonous and objections are made that societies have become tired of that special. It is only necessary to remind them that it is by so doing that a debt is avoided and we hear no further objections.

The Kendall building and improvement fund of $5,000.00 continued from last year has been completed and a building will be erected as early as practicable. The improvements including fence, painting, repairing and refurnishing, were made in the fall. This work was made possible by means of a special gift of $500.00 given by personal friends of Mrs. Kendall for this special work. The President writes in regard to the disposition of this special gift. "We have enclosed our lot, including all of our buildings with a wire fence, which adds much to the general appearance and has called forth many favorable comments. With this improvement, the new chairs in the chapel, and extra desks for class rooms, we are comparatively happy, but are waiting as patiently as possible the new dormitory and more teaching space, one class room has this year 150 pupils with comfortable space for not more than 60."

We are happy also to drop from the schedule of last year the Birmingham building, for which the required amount, $5,000.00 has been secured, the money coming from New York and the Western Synodical Societies. Plans for this new structure are now in the office and will be considered at an early day.

The $1,000.00 needed for a school building at Walterboro, S. C. has also been secured, Ohio Synodical making this their special extra object for the year.

The only building fund to be carried into the new year is that for Albion Academy at Franklinton, N. C., where a new building is a necessity, in place of the proposed enlargement and repairing of the girls dormitory and boarding house, as early in February the two structures mentioned were entirely destroyed by fire. The fund therefor, which has been collected this year for repairing will be applied to the erection of the proposed new building, which will combine a girls dormitory and boarding accommodations for the entire school. It may be of interest to know that notwithstanding the destruction of the two buildings, the school work went on without the loss of a day. The Farm Home Fund, for which $10,000 was asked will also be continued as a part of the work for the coming year. About $2,000 is in hand for this enterprise. As there have been many expressions of interest in this work and a hearty indorsement of the plan proposed, we hope to see the entire amount necessary for the undertaking, in the treasury at the close of the coming year.

Besides the special work assigned, several Synodicals have given extra gifts to other lines of work. Illinois Synodical has raised one thousand dollars as a memorial to Miss Mary E. Holmes, the former secretary for Freedmen of the North West and also of the Illinois Synodical. This will be invested as permanent fund and applied to general Scholarship in Mary Holmes Seminary. Fifty dollars was also sent in by the same Society as advance income from another one thousand dollars which it is proposed to raise the coming year as a permanent Scholarship in the Nurse Training Department of the same school. This branch of study has been made a special feature of the course in this school.

The other Synodicals of the North West with Kansas and Missouri have also sent contributions amounting to nearly five hundred dollars to be applied to a permanent Memorial Scholarship to Miss Holmes in the same school. It is the purpose of these Synodicals to bring the amount up to one thousand dollars.

New York Synodical, has, in addition to Specials assigned, furnished Wells Hall at an expense of nearly sixteen hundred dollars. Albany Presbyterial, Miss Wells' home Society, of which she has also been Freedmen's Secretary, has provided furnishings for twelve students and five teachers' rooms, besides nearly two hundred dollars towards the heating plant. The Assembly and reception rooms are memorials to two sainted workers, formerly of Rochester Presbyterial, and a personal friend of Miss Wells of the Niagara Presbyterial has provided the furnishing for the dining room and cooking class rooms.

SCHOOL WORK.

The schools under the Board so largely dependent upon the gifts from Home Mission Societies for their support must ever be regarded as a most necessary and effective agency in the work of evangelizing the Negro. Reaching out as they do after the ignorant, the neglected and oft times degraded boys and girls, they bring them under a course of discipline and training which they could not otherwise receive, and which under the blessing of God regenerates them morally, intellectually and physically. Many hundreds have, by means of the training thus received, become a power for good in the home, in the church and in the community.

One hundred and fifteen schools have been in progress during the year. These are of all grades from University to Parochial, and include both boarding and day schools. The total enrollment this year of pupils was about 14,000 and the contributions for support from patrons and students were $48,171.64. It is a policy of the Board where school is carried on to require the people to pay as far as they are able for what they receive, and there can be no stronger proof of the desire of the Negroes for the education of their children than the self-denial and privation they will endure that their boys and girls may attend school. Two additions have been made this year to the list of parochials supported by Societies; one at Knoxville, Tenn., which has been aided by Missouri Synodical, the other at Mebane, N. C., which has been adopted by the Young People and Sabbath Schools of California.

The year has not passed without the usual evidences of the transforming power of the Gospel. That "the entrance of the Word" which is studied day by day in all of our schools, "gives light" to the darkened minds of the Negro boys and girls and life to their souls, is proven again and again in the changed lives of the students who come under the influence of our teachers, and many go out each year to take their places as an uplifting force in the church and community where their lot is cast.

It is with sorrow and regret that we record the death of Rev. D. J. Sanders, D. D., who for fifteen years was the honored President of Biddle University. On the 6th of March after a long illness he was called to his reward. His familiar presence will be seen no more at the General Assembly of our Church, to which he came each year as a representative of the Institution, over which he presided with untiring devotion and ability.

From a human standpoint the removal of Dr. Sanders seems an irreparable loss to the Board and to the church, but especially to his own race of which he was so noble a representative. Truly a great man and a wise and capable leader has been taken. "He rests from his labors", and the question so frequently asked "who will take the vacant place" is yet to be answered.

Aside from the removal of Dr. Sanders there has been but one change in the Presidents of our Institutions. Rev. T. H. Ames, D. D., who, for fourteen years was President of Harbison College, resigned his position and has been succeeded by Rev. C. M. Young who was in charge of church and school at Rock Hill, S. C. This school which was interrupted for a time has been in progress since February first, and it is the hope of the Board that it may, the coming year, be fully restored to its former high position as one of its most successful schools.

All things considered, the school work of the Board is in a healthy and hopeful condition. Every boarding school is full to overflowing, with long waiting lists, and many of the day schools are pleading for boarding departments, that they may receive students desiring to come from the rural districts. Some of the pupils now attending these schools walk from six to ten miles daily.

The graduates from our boarding schools are most creditably filling the places in the public schools and the demand for these is greater than the supply.

The only discouraging feature of the work is lack of sufficient funds to plant more schools in destitute communities of which there are many throughout the South and to strengthen by better equipment those already planted. This last we are doing each year to the extent of our limited resources.

The Woman's Board continues to favor our department by devoting the April number of the Home Mission Monthly to the interests of the Freedmen. This is a splendid contribution each year of valuable space, time and effort with no small expense—a gift which is most highly appreciated by the Freedmen's Board. Also the Children's Magazine "Over Sea and Land" has its Home Mission space each April filled with charming stories, interesting items and valuable information in regard to this department of Missions.

The Assembly Herald every month has two or more pages filled with interesting articles, letters from the field, valuable facts and news items, all of which should be helpful in awakening and stimulating interest among the multitudes of Presbyterians who know little or nothing, or are entirely indifferent to this cause, and its pressing needs; leaflets by thousands have been circulated all over the land bearing upon every phase of the work. It was a great privilege to have committed to us the preparation of the program for "Christian Endeavor" and Young People's Societies for the March meeting of these organizations, the topic assigned being "Missions among Freedmen"—"The Progress of the Afro-American"—We are most grateful for this opportunity of reaching so many young people and trust it may be repeated each year. Ten thousand copies of the program were sent out in response to requests from every part of our land and we are hopeful that they may be the means of calling the attention of the young people of our church to the connection between this cause and every other department of Mission work, that it is as much their duty to give the Gospel to the "Afro American" as it is to give it to any other race of people—they are surely included in the "All" for whom Christ died.

In the line of Mission study, a book is in course of preparation, which will be a valuable help in the study of the topic for March and April. It is being prepared by Dr. S. J. Fisher, President of the Freedmen's Board and will be issued during the early summer.

The stereopticon views of our schools and their work have been widely used and are an education in themselves. The work has been presented most earnestly and faithfully by voice and pen in every Synodical and Presbyterial Society and should result in an increasing and more general interest the coming year. The Freedmen's Committee composed of ladies from five Presbyteries adjoining Pittsburgh have met each month, for ten months of the year, for prayer, conference and counsel, and by their sympathy, their prayers, as well by their gifts have been a support and an inspiration.

The negroes of our churches in the South are lengthening their cords and strengthening their stakes with a view to more active and aggressive work than ever before. They seem anxious to give, as freely as they have received the Gospel, which has done so much for them; and no sacrifice seems too great, or labor too arduous, that they may advance the cause for which they work and pray. Their gifts to church and school are a surprise to all who know of their meager incomes. The amount contributed for support of churches this year was $48,241.20; for school purposes $57,171.64. Their gifts to the Boards of the church call for no small self-denial. To the Mission fund of the Freedmen's Board, the contributions were $760.59 and to the other Boards of the church $1,722.34. The Women's Societies sent $197.59 to the work of our department and have also contributed to both Home and Foreign Missions. Many of the churches are struggling towards self support and some attain to this each year.

With this comparatively brief report of the work of the year we close the record and enter upon the new year with renewed zeal and earnestness, yet realizing as never before that "Neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase."

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS.) V. P. BOGGS,

General Secretary.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U. S. A.

TWENTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

In presenting its Twenty-fourth Annual Report to the General Assembly, The College Board has to tell of many facts and conditions that give evidence of developing work and widening opportunity. There is only one fact that seems to bear a contrary testimony: the sum total of direct gifts to our colleges being a little less than the corresponding total of last year's report. For this decrease in individual gifts a number of reasons may be found. First: The year has been one of unusual commercial prosperity and industrial development, when for every dollar of a man's surplus a hundred promising investments offer themselves. In such a time, though an accustomed giver may keep up his regular benevolences and Church offerings, he will almost inevitably be turned aside, for the time, from large special subscriptions. Second: At the date of our last report, several large plans for increased endowment had just been successfully completed. Occidental had just secured $200,000; Pennsylvania College for Women, and Washington and Jefferson, the same sum; Carroll, $100,000. Such efforts cannot be repeated year after year, and institutions that have made them will almost certainly experience one following year of very moderate financial results. Third: Several colleges are now busily at work on plans for new endowment of very large amount. Wooster is working for $500,000; Wabash, Macalester and Lafayette are seeking the same amount; Western and Coe are planning for an increase of $250,000 each. These and other institutions are not yet ready to report. If their plans can be carried to full success in the coming college year, the sum total of individual gifts will rise again to very large proportions.

| Grand Totals | | $1,604,124 40 | | $1,495,992 53 |

It will be seen from the foregoing statements that the smaller total in the "New Endowment" columns need not stand in the way of a title of "Growth" as descriptive of the year's work of the Presbyterian Church for higher education. The colleges of the Presbyterian Church have, almost without exception, enjoyed a year of marked development. One thing that has been developing in all parts of the Church field is what may be called the "Small college idea." The educational world is coming more and more emphatically and unitedly to the endorsement of the "small" college. The status of such an institution is not a matter of arithmetic. To be a small college it is not necessary that an institution shall have less than a given number of students. A small college is one where the student body, in relation to the size of a carefully chosen faculty, is small enough to ensure a real personal influence of the teacher in the upbuilding of student character and close personal supervision of student work. Such an institution will have required class-room work, and a sufficient time given for recitations. In a word, it will treat the student body as made up of pupils, rather than independent scholars engaged in personally chosen research work. The educational world is coming more and more to pronounce upon such small college work as absolutely necessary. University men are declaring that the complete usefulness of the university depends upon it. Great givers are creating funds for its support and development because wise educational leaders are assuring them of its supreme importance. The College Board, rejoicing in the popular endorsement of what has been its guiding principle throughout the quarter century of its existence, is going forward with its constant purpose: to develop small colleges of high educational standing and to keep a definite atmosphere of Christian faith and service in them all.

NEW LEADERS.

This year has seen changes of leadership in the college fields, and the following new presidents have taken up work at the institutions whose names follow theirs in the appended list:

John Willis Baer, LL.D., Occidental College.

Miss Mary L. Marquis, Albert Lea College.

Rev. Henry Coe Culbertson, Emporia College.

Rev. John B. Rendall, D.D., Lincoln University.

Rev. E. E. Reed, D.D., Lenox College.

Rev. Robert L. Campbell, D.D., Buena Vista College.

T. Morey Hodgman, Ph.D., Macalester College.

Rev. Newell S. Fiscus, D.D., Blairsville College.

The pictures of these leaders are given on the last cover page of this report, and the Board is glad to take this way of introducing them more widely to the Church.

NEW CONDITIONS.

The following may well be called a statistical table of growth:

As has been already mentioned, certain institutions are engaged in special efforts for increased endowment. Among these the following may be specially mentioned as looking toward the most marked increase: Albert Lea, Alma, Caldwell, Carroll, Coe, Hastings, Lafayette, Lake Forest, Macalester, Montana, Park, Wabash, Westminster (Missouri), Wooster.

Certain other institutions are aiming at better equipment in buildings, the following having either completed or begun new buildings of considerable value: Carroll, Hastings, Huron, Lake Forest, Macalester, Maryville, Missouri Valley, Park, Parsons, Wilson and Wooster.

A careful study of the whole table will be enlightening to one who has the Church's work at heart. Here will be found increase in the student body during the year, and the new opportunity for service set down in terms of buildings and available funds. Here is what business men would call the "proposition": Shall institutions that have increased their student body in a year 1,307; that have erected buildings to the value of $614,252; that have collected over $1,800,000 new endowment—shall such institutions be enabled to hold the subscriptions that have been conditionally received to the amount of over $1,500,000 by the securing of new subscriptions of less than twice the amount? Imagine such a proposition made to a business house: that over $1,500,000 would be presented to it if it should raise $2,750,000 in its field. Is it possible that the Church of the living God, charged with the business of the King of kings, shall hesitate to meet such an opportunity?

NEW OPPORTUNITIES.

When Mr. Rockefeller added to the $1,000,000 he first gave the General Education Board, $10,000,000 more, the interest of which, it was understood, was to be used chiefly for colleges, and particularly for Christian colleges, every thoughtful man and woman was obliged to take note that his mind evidently regarded the Christian college as a great conservative force in American life. Then Mr. Carnegie began giving to the smaller Christian colleges, beginning with the University of Wooster, continuing his benefactions up to the present time, and forcing a conviction that this great giver evidently considers the small college as a chief force for good in American civilization. When Mr. Rockefeller added the great gift of $32,000,000 more to the General Education Fund, he placed an emphasis upon this matter which will make it resound in every American mind for all time to come.

It is possible, however, to make a fatal mistake in connection with these vast opportunities. It might be supposed that these gifts made all necessary provision, and that further contribution on the part of the churches or individuals would not be required. The very opposite is the case. The large gifts that have been made will call for a church and individual beneficence larger than ever before, and for two reasons:

First: Any amount from the recent gifts offered to our colleges will be offered on condition that a sum three or four times as large shall be raised by the college, and mainly from its own church constituency.

Second: Any college thus entering upon a canvass for endowment will be, by the fact of that work, almost precluded from the work of collecting money for current expenses, and The College Board will be compelled to assist it more largely than ever with funds that must come to it as offerings of Presbyterian churches.

Large gifts for the "small colleges" are the strongest endorsement of the wisdom of the Church's position in regard to Christian education; but it must be understood that, so far from taking away the need of Presbyterian giving, they make the need greater than ever. They make, not an excuse, but an opportunity.

The gift of Mr. Rockefeller emphasizes further the wisdom of the Presbyterian Church in establishing and maintaining such an agency as The College Board. If a single individual finds it expedient to establish a central Board to administer his gifts to colleges which have only their educational work in common, how much greater is the need of a Church, numbering thousands of members, for such an organization, if it is to render most effective its efforts in aid of the common interests of its Presbyterian colleges?

NEW NEEDS.

"There is yet very much land to be possessed." The Board used to hear considerable criticism from those who made the complaint that "there were too many Presbyterian colleges." It is true that certain States have several of these institutions, and in some cases the Board is making every effort to effect unions among two or more of the colleges where it seems unlikely that the separate institutions can secure enough endowment and equipment to provide for proper training. The criticism referred to, however, is on the decrease. Certain accepted beliefs are very fully meeting it. It is generally admitted now—

First: That the Church is not seeking to produce great institutions but small ones, provided only that they can secure sufficient equipment and a faculty competent to produce the desired results.

Second: That the large majority of students in any institution come from a territory included within a radius of sixty miles. It will be seen at once how these two facts bear upon the old cry of "too many colleges."

That cry, however, cannot be raised at all in many parts of our Church field. There are whole States and Territories, for whose evangelization the Church is responsible, in which we have not a single college. Nevada, Wyoming, North Dakota, New Mexico, Arizona have no Presbyterian institution of higher learning. Neither have Cuba, nor Porto Rico, nor Alaska, and yet we include these fields in our Home Mission territory, and accept our Church's responsibility for their enlightenment.

The following table shows very clearly the position held by the Presbyterian Church in comparison with other denominations:

TABLE II.—CERTAIN GROUPS OF COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

| Average to each college | | 80 | 976 | 803,173 | 336,671 | 197,575 |

The table does not make a gratifying showing. Where the Baptist Church has 103 colleges, the Presbyterian Church, in all its branches, has but 68; where the Methodist Church has 2,893 teachers, the Presbyterian Church has but 1,433; where the Methodist Church has 38,115 pupils, the Presbyterian Church has only 17,571. Presbyterian college property is worth only about half of that controlled by the Baptist Church, and the endowment of Presbyterian colleges is less than a third of that of Congregational institutions.

The Presbyterian Church has dared to pose before the world as a leader in culture and in intellectual training as naturally connected with its world-saving work. However true this may have been in the past, or of the Presbyterian Church in other lands, the claim, at present, is not so fully met as we could desire. No one, however, must suppose that the Board considers the figures that have been given as disheartening. The Presbyterian Church has begun to think on these needs, and Presbyterian thought means, as it always has meant, Presbyterian action. The tables simply give the grounds for present action, and enable us to see ourselves as others see us.

GROWTH OF THE BOARD'S SPECIAL WORK.

1. During the past year, and due to the reunion between the Presbyterian and Cumberland denominations, the Board has come into co-operation with a number of new colleges and academies. The Cumberland Church had no Board engaged in the development of these institutions. Its Educational Commission was engaged in plans for endowment increase. When final adjustment is effected in the work of the two uniting Churches, these schools (including colleges and academies) will all be within the sphere of The College Board's co-operating efforts. The names of these institutions, whose statistical reports will be found in their alphabetical order in the table on page 26 of this report, are as follows: Arkansas Cumberland College, Bethel College, Cumberland University, Indianola College, James Millikin University, Lincoln College, Missouri Valley College, Texas Female Seminary, Trinity University and Waynesburg College.

2. The year has brought a large increase in office work, in correspondence with givers and with institutions, requiring increased clerical force. The Board has prepared and sent widely through the Church an illustrated volume on "Our Presbyterian Colleges," designed to present their work as a unit, embodying certain common principles of action and controlled by the one purpose to develop an educated and consecrated service. All the colleges were called into co-operation. The work of each was presented in its main features by those in charge of its affairs. The result justifies the Board's purpose. A step forward has been taken in the effort to show the Church that its many institutions, differing widely in minor details of plan and local adjustment, constitute one field of necessary service and unitedly claim the loyal and sympathetic support of the entire Church.

3. There has been an encouraging advance in the receipts of the Board passing through its treasury. In 1905-6 these amounted to $82,408.86; in 1906-7 their sum is $110,128.49. Of the latter amount, $20,000 is the gift of one friend of Christian Education which has passed into the Board's permanent fund, to be held for scholarships in certain designated colleges and at the discretion of the Board.

The sum of $1,451,193.39 in all has gone to institutions for increased endowment, new buildings, improved equipment and current expenses. The items making up this sum have been in the main secured in their own fields, and throughout the length and breadth of the Church by the college workers, by institutions co-operating with the Board and approved by it. The Board has given aid for these collections in every way in its power—by widely distributed literature, by correspondence, by public meetings. The credit for the collections, however, belongs to the faithful and tirelessly efficient college officers. Too much praise cannot be given to these workers. The larger part of the membership of our Church has had no means of knowing them, and yet they are the men to whom the glory of an advancing interest in Christian education absolutely belongs. They were the pioneers in the service; they bore the burdens of a day of long discouragement; now they are "arriving." Like the Lord who has sustained them, they are seeing of the travail of their souls. These are the educators who, in their little colleges, have been doing the real work of life training and character moulding. They are, as they have been, the Church's recruiting officers, finding and drilling the men for all the fields, at home and abroad, of the Master's world-wide service.

They have labored for almost nothing, scorning more alluring opportunity, offering up their attainments, their health, life itself for God's Kingdom. They have sacrificed as few in any field of service have been called to sacrifice, gaining little praise and glory for themselves, laying every result of their vast toil in the unseen foundations of the holy temple that is rising. They have been the cheerful, persistent, unshrinking champions of Him who is the truth, the servants of the Light that has come into the world. It is by such as these that it—that He—is to enlighten every man.

DESIRED GROWTH.

Because of the development of its field, because of an always widening opportunity, the Board will need a largely increased revenue from the churches during the coming year.

1. For appropriations to colleges that now number fifty-three, where they numbered forty-six a year ago. The colleges that were allied with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church have, in the fact of the union and in accordance with their earnest desire, become co-operating institutions. They are situated in parts of the Church where the membership is not wealthy, and they merit special consideration and sympathy for the stand that, without exception and often at the cost of peculiar sacrifice, they have taken in favor of the union into which the Church has entered.

Many of our colleges, and in all parts of the field, will have special need of help for current expenses. They are engaged in plans for endowment that cut them off from usual efforts in their own fields, and that temporarily make the most hopeful institutions the most needy. The Board will pursue its policy of first considering the claims of colleges that are in this way making most strenuous effort for their own upbuilding.

2. For expenses of its own, incurred not only in its office work but especially in efforts to co-operate in all local movements, and in special plans widely to inform the Church of its opportunity. The officers of the Board must travel widely, unifying the work and carrying forward an unceasing "campaign of education." For these duties the Board asks the special practical endorsement of the churches.

3. The main effort of the Board will continue to be the seeking of gifts for endowment for the individual colleges. Without these gifts the work can result only in a hand-to-mouth existence of the institutions, most hampering to a fundamentally necessary work, and unworthy of a Church that in all its history has stood for higher education as an essential part of the Lord's advancing Kingdom.

GROWTH IN SPIRITUAL WORK.

The Board stands, and will stand, for certain definite religious characteristics in all college work. All Presbyterian institutions must require Bible teaching, and give a distinctly evangelistic training, a constant discipline for all their scholars, designed to send them out as educated Christian workers. At the College Conference held in Des Moines on May 16, 1906, the College representatives and the Board agreed upon a plan of united work. Among others the following actions were taken:

(a) As to Required Bible Study. A Committee appointed for the purpose reported that for a college course of four years one period a week should be given to required Bible study. It was unanimously voted, with the understanding that this should be the minimum for required Bible study in the college course. It was further understood that college faculties should be at liberty to arrange the thirty-six hours of a given year according to their judgment.

(b) As to the Evangelistic Mission of the Christian College. The Committee reported: "We would affirm our belief that the Christian college has a distinct and peculiar mission. Its grade of scholarship should be the highest and its advantages the best possible. It should be second to no other institutions of learning in intellectual development and general culture, but more important than this should be its effort to foster the moral and religious life of the students. Its work is Christian education. Every member of the faculty should be a believer with a decided faith, and all subjects taught from the Christian point of view, and the Christian spirit so fostered that every unconverted student may be won to Christ, and the spiritual life so developed that all students may be led to a deeper consecration to His cause; their vision so enlarged that the work of Christ and the world's needs may inspire them to higher character and greater efficiency in Christian service."

The Board takes great pleasure in reporting the practical results of the religious purpose of the colleges, results that prove the deep impression that faithful teachers are making from day to day upon their students.

First: These colleges are raising up the great body of candidates for the ministry and missionary service at home and abroad. In the table on page 15 the first column gives, as accurately as possible, the enrollment of male students in college and college preparatory work. The second column gives the number of students for the ministry in each institution.

As to Foreign Mission service, only one illustration is here presented. In the present graduating class of Princeton Seminary, fourteen men have pledged themselves for the foreign field. Of this number, at least ten are graduates of small Christian colleges.

† Second: The results of definite spiritual effort for the conversion and consecration of the students are more difficult to tabulate. The following facts are given, not as a full account but as a partial statement of much faithful work, for which the Church may well give thanks. There is scarcely an institution where during the year there has not been definite evangelistic effort. Meetings have been held, personal work has been done, Christian students have been organized for effort, presidents and teachers have gone from the executive office and the class-room to the pulpit to plead with their students to be reconciled to God. The results of all this work will appear throughout the life of the Church. The announcements of this one year, however, bring vast encouragement. The colleges report 307 young men and women who, because of the influence of their college life, have given themselves to Jesus Christ.

OUTLOOK.

The prospect for a year's work was never better. In one close organization, the Board and the colleges are planning and praying for a wider culture, for a deeper spirituality, for a fuller consecration. If the Church will pray and prayerfully give, all difficulties can be surmounted, and the high purpose of Christian education can be realized. Out from our colleges and into all the fields of the world's labor will go the hosts of young men and women, equipped for earthly leadership and consecrated to His service who is Leader and Lord of all.

MEMBERSHIP.

Rev. J. Addison Henry, D.D., LL.D., died at Asbury Park, New Jersey, August 8, 1906. He was a member of the Board from the time of its reorganization in Buffalo in May, 1904, and served loyally until his death. The same qualities that made him for forty-five years the pastor of one church, that brought him honor as Moderator of the General Assembly, and that led to his choice as director of many of the Church's activities, gave him great usefulness as a member of this Board.

His clear vision of the Church's mission, his wisdom in judgment, and his unflinching optimism as to the sure success of all true Christian service made him a counsellor hopeful and courageous, and one singularly dear to all his fellow-workers.

He died while yet his powers as a fellow-laborer with Christ were unflinching and undiminished. He rests from his labors—his works do follow him—works fit to be the inspiration of the men who labored at his side and loved him; works sure to be a continual blessing to the interests in the Church and world that he and they lived—and live—to carry forward to high and glorious success.

The Rev. John Bancroft Devins; D.D., was elected to the vacancy caused by Dr. Henry's death.

The Board records with deep sorrow the sudden death of Rev. Teunis S. Hamlin, D.D., on April 18, 1907. The life of Dr. Hamlin needs no eulogy; for his conspicuous ability as a preacher of the Gospel, as a pastor, as a writer and as an executive, his praise is in all the Churches.

The College Board sorrowfully records here the loss of a loved and honored fellow-worker. Dr. Hamlin was active in the work of the Assembly at Buffalo in 1904, that led to the reorganization of the Board and the widening of its field of operations. He was naturally chosen as one of the members of the reorganized Board and served upon it faithfully and efficiently. His vision of the field was comprehensive, his judgment as to methods was calm and wise, and his ideal, unwaveringly, an always advancing Kingdom of Jesus Christ. The members of the Board record their personal sorrow in the loss that they, and the Church they serve, have sustained in the death of a wise, strong, pure-hearted fellow-worker.

The Board recommends the election of the Rev. John Timothy Stone in his place for the ensuing term of three years.

The terms of service of the following members of the Board expire with this meeting of the Assembly, and they are recommended to the Assembly for re-election:

Ministers.

John F. Carson, D.D.,
Charles Wood, D.D.,

Laymen.

Hon. M. Linn Bruce,
Elisha H. Perkins,
James S. Hubbard,
Edward O. Emerson,
John P. Munn, M.D.

The Hon. James B. Dill has been compelled to retire from the Board because of his new judicial duties. His term of service is just completed, and the Board recommends the election of the Hon. James A. Beaver, LL.D., in his place and for the ensuing term of three years.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES STUART DICKSON,

New York City, May 30, 1907.

Secretary.

THE POLICY OF THE BOARD.

The Policy of the Board, in accordance with the Constitution framed for it by the Church through the General Assembly of 1904, is summed up in one word—Co-operation. The Board will co-operate (1) with givers, (2) with Presbyterian Colleges, and (3) with both givers and colleges to secure co-operation between them.

1. Co-operation with Givers.

The Board will endeavor to awaken, inform and stimulate the Church in behalf of Presbyterian Colleges. (Constitution, 5 (a).)

It will offer the fullest and most reliable information, both about the college cause and the individual college, and regarding the relation of the Church to education and its colleges. (Constitution, 5 (a), (b).)

It will in no way try to dominate givers and their gifts, but will seek only to ascertain and carry out the desires of givers.

It will seek to safeguard funds committed to it or secured with its co-operation, as givers may desire, or, when no desire is expressed, as the interests of the colleges and the Church require. (Constitution, 8 (a), (b).)

It will, when desired to do so, act as Trustee of funds committed to it, investing them with paramount consideration of safety; holding them permanently if the giver so directs, or, if the giver prefer, temporarily, until conditions prescribed by the giver are fully met (Constitution, 8 (c)), disbursing the income derived from them in accordance with the wish of the giver.

It will "endeavor to have all gifts for Christian Education within our Church either passed through its Treasury or reported to it, that its reports may show from year to year what sums and from what sources are given to this cause." (Constitution, 8 (d).)

2. Co-operation with Colleges. (Constitution, 5 (b), (c), (d), and 6.)

A Presbyterian College is one which either (1) Is organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, owned or controlled by an ecclesiastical corporation of the Church ; or (2) By perpetual charter provision has two-thirds of its Board of Control members of this Church ; or (3) Is affiliated with this Church by the predominance of adherents of this Church in its foundations, Board of Control, Faculty and student body. The term "College" is commonly used herein as including universities.

The Board will seek neither to dominate colleges nor to carry them. It will co-operate with them.

Colleges or academies not yet recognized in the Board's report, desiring approval and co-operation, are requested to send to the Board's office for blanks on which report of their ecclesiastical, educational and financial status may be submitted to the Board.

The Annual College Conference (Constitution, 6) will be asked to act in an advisory capacity toward the Board in all matters in which an ecclesiastical corporation, administering trust funds, may properly accept information, opinions and advice from a body of experts in educational matters and college detail. The Board will endeavor to be, so far as possible, the voice of the colleges to the Church and the hand of the Church to colleges.

The Board will seek primarily to stimulate colleges to self-help, and their home fields to the utmost limit of support and endowment ; since a college, to have a hopeful future, must ordinarily be strongly based in the affection, prayer and giving of its vicinage. This is true in spirit, though not necessarily in the proportion of gifts from the home field, of colleges distinctively missionary in character and work.

To co-operate in securing endowment for the colleges is the chief function of the Board (Minutes of General Assembly, 1904, page 108, 2. and 6.) and to that it will give chief attention. Co-operation with colleges which have little or no endowment, in securing support until their endowments are reasonably adequate, is a necessary but subordinate function.

The Board will consider applications for annual aid toward current expenses of colleges.

Application is to be made by the Trustees, in formal meeting, filling out a blank which the Secretary will furnish on request and will send to aided institutions April 1. Applications made for the first time should be accompanied by the fullest information regarding the history and prospects of the institution.

The Annual Board Meeting for voting on applications is held on the first Tuesday in June. Applications must be in the Secretary's hands by May 1. If the Trustees cannot meet in time for this, the Executive Committee should send an application as nearly as possible like that which the Trustees will probably adopt; and the formal application, adopted by the Trustees, should reach the Secretary as soon as possible. Institutions withholding applications beyond the date of the meeting, and giving no satisfactory explanation of the delay, will be regarded as expecting no aid from the Board for the ensuing year.

Applications of colleges must have the formal approval of their synods endorsed upon the applications; applications of academies, the approval of their presbyteries. Yet as there is often no meeting of the ecclesiastical body held between the making of the application by the Trustees and the June Board meeting, unendorsed applications will be voted on at the June meeting; exact duplicate applications, approved and endorsed, to be sent to the Board before any payment of aid will be made.

With the advice of the Annual College Conference it will adopt a schedule of amounts which the colleges should receive for this purpose; and it will make payments of these amounts, or of such pro rata parts of them as it shall be enabled to make by offerings from churches and church organizations and by funds otherwise secured by the Board for the purpose: always on condition that, before payment is made, a college shall satisfy the Board

- (1) That it requires regular students to take systematic Bible study as a part of the curriculum required for graduation ;
- (2) That its financial administration is conservative and safe;
- (3) That it has used every reasonable effort to secure funds from its vicinage, within agreed presbyterial or synodical lines ;
- (4) That it carries adequate insurance on its buildings and their valuable contents ; and
- (5) That no mortgage is placed upon the property without previous consent in writing by the Board.

The Board will co-operate most heartily with Colleges

1. That are evidently needed, conditions of population and location of other educational institutions being considered; (Constitution, 9.)
2. That have local interest, opportunity for growth and promise of permanence;
3. That do educational work of high grade;
4. That seek to form Christian character, influencing students toward Bible study, saving faith, right living and consecration to service; and
5. That are prudently and conservatively financed, in estimating probable income, in preparing budgets of expenses, and in the investment of permanent funds. Colleges may never properly, under any conditions, use endowment or special funds, even temporarily, for current expenses or deficit. Such a course is regarded as a misuse of trust funds. The Board will not recommend to givers any college thus misappropriating trust funds. Colleges will be expected to carry adequate insurance on their buildings and other destructible property.

3. Co-operation with Colleges and Givers to Secure Co-operation Between Them.

The Board will endeavor, in co-operation with colleges, to make known to givers the nature and needs of Presbyterian educational institutions.

It will endeavor, in co-operation with colleges, to secure gifts:

(1) The Board will expect every church to make an offering for the cause. (Constitution, 5 (e) and 7 (b).)

Colleges approved by the Annual College Conference and the Board, and recommended for aid on current expenses, may solicit and receive the College Board offerings of their home regions as these may be agreed upon.

As the Board must depend mainly on church offerings for funds to pay appropriations voted for unendowed colleges and academies, it is expected that stronger colleges—while seeking individual gifts and, on occasion, additional special offerings from the churches—will not attempt to secure the regular College Board offerings for themselves.

(2) The Board will expect much from individual givers.

Colleges will be asked to restrict their solicitation of funds in outside fields only as the Annual College Conference may advise and the Board approve.

The Board requests that colleges, planning to solicit funds outside of their home fields, will first consult with the Board, that the interests of all co-operating parties may be conserved; otherwise it will be understood that such colleges will not ask or expect any special co-operation from the Board.

(3) The Board will seek for its own Treasury:

(a) Very large gifts and legacies for use in accordance with the expressed wishes of donors, or, if such wishes are not expressed, for use in the discretion of the Board.

(b) Smaller gifts and legacies for emergency aid to colleges.

(4) The Board will seek for colleges approved by the Annual College Conference and the Board:

(a) Large gifts and legacies for permanent endowment.

(b) Smaller gifts and legacies for colleges recommended for aid on current expenses. These should ordinarily take the form of Scholarships, paying the tuition of a student, from $50 to $100 a year; Professor's Chairs, from $200, when home and its necessities are provided by the college, to $2,000 a year; and Sustentation, carrying the actual annual deficit of a college, from $2,500 a year upwards. Any of these may be given for a single year; but it is in every way better that they should be pledged, by an individual, by a church, by the churches of a city, by a presbytery or by a synod, for from two to five or ten years while the college is securing endowment. Thus the interest of the giver may be localized in an individual college or several colleges and, if the college continue to commend itself to him, lead to increasing and permanent co-operation between them.

The Board will always seek first, in co-operation with a college, to develop the interest and gifts of its home field, both for endowment, for temporary aid in Scholarship, Chairs and Sustentation, and in emergencies, and afterward in other fields, as may seem wise and practicable.

The Board will report, in the Annual Report, all gifts passing through its Treasury, in a list of contributing churches and an alphabetical list of givers, indicating the destination of any gift designated by the giver for an individual institution. Such designated gifts will all be reported, in classified totals, in an alphabetical list of colleges, with a statement that they are itemized elsewhere in the Annual Report.

The Treasurer of the Board will send, on the first of March of each year, to all Presbyterian universities, colleges, academies and schools of which the Board may have knowledge, blanks for reports of gifts received by the institution during the year ending April first; and all gifts reported by such institutions to the Board will be reported by the Board.

(a) Gifts reported by approved colleges and academies, on the special blanks prepared for their use by the Board, will be treated as receipts of the Board. Treasurers of such institutions are Deputy Treasurers of the Board, authorized to handle and account for College Board gifts secured in co-operation with the Board and sent by the giver directly to the college. Church offerings so reported will appear on the books of the Board, and in its Annual Report, in the list of contributing churches, in the alphabetical list of individual givers, and in the alphabetical list of colleges, in the latter in classified totals, with a statement that they are itemized elsewhere in the Annual Report.

(b) Gifts, other than those specified in (a) reported by institutions, will be reported in the Annual Report, in the alphabetical list of institutions, in classified totals; except that an individual gift of $1,000, or upward, will be itemized with the name of the donor, if it is so desired.

Academies.

1. The Board does not see its way clear to approve the establishing of any new academy in the northern section of the country, where the High School development is already marked.

2. The Board will consider applications regarding academies in the southern section as on a different basis, emphasizing, however, its feeling that such institutions will in most cases be temporary in their character.

3. The Board does not see its way clear to encourage a general appeal for endowment for academies, but will cooperate in any local movement so far as may be in its power.

4. Regarding existing academies, the Board will enter into each case separately to determine which of the three following courses may be wise :

(a) To proceed in a movement for permanence in view of the peculiar need of the locality and the history of the institution, with reference to the previous understanding of the community.

(b) To co-operate in securing funds for current expenses for a fixed term of years, until local plans can be made for endowment or other methods of permanence.

(c) To plan for the discontinuance of the institution upon honorable terms.

5. This statement has reference solely to academies independent of colleges, the Board continuing its hearty approval and its offers of assistance for academic departments of colleges.

THE COLLEGE BOARD OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE U. S. A. INSTITUTIONS CO-OPERATING WITH THE COLLEGE BOARD AND REPORTING TO IT.

NOTE.—The College Board reports these institutions by their legal names, which do not always indicate their actual grade as colleges, collegiate institutes or academies. The Board will be glad to give full information regarding any of them on request from interested persons.

The following institutions are not connected with the Presbyterian Church by any legal ties, nor are they subject to ecclesiastical control. Their history, however, and associations with the life and work of our Church are such as to justify our earnest co-operation with them.

THE COLLEGE CONFERENCE.

BY PRESIDENT SAMUEL T. WILSON, D.D.

One of the important pre-Assembly gatherings has come to be the Annual Conference of the representatives of Presbyterian colleges. The third of such Conferences was held at the Church House of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church of Columbus during the forenoon and afternoon of Wednesday, May 15. President Moffatt, of Washington and Jefferson College, presided, and President Atcheson, of Caldwell College, was secretary. There were representatives of about forty colleges and other institutions in attendance. Most of these representatives were the presidents of the institutions. The College Board was represented by its Secretary, Rev. James Stuart Dickson, D.D.

The meeting was what it purported to be—a conference. The different topics discussed were all of the most practical nature, and this does not mean that those topics had to do principally with the financial side of the college life. They had to do rather with the making of Christian character and the development of Christian workers. At least two-thirds of the day was spent in the discussion of the purely religious problems of the mission and the management of the college. It would have done the Church at large good to have overheard the earnest addresses that gave no intimation of the financial burdens that were weighing down many of the participants in the conference. The one purpose to fulfill the divinely appointed mission of leading the young men and young women to Christian faith and service was the dominant note of the addresses made by these educators of the Church. Not one discordant note was struck. The most eager desire was manifest to learn of the best way to bring Bible truth to bear upon life and motive. All recognized that a college has no right to call itself a church college unless it has the church spirit and morals, and unless it seeks to bring all of its students into vital connection with the Saviour of men. The election of trustees by a church court and the adherence to denominational forms or traditions were assumed to mean little in themselves. Does the college develop Christian men and women? That is the all-important question.

Perhaps one-third of the day was devoted to the consideration of the important, but less important and, to the credit of the conference, let it be said, less practical question of college finance. And even the money problem was discussed from the standpoint of the Christian and the churchman. Surely to have our Presbyterian educators emphasize with such complete unanimity these high and worthy ideals for the church college and these plans for their realization augurs well for Presbyterianism and for Christianity.

Several former Cumberland Presbyterian college men were present and participated in the proceedings. They are strong men and contributed much to the success of the conference. President A. R. Taylor, D.D., of James Millikin University; President W.

H. Black, D.D., LL.D., of Missouri Valley College; Rev. W. J. Darby, D.D., of Evansville, Indiana; Judge E. E. Beard and Professor W. P. Bone, D.D., of Cumberland University, and Rev. Mr. Garvin, of Waynesburg College, were among those recruits to Presbyterian educational forces. At the close of the conference some of them said that they wished most earnestly that those anti-ministers who had predicted that union would quench the spirit of evangelism in the Cumberland Presbyterians could have been present at the College Conference, to be disabused forever of their delusion. "Never," said one, "have I seen more interest in evangelism than in this conference."

The topic, "The College and Bible Teaching," was presented by President Holden, of Wooster, who discussed (1) The right teacher, (2) The right text-book, and said that these being secured, (3) The students would be the right kind. Many valuable experiences and suggestions were presented in the very full discussion that followed the address of Dr. Holden, and a special committee was appointed to report next year as to the provision of guides or manuals or helps for use in the study of the Bible. Presidents McKenzie, Holden and Hinitz composed the committee.

President Wilson, of Maryville College, spoke of Planning for an Ingathering, and emphasized the value of nine plans: (1) Plans perennial: (a) The employment of only active Christian workers as members of the teaching force, (b) The studied and hearty honoring of religion throughout the life and the law of the colleges, (c) The enforcement of strict discipline against all immorality. (2) Plans annual: (a) A religious census, (b) Keynote meetings at the opening of the year, (c) A year-long life of preparation. (3) Plans immediate: (a) The right of way given the meetings, (b) The details of the campaign carefully outlined, (c) By fervent prayer the presence and leadership of the Holy Spirit besought.

President Bruske, of Alma College, delivered an address on the Use of Ministerial Candidates in College Evangelism, telling especially of the very gratifying results of recent efforts in this direction at Alma College.

President Carrier, of Carroll College, spoke of the Organization of Candidates for Mutual Upbuilding, and also reported personal and happy experiences of his own in such work at Carroll.

The financial problem was discussed by men who knew whereof they spoke: Mr. Howard McAfee, of Park College; President French, of Huron College, and President Hinitz, of the Central University of Kentucky. While deep gratitude was expressed for the interest shown by many in the educational work of the Church, the feeling seemed to prevail that the Church is in danger of receding from even the liberality thus far attained. The fact that some non-Presbyterian givers have made notable contributions to the cause of higher education should stimulate and not paralyze Presbyterian donors. While college men are bearing all kinds of grievous burdens, the Church should recognize that these burdens do not belong properly to these men alone, but to the Church for which the colleges do their appointed work. The only reason the burdens are not cast down by the heavily-loaded presidents is the conviction that they are providentially imposed; but Providence provides by inspired legislation for the protection of even beasts of burden against thoughtlessness and cruelty. College men feel that they merit and should have the sympathy and help of the entire Church, its large givers and its small givers alike.

MR. HENRY L. SMITH,

*Chairman of the Auditing Committee,
The College Board of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., 156 Fifth Avenue, City.*

SIR :—

We have examined the accounts of the Treasurer of your Board for the year ending April 15th, 1907, and have verified the Balance Sheet published herewith, which in our opinion presents the correct financial condition of the Board.

We have found on file proper vouchers for the expenditures, and the contributions shown in detail on Schedules C, J, K and L have been properly accounted for.

The cash and securities on hand have been verified either by actual count or evidences of deposit.

Respectfully submitted,

PATTERSON, TEELE & DENNIS,
Certified Public Accountants.

THE COLLEGE BOARD.

SCHEDULE B.

THE SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTING.

1. The College Board is appointed to co-operate with Presbyterian Colleges in all the work of their upbuilding, and to report to the Church all that is done for their development. The following is the sum total of gifts for our Colleges and Academies in the year 1906-7, and is given without reference to the particular agencies by which the component gifts were secured:

Gifts for Christian Education $1,482,448.23

2. The following is the sum of gifts made directly to the institutions' treasurers. The items result in large part from the work of the presidents and financial agents, and in part from offerings of churches and church organizations in the region of an institution, which the Board authorizes to be sent directly to the institution's treasurer. The Board co-operates with the individual institution, by organizing the work in synods and presbyteries, by sending out literature and general appeals, by opening avenues of approach to individual givers, and by general work of many sorts, intended to stimulate the Church at large to deeper and more intelligent interest in Christian education. This co-operating work is the main activity for which the Board is organized. The General Assembly of 1904 said in reorganizing this Board: "2. Said Board to be enlarged in sphere of operation and executive force so as the more widely to represent the Church, and so as the more directly and efficiently to promote college interests and objects, especially in the matter of endowment 6. The Board shall give immediate and special attention to the endowment of our Presbyterian Colleges which come into relations with the Board."

Gifts Made Directly to Institutions $1,385,864.04

3. The following is the sum of gifts passing through the Board's Treasury, and includes some designated for particular institutions. It is mainly, however, the offerings of the churches and individuals for the current expenses of more needy colleges and for the administrative work of the Board. These offerings, upon which the continued life of many institutions depends, should be largely increased:

Gifts Passing Through the Board's Treasury $96,584.19

The following schedules should be understood in the light of the foregoing distinctions.

EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
EDUCATIONAL COMMISSION OF THE CUMBERLAND
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE REUNITED CHURCH,
IN SESSION AT COLUMBUS, OHIO, MAY, 1907.

According to the terms of union, the Educational Commission which has had in charge, on behalf of the General Assembly, the varied interests of the Colleges of the Church, particularly their endowment work, herewith submits to the General Assembly its Eighth Annual Report.

That you may be informed concerning the recent history of the efforts of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church to systematize its educational work and to secure endowment for its colleges, we present the following statement of the work of this Commission during the past eight years:

ORGANIZATION.

In 1899, the Educational Society urged upon the General Assembly the importance of taking measures for systematizing the work of education, and for making a large increase in the endowment of our several colleges; and recommended that the Church undertake to raise a million dollars for endowment before 1910, our centennial year. In response to this the Assembly declared, "The time has come when the General Assembly should exercise its authority and high prerogative in guiding and directing the educational work of the entire Church"; and expressed the opinion "that whenever the Church establishes a scientific system of education, with all its colleges co-ordinated and its various institutions properly articulated, the people will provide the funds necessary for the equipment of each and every institution under the care of the denomination." It also heartily approved the million-dollar proposition, urging all the churches to respond to this appeal, and created the Educational Commission, charging it with the work of carrying out the general plan outlined.

PURPOSE.

When the Commission met for organization, after studying the instructions of the General Assembly, it declared: "The object of this Commission shall be—(a) To devise plans for and assist in raising $1,000,000 for the endowment of the educational institutions of the Church. (b) So to promote and encourage the co-ordination and correlation of the educational institutions of the Church as to secure their greatest harmony and efficiency, and to prevent the unnecessary waste of men and money."

METHODS.

The Commission was divided into two permanent committees, "A Committee on the Co-ordination and Correlation of the Educational Institutions of the Church" and "An Executive Committee, charged with the duty of devising ways and means of raising the proposed million dollars endowment for education, and of otherwise carrying out the purpose of the Commission as set forth in the action of the General Assembly of 1899."

The Church was divided into five "College Sections," with one college in each section, as follows: Cumberland University—Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and Arkansas; Waynesburg College—Pennsylvania and Ohio; Lincoln University, now The James Millikin University, with colleges at Decatur and Lincoln, Ills.—Indiana, Illinois and Iowa; Trinity University—Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma; Missouri Valley College—Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. Arkansas Cumberland College and Bethel College, owned and controlled by the Synod of Arkansas and the Synod of Tennessee respectively, were correlated with Cumberland University. The former was subsequently recognized as an independent college, having Arkansas as its territory. It was expected that the entire Church would contribute to the endowment of the Theological Seminary which is operated in connection with Cumberland University, and as one of its departments.

The Commission was instrumental in securing the appointment of an agent, or endowment manager, for each of the above colleges, and appointed a Superintendent of Endowment Work in each Presbytery. It also planned and conducted a number of educational congresses, institutes and rallies, in connection with the work of colleges and church courts, besides preparing and distributing a large amount of literature on the subject of endowment for Christian education.

RESULTS.

The work of the Commission in delimiting the "College Sections" has been accepted throughout the Church as final; the principle of articulating the smaller schools with the chief institutions of each section has been accepted with practical unanimity; and the people have been awakened to a sense of the importance of training schools as feeders for the colleges.

Approximately $900,000 have been raised for endowment, buildings and equipment since the appointment of the Commission. Having no agent of its own in the field, it cannot be claimed that the Commission actually raised this money; yet it contributed very materially to this result by the campaign of education which it inaugurated and carried forward, and by the substantial aid rendered by members of the Commission in the canvass for funds.

THE SITUATION AT THIS DATE.

Promptly after the opening of the colleges in September, 1906, the Commission conferred with the executive officers of the College Board for the joint visitation of all our former Cumberland Presbyterian institutions of learning that are under the auspices of the General Assembly or the Synods. The Secretaries of the two organizations visited the colleges at Decatur, Illinois; Lincoln, Illinois, and Marshall, Missouri, in October, 1906. Princeton Collegiate Institute, at Princeton, Kentucky, under control of Louisville Presbytery, and located in an important section of what is designated as "Cumberland" territory, was included in this circuit of visits. It was planned that later in the year similar visits should be made by the two Secretaries to all the other institutions belonging to the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church; but the exigencies of the work of the College Board prevented the carrying out of this plan. These institutions, however, with two exceptions, were visited by the Secretary of this Commission, and their needs and the scope of their work are thoroughly understood, and the same have been duly presented to the College Board.

This Commission desires to place particular emphasis upon the need of larger endowment for the institutions heretofore named in this report. Until such additional endowment is secured, most of these institutions are in urgent need of special assistance to enable them to meet the expenses of their ordinary work from year to year. To the list of institutions named above should be added Texas Female Seminary, located at Weatherford, Texas, and under the direct control of the Synod of Texas.

During the year now closing the College Board and this Commission have joined in asking the former Cumberland Presbyterian congregations to make contributions for the benefit of such of the schools here named as each congregation might be disposed to aid. Owing to the confused state of affairs in this section there was not a general response to this appeal. In each of the "College Sections" named above there is a particular interest in the welfare of the institution located in its midst, and we are confident that under normal conditions, after proper organization, there will be a generous response to any appeal made for the maintenance of these institutions. Meanwhile, it is hoped that generous gifts may be speedily made for their permanent endowment on a scale commensurate with their possibilities of influence.

Particular attention is called to the fact that all the colleges named in this report are controlled by Boards of Trustees, all of whom are elected by the Synods within the bounds of which the colleges are located, and that the charter of Cumberland University provides that the election of its Trustees shall be subject to the approval of the General Assembly. Thus every officially recognized institution of learning within the bounds of the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church is under the direct supervision and control of the constituted authorities of the denomination.

Respectfully submitted,

T. A. WIGGINTON,

President.

W. J. DARBY,
Secretary.

EVANSVILLE, IND., April 20, 1907.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S STANDING COMMITTEE

AT COLUMBUS, OHIO, MAY, 1907.

The following Report by the Rev. Murdock McLeod, of Des Moines, Iowa, Chairman of the Assembly's Standing Committee on this Board, was unanimously adopted:

Your Committee respectfully submits the following report:

A careful review of the Twenty-fourth Annual Report of The College Board reveals a year of faithful service and gratifying results. Almost without exception the colleges of our Church have enjoyed a year of marked development. New buildings have been erected, large sums collected for endowment and the student body increased. Several of our colleges are now strenuously engaged in efforts for large endowments with splendid prospects of success, which, if realized within the next year, will in many places put the cause of Christian Education on a sure and solid basis. The further fact is revealed, that the purpose for which the Board is established, the unifying and strengthening of our Christian educational institutions, is approaching more nearly its realization.

Prejudice against the small college is disappearing, so that the problem, now, is not that of convincing the churches that the Christian college is a necessity, but that of securing from the churches a more liberal and tangible support.

The fact that has been stated frequently and needs to be emphasized again and again, that by far the greatest per cent. of our men and women equipped for the special service of the Church as pastors and teachers and missionaries is the product of the Christian college, makes it imperative upon the Church to increase her support of these institutions as she increases her demands upon them. The material and inspirational help which the Board has furnished the past year, and during all the past years, merits not our criticism, but our highest commendation. It should be kept in mind that the evangelizing results of the Christian college are not measured alone by the number of candidates for the gospel ministry, but even more, we should say by the number and strength and Christian character of the men and women who go into all walks and callings and all lines of lifework with their leavening influence for good. Efficient laymen as well as ministers must be available to make the church a force for good in the community. All over our country, in professional and business life, in the shop and on the farm, in the church and in the home and the school, are those men and women the product of our Christian colleges conspicuous in the community for their consecrated leadership and progressive Christian activity. The great moving forces of our Church are clearly to come from the ranks of those who, while developing in intellectual power, have also come into daily contact with the Great Teacher and have learned His will and His methods under the guidance of Christian teachers. The College Board has stood for Bible Study, Evangelism and devoted Christianity against a curriculum of materialism which leaves God out of the account and, though it may prepare a man to make a living, does not teach him how to live.

At the College Conference held on Wednesday immediately preceding this Assembly fifty men were present—Presidents of colleges, members of the faculty and trustees, representing forty colleges. Dr. Dickson, Secretary of the Board, was also present and contributed invaluable service to the spirit and efficiency of the Conference. It was characterized by enthusiasm, fearless discussion of the problems of religious education, and unanimity as to the primary object of our Church schools.

Four things were very apparent:

(1) That the colleges need this Annual Conference for mutual fellowship, understanding of each other's work and co-operation in making the Presbyterian Church efficient in its educational activities.

(2) That Biblical instruction needs to be made more and more characteristic of our Church schools and should be more systematically and efficiently carried out.

(3) The Church schools must be made more a distinct and effective evangelistic agency, aiming at nothing short of the conversion of the unbelieving and edification of the students as a Christian community; and

(4) That The College Board is becoming an invaluable clearing house of educational ideals and methods, as well as an agency of unification and co-operation in the work of gathering funds for the endowment, equipment and maintenance of our several institutions.

The whole aim and effort of the Board is to preserve and emphasize the distinctive and distinguishing features of our Christian colleges, that which gives them character and mission and meaning: an institution and a curriculum which, while doing full justice to the arts and sciences, make the fear of God the beginning of wisdom and Jesus Christ the sum total of all human endeavors.

The distinctive note of our Church to-day is that of Evangelism, whether that word is used in its broader or narrower sense. It is manifesting itself in the new spirit of unity and co-operation which is federating and cementing all hearts that beat in a unison of desire for the salvation of men. It is evident in the new enlistment of the men of our Church for definite spiritual work; in the new and forward movement for world-wide missionary enterprise, and we are profoundly grateful for all these new and promising endeavors; but back of them all, back of our federations and committees, back of our agencies and institutions and all our schemes for greater work at home and abroad, stands the Christian college related to them all, as the spring is related to the stream, not only supplying our churches with pastors and evangelists and missionaries, but sending out into the world, as their legitimate product, into all walks of life, men and women not only with trained intellects, but with regulated wills and purified hearts, who will go to take their place in the world's activities whether as artist or artisan, there to become centres of saving influence and preachers of the gospel of Jesus Christ through the testimony of a consecrated personality. For, after all, the greatest evangelizing force, the greatest factor in the world's redemption, is the life redeemed, educated and dedicated to the service and glory of God. It is in view of these things, the relative importance of this work as an evangelizing agency, that we urge that our Church, which recommends $10.00 per member for Home Missions and $5.00 per member for Foreign Missions—and neither is too much—should give more than fifty cents per member for educational work; for it is far too little; and we urge that in the minds and hearts of our people, and in the thoughts and plans of this Assembly, this work be given the attention and support due its vast importance.

From churches and individuals, including legacies, $100,000.00 have come into the Treasury of The College Board during the past year; through co-operating institutions the sum realized for Christian education under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church has been nearly $1,400,000.00; the grand total being $1,495,992.53. For current work in the fifty-three colleges there should be an increase of not less than $50,000.00. There are needed in these institutions buildings that will cost $300,000.00; and the least endowment necessary for immediate necessities, $7,000,000.00.

In securing one-fifth of this sum the past year, our Church has demonstrated its ability to do large things; but it has only made a hopeful beginning; for, at this rate, we would have to go five years to catch up to our present necessities. Considering the liberal conditional gifts that are now offered and others that might be obtained, shall we not this next year make a strenuous effort to add $3,500,000.00 to our present endowments, and thus make an encouraging approach toward a realization of the sum needed for the adequate support of the work now pressing upon these colleges. The vast country to the South and Southwest and Northwest is developing with marvelous rapidity and the demands for Christian education will increase with the increasing population, and we must go in and possess the land. The work of The College Board and the local forces at the head of the colleges during the past year shows what can be done, and suggests that the Presbyterian churches need not hesitate to undertake whatever responsibility the times demand in behalf of Christian education.

The Board makes a plain showing of the funds passing through its Treasury and those sent directly to its co-operating institutions; but to compare these funds with the expense of the Board would manifestly be unfair, as in many of the Synods and Presbyteries The College Board offerings go, by permission of the Board, directly to the institutions. To interest our churches in our colleges and educate them to give for Christian education, the Board has spent perhaps $100,000.00 in the last twenty-five years and continues to spend large sums for this purpose. It is furthermore the testimony, written and spoken, of many college Presidents, that a part of their receipts, running up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, is unquestionably due to the work of the Board through visits of the Secretary to their regions, through his private conferences and public addresses in the communities and through his personal official co-operation in opening the way or following up their appeals to individual givers in the East and to organizations disbursing funds to colleges. In justice to the Board it might be well hereafter in making up its Annual Report it make plain statement of all amounts the securing of which the Presidents of our colleges unquestionably credit to the co-operation of the Board.

We submit the following recommendations:

(1) That the Assembly approve the policy of the Board which is expressed in the word co-operation, which means co-operation with the colleges and co-operation with the giver. Refusing to dictate to the donor as to the placing of the gift, yet at the same time the Assembly would advise that those within our Church who contemplate giving to the aid of college work consult with the Board, that they may avail themselves of the superior knowledge and judgment of the Board, and that those who contemplate the establishment of new institutions or a change of location of those already existing, make sure, by conference with the Board, that such action will not interfere with the work of similar institutions.

(2) We recommend that pastors make plain to their people the primary purpose and fundamental importance of Christian education, and urge upon them the necessity of a generous financial support, at least to the extent of an annual offering.

(3) That the Assembly instruct its College Board to call another Conference of the representatives of the colleges under Presbyterian control, and that such Conference be held on the Wednesday preceding the convening of the next General Assembly.

(4) That the minutes of the Board and reports of the Treasurer be approved.

(5) That those whose term of office as members of the Board expires with this meeting be re-elected:

SIXTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection.

To the Re-united General Assembly in Session at Columbus, Ohio, May, 1907 :

The Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection presents to the General Assembly of the reunited Church its sixty-first annual report. It is impossible to indicate perfectly in this report the variety and extent of the work accomplished in the evangelization of our country and foreign fields.

We have made special efforts to unify the former Cumberland Presbyterian membership and have aided many churches made weak by reason of division and litigation. This work has been difficult and has been conducted under trying circumstances.

With profound gratitude to the Head of the Church we present to you as the closing chapter of our work as a separate Board a report which in many respects is very encouraging and is in keeping with the Board's previous reports in which will be found a record of missionary activities and achievements of which we are justly proud.

HISTORICAL.

We believe it is fitting for us to give you a brief history of missions in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

FIRST MISSIONARY EFFORTS.

The records show that from the beginning the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was actuated by a missionary spirit. The first Synod was organized in Sumner County, Tennessee, October 5, 1813, and was composed of three Presbyteries—Logan, Elk and Cumberland. All of these Presbyteries at once began missionary work, and in 1818 societies were formed with a view of missionary effort among the Indians. This missionary movement seems to have started with Rev. Samuel King, Rev. James Stewart and Rev. Robert Bell. The last-named drew up a constitution for a Woman's Missionary Society, under which all the societies of the other Presbyteries operated. In October, 1818, the Missionary Society of Elk Presbytery sent Rev. Samuel King and Rev. William Wood to the Indians, and this seems to have been the first foreign missionary work attempted, as it was then termed. They returned in 1819, and their report was so encouraging that Mr. King was returned, and with him Rev. Robert Bell, who opened a school for the Indians in May, 1820, which was continued until about 1832.

In the meantime a Board of Missions for the entire Church had been organized, or rather the Ladies' Missionary Society of Logan Presbytery was made the General Society of the Church, and Rev. Robert Donnell, of Elk Presbytery, was chosen the President. Under the direction of these Presbyterial missionary societies, the early fathers, fired with a missionary spirit, carried the Gospel to East and West Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Missouri. In these early years the missionary spirit of the Church was its very life.

In 1829, the General Assembly was organized, and for several years after this organization, the missionary work of the Church seems to have been carried on by the Synods and Presbyteries. In 1836, at a meeting of the Assembly, it was resolved that a Missionary Board be formed, to be called the "Board of Foreign Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church," and accordingly, on Friday, the 20th day of May, 1836, the first Board of Missions, under the direction of the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, was formed, Rev. Samuel King being the first President.

FIRST MISSIONARY BOARD.

In 1837, it was proposed to organize a Home Missionary Board, in addition to the Board then in existence, and the Assembly adopted a report from its Committee on Missions to the effect that it was not expedient to have two Boards of Missions.

The first Board of Missions was not chartered, and for some reason did not accomplish much in the missionary work of the Church. In fact, the missionary work had almost entirely passed back into the hands of Presbyterial and Synodical societies. Aroused by this discouraging condition of the missionary work of the Church, the Assembly of 1845 decided to organize a Missionary Board, to be called the "Assembly's Board of Foreign and Domestic Missions." This Board was to consist of thirteen members, and the officers to be a President, four Vice-Presidents, Secretary and Treasurer. This Board was located at Lebanon, Tenn., and Rev. Thomas Calhoun was its first President.

The policy of the Board was to appoint an agent in each State or Synod to collect money for its work, and quite a number of leading ministers in different parts of the Church were secured. These agents met with encouraging success. For a number of years the work was carried on in this way without a Superintendent or Corresponding Secretary. However, as the operations of the Board increased, it was found necessary to employ a general agent or Corresponding Secretary, and Rev. Isaac Shook was chosen in 1851.

FIRST MISSIONARY PUBLICATION.

As early as 1855 the Board of Missions published at Lebanon the "Cumberland Presbyterian Missionary," which an action of the Assembly of that year declared was adapted to communicate missionary intelligence, and was worthy of the liberal patronage of the Church.

THREE DIVISIONS OF WORK.

The home missionary work of the Board at this time was put into three divisions: Evangelistic, City Missions and among the Indians. Samuel and Robert King were sent as missionaries into Kentucky, Alabama and Mississippi. Ruben Burrow and William Bigham through the bounds of Missouri and Arkansas Territories; S. W. Frazier into the Republic of Texas; Brothers Cornwall, Bralley and Niel Johnson, to Oregon Territory; A. A. Moore and J. B. Green, to Kansas Territory; J. C. Armstrong and P. H. Crider, to Northern Iowa. The names of these heroes are given to show how the Gospel was carried, through the efforts of the Board of Missions, into these new States and Territories. Many more names could be given of the fathers of our beloved Church who gave their lives to early missionary work.

Quite an extensive work was carried on among the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians for many years. As far back as 1858 we read of Armstrong Academy being in a flourishing condition. And also of a membership of 600 or 700 native members. Later of Burnes Academy, and the work among the Chickasaws.

FIRST FOREIGN MISSIONARY.

Rev. Edmund Weir (a man of color) was the first foreign missionary to Cape Mount, Africa, in 1858. Then, in 1860, Rev. J. C. Armstrong and wife were sent as missionaries to Turkey. The Board made desperate efforts to support its foreign missionary work among the Indians, in Africa, and in Turkey, but failed in consequence of the ravages of the Civil War, which not only caused a blockade of the Southern ports, but also raised impassable military lines between the Board and the Northern part of the Church. With the brightest prospects of success in these foreign fields, these missionaries were compelled to abandon their fields and to return home, in view of the rich harvest almost ready to reap. In fact, at this time all missionary questions were suspended, for the Civil War made it impossible for the Board at Lebanon to prosecute its work.

THE BOARD AT ALTON.

To meet this emergency, the General Assembly appointed a Permanent Committee on Missions, composed of eleven persons. Said committee was located at Alton, Ill., and met on the 28th of May, 1863, and took control of all the missions of the Church, and were to give direction to all missionary funds. The committee organized with Rev. F. Lack as its President, Rev. J. B. Logan, Corresponding Secretary, and J. H. Murphy as Treasurer. In 1864 this committee was incorporated into a regular Board of Missions under the style and title of "The Board of Foreign and Domestic Missions of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church."

THREE BOARDS.

In 1866, the Board at Lebanon sent a report to the Assembly, and in the meantime a Board of Missions had been organized and chartered on the Pacific Coast, which also submitted its report. So that, from 1866 to 1869, there were three Boards in existence, and all acting by authority of the General Assembly. In the last-named year the three boards were consolidated by an action of the Assembly couched in these words: "We are of the opinion that the interests of the Church would be better subserved, and with less expense by having but one Board, well located." This Board was composed of eleven members, viz.: G. R. Hines, Hon. E. B. Ewing, J. P. McCoy, J. B. Mitchell, D. D., J. B. Logan, D. D., W. B. Farr, F. Lack, C. C. Logan, H. W. Eagan, A. W. Ridings and R. G. Carden. The first meeting was held on the first Wednesday of July, 1869, in Alton, but the location of the Board was fixed at St. Louis.

At the Assembly in 1878, the following action was taken: "It is believed that the Board could hold regular meetings and accomplish the work with less difficulty if the number of members were reduced," and the Board was instructed to change its charter so as to reduce the number of its members to five instead of eleven. At a meeting of the Board, November 6, 1878, this reduction in membership was effected.

BOARDS COMBINED.

By order of the Assembly of 1890, a Board of Church Erection was created and located at Kansas City. At the very next meeting of the Assembly it was ordered "That the Board of Missions and of Church Erection be consolidated under such name and in such manner as they lawfully can." This was accomplished, and the consolidated Board under the incorporated name of the "Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection," submitted its first report to the Assembly in 1892. The Board was composed of seven men: C. H. Bell, B. P. Fullerton, Isaac H. Orr, J. L. Secor, T. H. Perrin, J. C. Cobb and J. W. Morrow. Dr. Bell was the first President Rev. J. H. Miller and Rev. S. F. King its first Secretaries, and T. H. Perrin its Treasurer.

This completes the history of the organization of the different Boards of Missions from the beginning of our missionary operations to the present Board.

CITY MISSION WORK.

City mission work has been the chief strength of the Home Missionary work of the Board, and a full history of this work would make a good-sized volume.

From the list of Home Mission Stations can be selected many of our city churches that are now not only self-sustaining, but are contributing liberally to plant mission churches in other cities and towns, showing the great importance of city mission work.

FOREIGN WORK.

In 1874 the Board re-entered the foreign field by the appointment of Rev. S. T. Anderson, D. D., and N. H. McGirk, M. D., as missionaries to the Island of Trinidad. But on account of the ill health of Dr. Anderson and family he was compelled to return to the United States after a short stay of two years. Notwithstanding this second failure in its foreign work, Japan was selected as a foreign field in 1876, and the Board reported to the Assembly that two most excellent brethren, Rev. J. B. Hail and Rev. A. D. Hail, had been accepted as candidates for this field. But there was no money in the treasury for this work, and the Board could not send either of these men of God, who had so freely offered themselves as missionaries. The Lord opened a way, however, and Pennsylvania Synod, of which J. B. Hail was a member, pledged $1,000 for his outfit, and $300 a year on his salary. Mr. Hail and wife sailed from San Francisco about January 1, 1877, reaching Osaka the 30th of that month. Through the generosity of a brother in Illinois, who offered the Board $1,000 for the outfit of Rev. A. D. Hail, he followed his brother to Japan, reaching there October 21, 1878. This was the beginning of our work in Japan, and it inspired the entire Church to undertake still greater things for the Lord in the foreign field. It will be an interesting fact to note that the total receipts for foreign missions in 1876 were $500.56. During the year 1877, after the determination to enter Japan, $2,693 was raised. The report of the Board for 1906 shows $20,880.99. Our mission in Japan now embraces nineteen missionaries, some of whom are at home on a furlough. We have twenty-three mission stations and 1,189 members, with a large number of native workers. The school work carried on by our missionaries in Japan is a credit to the Church.

Mexico was next selected as a foreign mission field in 1885, and Rev. A. H. Whatley was our first missionary to that field. The Board now has five missionaries and teachers in that country, with a good school.

In 1898, China was entered as another mission field, through the generosity of G. W. Freeman, who volunteered to support a missionary there. We now have eight missionaries in that wonderful country, and the Sunday Schools of the Church furnished the money for the establishment of a hospital there, and a beautiful site has been bought and paid for and some funds on hand for a Boys' School.

There are also eight missionaries engaged in the Japanese-Chinese mission work of California. Work has also been continued among the Choctaw Indians, and in what is called the Mountain Missions, sixteen missionaries and teachers being employed in these two fields.

CHURCH EXTENSION WORK.

In the year 1892, realizing the importance of more systematic and energetic methods being employed in Synodical and Presbyterian Mission work, the Board formulated the plan and encouraged the organization of Church Extension Associations in the Synods, as a part of its policy of home mission work. This phase of our home mission work has had a marvelous growth. Mission churches have been planted rapidly in cities, weak churches have been assisted, Sunday Schools, Endeavor Societies and congregations developed for better work, and thousands of souls brought into the Church and the Kingdom through the evangelistic efforts of these faithful and energetic State missionaries.

THE WOMAN'S BOARD.

The organization of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions as auxiliary to the Assembly Board grew directly out of the pressing necessities of the work in Japan. In their first official report in 1877, our missionaries in Japan suggested that the Board and the General Assembly call on the ladies of the Church to organize themselves for work, and to send at least one young lady to Japan that year. Then A. D. Hail and wife wrote a letter to the ladies of the Evansville (Ind.) Church, urging that, inasmuch as the General Assembly was to meet in that city, that they call a convention of the women of the Church to meet there at that time and organize a Woman's Board of Missions. The call was issued, the convention held, the Woman's Board organized and located at Evansville in the year 1880.

THE MISSIONARY RECORD.

In the year 1875, the Board authorized its Executive Committee to begin the publication of a missionary monthly for gratuitous distribution. The first number was issued in December, and named "The Missionary Record." It proved to be such a valuable means of stimulating and promoting the missionary work of the whole Church, that it has been continued until the present time. Finally, a small subscription price was charged. Its efficient business management, able editorials, and its aggressive, yet catholic spirit, have made it an increasing power for good to the Church and the cause of missions.

CORRESPONDENCE SECRETARIES.

It will be of interest to note that the following have acted as Corresponding Secretaries, or Superintendent of Missions for the two Boards: Lebanon Board—Isaac Shook, T. P. Calhoun, T. C. Blake. St. Louis Board—R. S. Reed, J. B. Logan, E. B. Crisman, George E. Patton, C. H. Bell, J. L. Secor, J. V. Stephens, J. H. Miller, S. Finis King, W. J. Brasfield, J. W. Laughlin, J. M. Patterson.

CONCLUSION.

While still far behind its duty in missionary work, our beloved Church has made great progress in missions during the last ten years. Independent missions, Presbyterian and Synodical missions, and mission churches planted by the Board of Missions have been numerous, and it is not possible to give even in outline the history of these. There is great consolation, however, in the fact that our Heavenly Father keeps a correct record of every honest and sincere effort made to spread the Gospel of free salvation.

Within the last few years the churches are awakening as never before to the importance of laying upon the altar of the Church money to carry on its missionary operations. The Board introduced the plan of sending to Synods, Presbyteries and congregations apportionments or minimum amounts to be worked for during the year. As an evidence of the growth of the missionary spirit and contributions, your attention is called to the following statement of receipts.

| Year. | Home Mission Regular | Home Mission Special | Home Mission Synod. | Home Mission Proper | Foreign Missions | Ch'ch Erect. Gift. | Wom'n's Board. | Grand Total. |

Total receipts through our Board and the Woman's Board for current work in 1898 were $38,306.00 and in 1906 were $82,553.00, showing an increase of nearly 115 per cent.

*The gifts for Special and Synodical Home Mission work vary according to the care taken by Home Mission Committees in preparing the reports. It will be observed that the contributions for the work of the Board has made a steady and substantial advance.

PERSONNEL.

Upon the recommendation of our Board, Rev. B. P. Fullerton, D.D., was made Field Secretary of your Board of Home Missions. His resignation as a corporate member and as President of our Board was accepted July 17, 1906. We desire again and in this public way to record our keen appreciation of the faithful and valuable services which Dr. Fullerton has rendered as a member and President of the Board and as editor-in-chief of The Missionary Record.

Rev. E. B. Surface, Mt. Vernon, Ill., has been chosen, subject to your approval, to fill Dr. Fullerton's term of office as a corporate member of our Board, which expires in 1908.

Mr. Isaac H. Orr was elected to fill out the unexpired term of Rev. W. T. Ferguson, D.D., deceased, as a corporate member.

Mr. J. M. Patterson has served our Board during the past year as Corresponding Secretary with the same fidelity and efficiency as has always characterized his work in this office. Much of the success of our work is due to his untiring efforts and we desire to record our appreciation of the service rendered by him. It was with pleasure that we recommended him to the position of Assistant Secretary of your Foreign Board, to which position he has been chosen. His services to begin June 1, 1907.

CORPORATE MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

TERMS EXPIRE 1907.

J. C. Cobb, Odessa, Mo. T. H. Perrin, Alton, Ill.
Isaac H. Orr, St. Louis, Mo.

TERMS EXPIRE 1908.

Thos. H. Cobbs, St. Louis, Mo.
Rev. E. B. Surface, Mt. Vernon, Ill.

TERMS EXPIRE 1909.

Rev. C. E. Hayes, Decatur, Ill.
Rev. E. E. Morris, Little Rock, Ark.

The Board has selected, subject to your approval, T. H. Perrin, Isaac H. Orr and J. C. Cobb, to succeed themselves in office as corporate members until 1910.

SYNODICAL AND PRESBYTERIAL REPRESENTATIVES.

To a large degree the credit for the good showing which this Board is able to present in this report is due to the hearty sympathy which we have had from our synodical and presbyterial representatives during the year.

Under the plan of operation in the reunited Church these representatives will be changed. The Board desires to express its appreciation of the valuable help these brethren have rendered. Without their aid it would have been impossible for the Board to have reached some of the disturbed districts and to have secured the gratifying results which are here recorded.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK.

It has been practically impossible for the Board to secure correct rolls of the officers of the Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies in many localities, consequently no systematic campaign of education has been conducted. Appropriate Anniversary Day programs were prepared and furnished such Endeavor Societies as could be reached in February, 1906. The Sunday Schools were also furnished gratuitously with programs for Rally and Foreign Mission Day. The young people of these departments have responded fairly well with their offerings. The John Miller School at Changteh, China, was made the special object for the offerings on Foreign Mission Day in the Sunday Schools.

The total contributions from the Endeavor Societies during the year were $1,616.65. From the Sunday Schools, $2,075.17.

THE MISSIONARY RECORD.

The thirty-first volume of The Missionary Record was completed in December, 1906. The subscription list has fallen off considerably, due primarily to the inability of the office to devote the necessary time to securing subscriptions, and secondarily to the disturbed conditions that have prevailed throughout the bounds of the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Many of our most efficient solicitors have thought it best not to canvass for subscriptions, for in doing so, they contributed to the agitation of the union question. These agents or representatives have written more hopefully recently, and we believe that our former list of 10,000 or 12,000 can be recovered. The total number of copies sent out during the year was 140,500. The receipts from advertisements were small. Good and sufficient reasons could be given for this, but suffice it to say that we have been unable to give this department the time and attention necessary to secure the business.

The account shows total receipts from subscriptions and advertisements $2,423.88. Total cost of publication, $3,416.98.

The Missionary Record has a large reading clientele among our people, and its influence has been felt in our work. The literary tone of The Missionary Record compares favorably with the best religious magazines, for which we are indebted to Dr. B. P. Fullerton, the editor-in-chief, and an efficient corps of associates and contributors. We desire to express to these faithful servants of the Master our gratitude for the splendid services they have rendered without remuneration.

It is the sense of our Board that in view of the fact that for more than thirty years The Missionary Record has been an important factor in the missionary work of our Church, its usefulness should be preserved to the reunited Church. The Missionary Record has been distinctively a missionary publication and very largely a foreign mission magazine.

Twelve pages of matter have been furnished monthly by our Woman's Board and about the same number of pages by our Board, the remaining pages being given to advertisements and business items.

After canvassing the matter quietly among our Missionary Record workers and those who have aided materially in its circulation, we find that a large majority favor the continuance of The Missionary Record and our Board would most respectfully recommend its continuance.

FINANCIAL.

The receipts as shown in the financial exhibit, which forms a part of this report, for the current work were $50,572.00; Synodical Missions, $32,195.00; Woman's Board, $35,806.00; Grand Total, $118,573.

The Board has met in full all of its outside obligations, has paid all of its missionary appropriations to both the Home and Foreign work, and has provided for all special funds.

For a number of years the General Assembly has over-estimated the ability or liberality of our people, and has assigned to our Board specific or special missionary work requiring more funds than we have been able to raise for that purpose. It has been our custom to divide all undesignated receipts among our three departments of work, Church Erection, Home and Foreign Mission, giving to each department credit on our books for its pro rata part of such receipts.

When in carrying out the instructions of the General Assembly any one of these departments required more funds than stood to its credit on the books, the other departments were drawn upon to meet these demands.

During recent years the opportunities in the Home and Foreign Fields have been so great and the needs of that work so pressing that funds which had been placed to the credit of Church Erection on our books have been drawn and used for Home and Foreign Missions, thus causing our books to show an apparent balance due the Church Erection Department from the other two departments.

These facts have been regularly reported to our General Assembly and our course in this respect has been approved.

The balance on our books in favor of the Church Erection Department now amounts to $30,224.36.

We have made a special effort during the past year to raise funds sufficient not only to provide for the current work in the Home and Foreign Mission Department, but also to meet this apparent balance on our books due the Church Erection Department. This we have been unable to do because of unusual conditions.

In view of these facts we recommend that our Home and Foreign Mission Departments be relieved from their apparent indebtedness to the Church Erection Department.

CHURCH ERECTION.

The offerings in this department as shown in the financial exhibit have fallen below last year about $900.00. The return of loans has been somewhat disappointing, although we have pressed these collections more vigorously than during any previous year. Some of those indebted to this department insist upon waiting for the decisions of the courts touching the property right question.

For lack of funds the Board has been compelled to decline many worthy applications for aid.

HOME MISSIONS.

The work in the Home Mission Department has been more complex and difficult than in previous years. The opponents to union have been very persistent wherever they could secure a hearing in their endeavor to divide the congregation and drive the pastor from his field. The Board has endeavored to supplement the salaries and keep pastors in charge of such churches. This has necessitated quite an increase in our appropriations, and had not your Board of Home Missions very kindly set aside a generous sum for this specified work under the direction of our Board, it would have been impossible for us to have responded and many of our good congregations would have been lost to the reunited Church. We wish, in this public way, to express to your Board of Home Missions and to you the grateful thanks and appreciation of our Board and all former Cumberland Presbyterians for the timely aid given.

By agreement all the Home Mission stations and missionaries under the management of our Board were transferred to the Board of Home Missions of the reunited Church on April 1, 1907. Also by agreement with the Woman's Board the work of the training school at Barnard, N. C., was transferred to the Board of Home Missions to be managed jointly.

The Home Mission stations under the control of our Board, which we have transferred are:

Alabama Synod—Montgomery. Gadsden. Trenton Group, Robert Donnell Presbytery pastor at large. Talladega Presbytery pastor at large.

Arkansas Synod—Brinkley, Hartford, Mansfield, Hope, Ashdown, Hot Springs.

Illinois Synod—Drexel Park, Chicago.

Indiana Synod—Washington.

Indianola Synod—Synodical Superintendent, Choctaw Indians, Chelsea, Porteau and Lehigh.

Kansas Synod—Topeka, Kansas City.

Kentucky Synod—Louisville, Paducah, Henderson and Calloun Group.

Mississippi Synod—Philadelphia, Starkville, Caledonia.

Missouri Synod—Marionville and Mountain Grove.

Ohio Synod—Columbus.

Pacific Synod—San Francisco.

Tennessee Synod—Atlanta, Ga., Clarksville, Dickson, Lawrenceburg, McKenzie, Huntington, Tullahoma and Jackson.

Texas Synod—Denison.

In the above list there are two stations, Columbus, Ohio, and Drexel Park of Chicago, Ill., which are within the bounds of self-sustaining synods and presbyteries. These have been referred to the Home Mission Committees and we expect them to be provided for, though at the time this report goes to press the matter has not been settled.

FOREIGN MISSION WORK.

By agreement all the Foreign Mission work under the control of our Board was transferred to the Board of Foreign Missions of the reunited Church May 1, 1907. We submit herewith a list of our missionaries, and the annual reports of the missions as a part of our report:

One new missionary, Miss Margaret E. Moore of Illinois, was added to the Japan Mission during the year. The Misses Sallie Alexander and Agnes Morgan returned to their work in Japan May 25, 1906. Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Worley, on account of Bro. Worley's health, will probably not return to their work in the foreign field. Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Hail will reach America the last of June to spend their second and well-earned furlough.

THINGS AFFECTING OUR WORK.

That which affects the country in which we labor, affects our mission work. Society is sufficiently an organism as to justify the statement of Paul, "That when one member suffers, the whole body suffers with it." For this reason it is always well for those interested in missions to seek to have an intelligent conception of all those things which come in to modify the results of missionary endeavor. Especially is this true in a country which, like Japan, has such a homogeneity in the make-up of its people as to make them subject to waves of influence starting from centers of authority and officials supremely revered. While the new era is one of greater freedom than the old, and the worth of the individual is coming to be more appreciated, and while there are great diversities of opinion in regard to political and social matters, yet beneath the surface, there is a social oneness that makes the people, as a whole susceptible to influences, which, starting from above, tend to sweep over the whole land.

REVIVAL OF OLD FAITHS.

The successes of the Japanese arms have prompted those in authority, from the Emperor down, to resort to the shrines and to the temples in order to render thanks for victories achieved. Even officers educated in military and naval institutions in Western countries have joined in these seasons of thanksgiving. There has also, very naturally, been a desire to do honor to the brave men who gave up their lives for their Emperor. The ceremonies in behalf of the dead have generally been celebrated in connection with the Ise, and other prominent shrines. The explanation, which is half an apology, that has been made, is that the educated leaders who have participated in these services, have not done so as religionists, but only as a means of rendering deserved tribute to dead patriots. While this may all be true, yet the masses do not make this distinction, and so it comes about that pilgrimages of the pious this year have been greatly increased. Railroads and steamers have reaped a financial harvest, as well as all of the institutions that subsist upon these old religions, the relics of a past day. These things are an indication that, although the cause of Christ, all things considered, has made great progress in Japan, yet even here "there remaineth much land yet to be possessed."

WORK AFFECTED BY WAR TAXES.

The war is ended, and for this we cannot be too thankful. But the bills have to be settled. Besides heavy loans are to be repaid. This has caused an increase in the taxation direct of the people, and of income taxes. Import duties upon articles from abroad have greatly increased. This has sent the price of living up to a burdensome degree. The government has control of many of the articles which are absolutely necessary in the home, it has bought control of the leading railroads, and in order to provide funds to meet its obligations, has advanced prices on these necessities and on transportation to almost an exorbitant degree.

This has a very direct bearing upon the financial situation from the missionary point of view. It is very greatly to the credit of those working with us of our Japanese brethren, that they have borne so bravely and patiently the increased expense of living.

This hinders, too, the widening out of our work, even with all the opportunities before us. It costs as much now to support one evangelist, or one Bible woman, as would have kept two in the field ten years ago.

NATIVE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

It is encouraging to note that the Church with which we are co-operating has a sense of responsibility in this matter. The Board of Missions of the Church of Christ in Japan, wholly independent of all mission aid, are now, besides aiding thirteen points in Japan, including Formosa, are sustaining missions at two places in Korea, and three in China. Last year it raised 10,000 yen, in round numbers, for its various enterprises. During the eleven years of its existence this Board of Missions has raised 48,873 yen, and brought nine of its churches to self-support.

CO-OPERATION AND INDEPENDENCE.

To more fully meet the situation growing out of the changes in Japanese affairs, the Church here has been profoundly moved in the matter of developing the spirit of financial independence and of securing more effective co-operation on the part of the co-operating missions. At the last meeting of Synod, it was decided that "organized churches receiving aid from missions must come to the position of self-support by January, 1907, or lose their right to representation in Presbytery." Committees were appointed to stimulate such churches to greater efforts in attaining self-support. This will doubtless encourage backward churches in this direction to seek more healthy conditions.

The question of closer co-operation seems to be in a fair way to adjust itself. So far as our mission is concerned, we have from the very first sought to have the whole work joined together under one head, as one body under Christ. The constructive principle of our work, adopted in the very beginning, has been the means of bringing and keeping us in harmonious relations with the Church of Christ in Japan. Reporting to the Osaka Conference in 1883, the mission stated that the leading ideal, which it strives to realize, is: "The responsibility of the native church for the conversion of Japan!" This is the principle sought to be made prominent, and which has thus far determined the missionary's plan of work. It has been our endeavor to follow this ideal in defining the relation of the foreign Church to the rising Church in Japan. It determines the attitude of the foreign missionaries to the native church to be that of "co-laborers and advisers," as being "helpers of their joy and not as having dominion over their faith." While, therefore, they are here as representatives of a Church that has a polity and system of doctrines of its own, yet they do not seek to impose these things upon their converts by any exercise of authority. The whole question of co-operation has accordingly been left by us to the decision of the ecclesiastical courts of the Church of Christ in Japan, while we seek to attain to the apostolic idea of "Preaching not ourselves, but Christ, and ourselves your servants, for Christ's sake."

All these problems are those which come with the growth of the Church, and when settled in accordance with normal Presbyterian principles, will, we believe, tide all the co-working forces over all difficulties. With the missions auxiliary to the Church, there is no reason why this movement for independence should not be welcomed as a healthy one, and one of growing effectiveness. A healthy sense of responsibility upon the part of the Church is one which we seek to encourage rather than restrain.

HONORABLE MENTION.

The Naniwa Presbytery, within the bounds of which our work is located, now enrolls 4,258 members. In the report of the secretary for the year, made to the Presbytery at its last sittings, three of our churches receive honorable mention. To Wakayama Church belongs the honor of recording the largest number of baptisms. Thirty-six were thus received. Tanabe Church has the largest Sabbath School, and a regular attendance of 230. Of this number thirty-six are adults. Not only in point of numbers, but also in efficiency of organization, it maintains a good report. The East Church in Osaka is now enrolled as one of the four churches in the Presbytery whose annual financial contributions go above the one thousand (Japanese) dollar mark. The past year its contributions reached 1,726 yen, while this year they amount to 2,220 Japanese dollars. The other churches show, also, an advance movement along this line. The West Church, during the year, took its pastor for the whole of his time, thus becoming absolutely independent of financial aid from the Mission, either directly or indirectly. Wakayama, Hikata and Tsu are all collecting the funds for erecting church buildings.

In these facts those who have been sustaining this work with their sympathy, prayers and support, have much for which to be thankful. The object for which the Mission was opened and has existed is now beginning to be fairly well realized. As mission work is not carried on alone to bring mere unorganized masses of men and women to Christ, but is also to train them both individually and as a body for organized Christian work, we feel that these churches, with their own pastors and their financial independence, are the beginning of the consummation so devoutly desired. It means that those at home who have been aiding this work have founded a Church that will continue to pass on the light of the Gospel to their own people, and to other lands, long after those who have aided in its establishment shall have passed to their rest.

EDUCATIONAL WORK.

While a number of the churches and chapels maintain night schools, the enrollment in which reaches about 300, yet of course the only educational institution under the auspices of the Mission is the Wilmina Girls' School. The cause of female education in Japan is acknowledged by the leading educators and statesmen to have been largely inspired and encouraged by the work in this line accomplished by mission schools. The demand for educational facilities for the girls of the land now exceed by far the governments ability to meet them. The state of things now requires an advance movement to meet the opportunities of the hour. The present Mission school is overflowing. The chapel, which holds only 150, is inadequate to meet the needs of nearly double that number now in attendance. Increased numbers of applicants are probable, for other towns there are, where applicants for admittance to the Government Girls' Schools, even those who pass their entrance examination are by the hundreds turned away for want of room. Another demand of the hour is the highest grade of teaching ability. The mission schools should lead other schools at least in English, Music and the development of Christians; that is, genuine moral character. They are naturally expected to do this.

A peculiarity of this branch of the work in Japan is the fact that the majority of the girls come from non-Christian homes. In India, China and other fields, these schools have been concerned almost wholly with the children of believers. Here, however, it is quite different. The attendance of so many from non-Christian homes makes these institutions valuable evangelistic agencies. In this way many girls have been led to Christ, who are now faithful members of the churches, doing a good work for the Master. Through these, too, homes have been entered and whole families won to the Christian way.

SOME RESULTS.

During the present year some 223 baptisms have been reported. The present membership totals 1,178. Sabbath School attendance, 1,439, and contributions for various purposes $3,861.27 Japanese dollars. The membership distributed by prefectures is as follows: Osaka Prefecture, 499; Mie Prefecture, 241; Wakayama Prefecture, 440. The contributions: Osaka churches and chapels, $2,932.19; Mie Prefecture, $369.86; Wakayama, $506.93.

The spiritual life of the Church manifests itself in its spirit of independence, its call for missionaries to reside in their towns, as well as a demand for Japanese workers; increased giving, increased number of baptisms and of candidates for the ministry, church building enterprises and growing missionary spirit.

CHINA MISSION.

Rev. T. J. Preston has resumed his evangelistic work in connection with the Changteh Mission. His stay in the home land was very helpful in increasing and stimulating our people especially in their interests and contributions to the work of the John Miller School for Boys. We submit the mission's annual report:

REPORT OF THE CHINA MISSION FOR THE YEAR 1906 AND TO MARCH 1, 1907.

Dear Brethren of the Board of Missions: In offering our last annual report to you as a separate Board, it is perhaps not out of place to take a bird's-eye view of the work as a whole, making reference to the property now owned by the Mission, as well as to the work accomplished during the past year, and to some of the needs and plans for the future.

PROPERTY.

We have not been able to carry out all the plans that have been in mind, owing to the limitation of funds, but it is with no little satisfaction that we refer to the sites purchased and the buildings erected through the cordial support of the Board, and the generosity of friends interested in the Mission. Recurring in this brief review to matters previously reported, in 1902, offerings having been made by the Sunday Schools of the Church, a site was purchased for a hospital on the main street just outside the east gate at Changteh. This piece of ground is 80 feet wide by 254 feet long. Not having the money to purchase on either side or in the immediate vicinity, we have had to crowd this plot with the entire Mission plant, consisting of the hospital, chapel and residence. In addition, there is a small building used for the Girls' Day School. The approximate cost in United States gold of the land and the respective buildings is as follows:

1. Land, $1,506.85.
2. Sunday School Hospital, $2,966.55.
3. Chapel, $582.65.
4. L. M. Rice Mission Residence, $2,123.25.
5. Girls' Day School, $118.50.

The deed to this property is made out in the name of the Mission, and has been recorded in the United States Consulate at Hankow. For several years the buildings and furnishings have been insured, and for the present year insurance is carried to the extent of $6,350.00 gold.

Last year a suitable and sufficiently large site was purchased at Teh Shan, three miles from our present station, for the Boys' Boarding School. This is to be known as the John Miller School. The deed for this property has also been registered at the United States Consulate. Contributions from friends and Sunday School offerings amounting to $1,844.00 gold have been received to date. Already a substantial four-room brick house has been erected, and is at present being used as a mission residence. To carry on the work of building, according to the proposed plan, at least $4,000.00 in addition will be required. Funds are eagerly awaited for the erection of the main building, so that students may be received and the work of teaching begun. This school is regarded as a necessary adjunct of our mission work, and it is important that there should be no delay in pushing the enterprise to completion.

WORK OF THE PAST YEAR.

Turning now to the work of the past year, at Taoyuen evangelistic work has been carried on, and much good has been done in that district by preaching and the distribution of Christian literature. In our Changteh station all departments of the work have been kept up. The Girls' Day School has been conducted by Mrs. Cheo, the faithful teacher from the beginning. The highest number of pupils enrolled during the year was thirty-three. A Bible woman has been regularly engaged in visitation and in attendance on Dispensary days for the purpose of preaching to the women patients. In the street, chapel books have been sold and the Gospel faithfully preached. Our Sunday services and the week night prayer-meeting have had good attendance. Bible classes have been conducted on the Sabbath for both women and men, while more recently a class has been started for those who are beginning as inquirers after truth. Thirty-one members are on our church roll, and with others interested and studying, we hope gradually to increase the number, always endeavoring to be careful as to the fitness of those receiving baptism. We have had to mourn the departure from this life of two of our faithful Christians, but we rejoice that they died with faith in Christ and the sure hope of immortality. Both were splendid men, one of them having but lately taken up the work of an evangelist.

MEDICAL WORK.

The Dispensary was opened in the spring of 1899, and the work has been carried on continuously, with the exception of an interruption at the time of the Boxer uprising. For several years it was the only established work in the province. Under the blessing of God, the work has steadily grown until the hospital is now altogether too small to meet the present demand, to say nothing of providing for growth in the future years.

The statistics for the fourteen months ending February 28, 1907, are as follows:

|--------------------------------------|-------------|
| Out patients, first visits..... | 4,030 |
| Out patients, subsequent visits..... | 4,330—8,360 |
| In patients | 194 |
| Surgical operations | 517 |
| Visits to patients' homes..... | 47 |

During the past year we have been asked to take over the medical work of the Imperial Chinese Customs, which consists in caring for the staff of Chinese and Europeans connected with that service. This we agreed to do, with the consent of the Board of Missions, and thus have the added responsibility of this work, which makes it necessary that the present incumbent have a colleague. The remuneration allowed by the Customs will pay the salary of a single medical missionary, so that when the physician promised by the Board arrives, it will permit us to do the present work better and to enlarge it without any additional financial outlay, so far as salary is concerned.

It is with considerable satisfaction that we can say we are arriving at the time when we enjoy the confidence of the people to an extent that makes it possible to do major surgical operations, when necessary, without endangering the lives of ourselves and other members of the community. At present the in-patients' receipts pay for all the food and fuel used for them, and a part of the wages of the hospital assistants; this, in spite of the fact that we have an unwritten law that no one is turned away because he is not able to pay, provided we have room in the hospital. The same is true of the out-patients. The latter pay a small registration fee each time they come, provided they can, and these sums, small as they are, aggregate an amount that helps considerably towards self-support.

STUDENTS IN MEDICAL COLLEGE.

In a year from the time this report is written, if naught prevents, we will receive our first medical student back from Hankow a full M. D. By that time he will have finished his five-year course in the medical college. Two other young men have been sent to the same school, and should graduate one and two years later than the first student. All three received their preliminary training in our hospital. The funds necessary for keeping these young men in school have come partly from the Christian Endeavor Society at South McAlester, Ind. Ter., but mostly from members of the Mission. The agreement is that these students return to us after graduation, to assist in the work at about the same salary as an evangelist. There has come to us nothing but praise for them from their teachers, and we trust that we may be able to hold them in the work, and thus assist some of the more recently established stations, as well as strengthen our own by their help.

MORE LAND NEEDED.

Reference has been made to the crowded condition of the work. It will be necessary that we buy more land as soon as possible, if we are to keep abreast of the possibilities. Owing to the prosperity of the city, and the fact that all the high ground is occupied, it will mean that we must be prepared to spend several thousand dollars to buy contiguous property for the growing work. Our estimates for the new year have gone to the united mission, but we wish in this connection also to emphasize the necessity of another residence for this work. The present residence properly belongs to the doctor, and it is urgently desired that another house be provided for use of the members of the Mission. A Woman's Hospital is needed in the near future, and an addition to the present Men's Hospital is also in our plans. The Woman's Board have sent $1,000.00 gold towards buying land for their work, but this amount, owing to property having advanced so much in the past few years, is only about half that will be required to purchase the adjoining place.

UNION MISSION MEETING.

On September 20, by cordial invitation, representatives of our Mission met with the Presbyterian Mission in their annual meeting at Siangtan. A very harmonious and profitable meeting was held, and arrangements were made for the union here in Hunan. Our financial budget for the coming year has been passed into the hands of a committee appointed at that meeting. We rejoice that we are to be united in service with the splendid brethren in the Hunan Presbyterian Mission, and, while we shall assuredly receive much help from them, we hope also to contribute our humble part in the general work.

A WORD OF GRATITUDE.

As this is the last report that we, as a Mission, shall make to you as a Board, our hearts prompt words of deep gratitude for your unflinching kindness and sympathy. Our imperfections and failures are known to you, and we sincerely wish that our work had been done as faithfully as yours. With gratitude and appreciation that we find difficult to express, we close this report with the assurance of our remembrance of you at the Throne of Grace, and the earnest request for your continual prayers in behalf of ourselves and our work.

The work in the State of Aguas Calientes, the territory assigned our particular branch of the Protestant Church, has been conducted along practically the same lines as heretofore. Special emphasis has been given the evangelistic feature of our work. Services have been conducted regularly for the English-speaking people in the city of Aguas Calientes by our missionary, Rev. T. J. Molloy. The native church has been in charge of a native evangelist and has made satisfactory progress during the year. Evangelistic tours through portions of the State have been conducted by Mr. Molloy and the native evangelist. They have used a stereopticon in these services with telling effect. Scores have been attracted and we believe deeply interested in this way. The native church has had held up before it constantly the importance of contributing to the support of the work and becoming self-supporting at the earliest moment possible. The church has grown considerably in this regard. The church building has been repaired, painted and put in an attractive condition.

The Boys' School has not been reopened, because the Board has not had a suitable man to place in charge of that work. The buildings have been kept in a good state of repair and the rooms have been rented and the revenue thus derived has been used in evangelistic work.

The Girls' School has had a very successful year. The attendance has been very satisfactory and the progress the pupils have made has been gratifying to those in charge of the work. Much attention has been given in every department of the Mission's work to temperance and practical christianity. Advantage has been taken of noted speakers who have visited the city of Aguas Calientes, and much encouragement and help has been received from them. The visit of Mr. Robert E. Speer, Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, was very helpful and encouraging to our missionaries. The plans that have been formulated for combining the work of our Mission with the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., are very acceptable to the mission, and we are hopefully looking forward for rapid progress in the united work of our Missions in Mexico.

COMBINING THE WORK OF THE BOARDS.

Consistent with the instructions of the General Assembly several conferences were held with the corresponding Boards of the reunited Church. At the last conference which was held in New York city December 12-13, 1906, the following resolutions were recommended. The same were subsequently approved by our Board with the further provision "That we suggest to the three Boards in New York that they add to their committees provided for in Resolution II, any member of their respective Boards residing in or adjacent to the city of St. Louis."

Our Board joins heartily in recommending these resolutions for your favorable consideration :

First: That, after the meeting of the General Assembly in May, 1907, the Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection should continue and maintain its legal corporate existence, for the purpose of serving the best interests of all concerned, and performing such functions as may be deemed necessary, but that, as soon as agreements between the respective Boards of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, and the Cumberland Presbyterian Board have been reached, it should turn over its home mission stations and home mission work to the Board of Home Missions, its foreign mission work and foreign mission stations to the Board of Foreign Missions, and its church erection funds and church erection work, to the Trustees of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

Second: That the corporate members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions and Church Erection should become and be made members of the above named Boards of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, as follows: Home Missions, three; Foreign Missions, two; Church Erection, two.

Third: That a joint office for the South and Southwest should be maintained in St. Louis by these three Boards, which office should also be the General Office of the Cumberland Presbyterian Board of Missions, and Church Erection.

Fourth: That the work to be done through this joint office by any particular Board shall be under the general supervision of a committee composed of the members of that Board who are also corporate members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Board; and that the appointment of agents, the granting of appropriations and loans, and the adoption of plans and policies for the South and Southwest by any particular Board, shall be after all such matters have been submitted to such committees of said Board.

Fifth: That this conference is unable to make a united recommendation as to the final disposition of the Missionary Record, but that, inasmuch as this publication has been a great power in building up the work of this Board, and is well known among our people, we strongly recommend that it be preserved for the present, either as a separate publication or in combination with some other similar publication, and that to insure that its influence shall not be lost, the joint office above mentioned should have ample representation in it.

With a view of serving the Assembly in carrying out the plan provided for in above resolutions, we suggest the following assignments:

WORK OF OUR WOMAN'S BOARD.

Plans for combining the work of the Women's Boards are under way and are practically agreed upon, though some of the details are yet to be worked out.

The difficulties and problems that have confronted our Board in its work have also affected very largely the work of our Woman's Board. We submit herewith a summary of the receipts and expenditures of that Board, which, under all the circumstances, is most excellent, and our women are to be congratulated.

TREASURER'S REPORT FOR FIFTEEN MONTHS.

January 1, 1906—March 31, 1907.

Notwithstanding the disaffection of some auxiliaries because of the union question, and the confusion in others incident to the work of becoming adjusted to the new conditions, the Woman's Board of Missions has had a prosperous year. The Board has on its books the names of 934 societies with a reported membership of 10,927, distributed among 105 Presbyteries belonging to the sixteen Synods which constituted the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The receipts of the Board are as follows:

|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Cash received from auxiliaries, congregations, Sunday Schools, Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor and Individuals..... | $32,818.35 |
| Literature..... | 1,427.98 |
| Annual Reports | 60.24 |
| Miscellaneous Offerings | 1,499.01 |
| Total receipts | $35,805.58 |

Funds have been disbursed as follows:

|--------------------------------|--------------------|
| Japan. | |
| Salaries and Incidentals..... | $ 6,420.04 |
| Evangelistic Work | 1,034.54 |
| School Work | 1,927.00 |
| Building and Improvements..... | 7,000.00 |
| Total | $16,481.58 |

|--------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| China. | |
| Salaries | $ 2,002.59 |
| Evangelistic Work | 50.00 |
| Total | $ 2,052.59 |
| Mexico. | |
| Salaries | $ 2,250.00 |
| Evangelistic Work | 105.00 |
| School Work | 3,633.80 |
| Repairs and Improvements..... | 302.45 |
| Total | $ 6,291.25 |
| Chinese and Japanese in California. | |
| Salaries and Incidentals..... | $ 3,344.32 |
| Building | 265.00 |
| Total | $ 3,599.32 |
| Mountain Mission, Walnut, N. C. | |
| Salaries and Incidentals..... | $ 6,258.77 |
| School Work | 1,920.00 |
| Buildings and Repairs..... | 4,108.04 |
| Total | $12,286.81 |
| Choctaw Indians. | |
| Evangelistic Work | $ 350.00 |
| Literature. | |
| Literature of all kinds..... | 2,299.94 |
| Administration. | |
| Expenses of Administration..... | 3,365.80 |

Organizing literature and Mission Study supplies have been sent out in large quantities. We are especially pleased with the interest which our auxiliaries manifest in Mission Study. During the fifteen months for which this report is made, we have sent out about 3,000 text-books of all kinds, besides maps, sets of pictures, Suggestions for Leaders, programs, and other helps to the study of missions.

IN CONCLUSION.

Summing up the contributions that have passed through our Board's treasury and those that have been collected by its agents and auxiliaries, we have the following exhibit:

|-------------------------------------|-------------|
| Church Erection, current work..... | $ 3,134.00 |
| Home Missions, current work..... | 20,880.00 |
| Home Missions, Synodical work..... | 32,195.00 |
| Foreign Missions, current work..... | 26,658.00 |
| Woman's Board, current work..... | 35,806.00 |

|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| Total receipts for current work in the departments of Church Erection, Home and Foreign Missions..... | $118,573.00 |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------|

In view of the general conditions which have prevailed throughout the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and in view of the fact that many of our churches have required unusual efforts and gifts to maintain their local work, we consider this an unusually good showing and one for which the Church should be congratulated.

In closing our work as a separate Board we can assure you that the Reunited Church will receive from the members of the former Cumberland Presbyterian Church, who have accomplished such a splendid work in Home and Foreign Missions in the face of unparalleled difficulties, the same hearty sympathy and support that has been given to our Board of Missions for more than half a century. We believe that the reunion of these two branches of the Presbyterian Church is of God and that the two great streams which have flowed in separate channels for a century and are now reunited will broaden and deepen until the Gospel of Jesus Christ shall have been carried into all parts of this fair land of ours and to the uttermost parts of the earth.

During the seventeen months covered by this report, $12,422.33 was received from various sources without positive instructions as to the department in which it was to be used. Where any instructions were given, they were to use it on the Board's debt. These funds were divided, three-fifths placed to the credit of Foreign Missions and two-fifths to the credit of Home Missions.

By contract, dated June 16, 1896, our Board was given about $5,000.00 in money and property, all of which has been used in Home Mission work. The condition upon which this gift was made and accepted was that we should pay Mrs. Louisa Krusch $7.00 per month during the rest of her natural life. She is now 77 years old, and is being cared for in Bethesda Home, St. Louis, Mo. These monthly payments have been made regularly and should be continued. In as much as these funds were used for Home Missions, we believe your Board of Home Missions should provide for these payments.

*The apparent balance due the Church Erection Department by the Home and Foreign Mission Departments is not included in the above statement, but is fully explained in the foregoing report.

The accounts of the Board have been audited and approved each month.

Respectfully submitted,

T. H. PERRIN, President.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON SYSTEMATIC BENEFICENCE

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

OF

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

IN THE

In respectfully presenting its twenty-seventh annual report to the General Assembly, the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence, consisting of: Ministers—David G. Wylie, William H. Hubbard, George P. Williams, Chalmers Martin, C. T. Shaw, William R. Richards, William P. Finney, Charles E. Bronson; with Ruling Elders—John Sinclair, John Stewart, W. W. Smith, Laird H. Simmons, H. B. Silliman, H. C. Olin, desire to express its gratitude to the Head of the church for another year of work, and further to say:

1. Throughout the year past your committee has carried on its work in distributing literature, replying to letters, giving information, and in stimulating, in every way possible, the work of systematic beneficence. As usual, a full meeting of the Committee was held and a letter sent out to the Chairman of Synodical and Presbyterian chairmen of committees on the subject in which we are deeply interested.

2. The demand for information is persistent, as is shown by our extensive correspondence and rather wide distribution of literature, and this leads to the conclusion that, throughout the bounds of the church, there are many who are watching, waiting and working for the coming of a better and brighter day; for the time when there will be more generosity; and when those who claim to have dedicated themselves to God and His work will, in a more systematic way, and in a more liberal spirit, dedicate what God has given to them, in trust, to the work of saving the world.

3. Again we call attention to the fact (because this report will doubtless reach many new elders, deacons, church members and ministers), that this Committee stands ready to furnish

(1) Subscription blanks of two kinds.—The first is for churches that wish to make a separate annual offering to each of the boards of the church and to obtain advanced subscriptions from the members of their congregations for each of the boards of the church. The subscription blank below will be furnished free by our Committee in such quantities as may be desired.

Sometime before next April, I am willing to give the various amounts set opposite the names of the Boards of the Church as my church offerings for the causes represented.

The second is for those churches that desire to follow closely the instructions contained in the Directory of Worship, chapter 6, and where there is an indication that the people do not care to pledge in advance a definite amount to be paid during the year. Subscription blank No. 2 can be used to advantage in obtaining a definite pledge of an offering of some kind from each member of the congregation. This subscription blank will be furnished free to churches desiring to use them.

I desire to conform to the advice contained in the Directory of Worship of the Presbyterian Church, chapter 6 and bring an offering as the Lord has prospered me every Lord's day as a solemn act of worship to Almighty God.

“Let our offerings be according to our incomes lest the Lord should be displeased and make our incomes according to our offerings.”

(2.) Envelopes.—The Committee furnish envelopes free for use by all members of congregations desiring to have their method of giving conform to the advice given in the Directory of Worship by offerings. One side of the envelope has on it the following printed matter:

Give unto the Lord the Glory due unto his name; bring an offering, and come before him: worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

An Offering as an Act of Worship.

If this offering is for a particular Board please check the one intended, otherwise it will be considered as for the entire missionary and benevolent work of the Church and will be accordingly distributed among all the Boards by the Session.

It is the purpose of this Committee to add to this list, from time to time, and we welcome suggestions from ministers, elders, deacons and church members, and especially from the chairmen of Synodical and Presbyterian committees, whose chairmen and members have done such effective work in the interests of systematic and proportionate giving in days past. If any who read this report know of addresses or sermons on the subject under discussion, we will be pleased to hear from such and to receive printed copies of such sermons or addresses and give to these patient and painstaking examination.

In this connection it may be said that the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence, at its meeting in New York, appointed the secretary and chairman a committee, with power, to draw up the annual report and we have worked patiently in the performance of the work assigned us. This report is composite in its nature, but has been subjected to careful scrutiny in all its details.

I. The Work of the Committee.

The special work of this Committee is to co-operate in all practical ways in the important work of developing the grace of systematic giving among the membership of our church, and to magnify the importance of giving on the Lord's day as an act of worship.

In the prosecution of the work committed to us, we are confronted with certain difficulties that, before they are mastered, have to be clearly seen and understood.

II. Face to Face With Great Difficulties.

First.—It is expected that every member of a church shall be a regular contributor to the support of the church.

We find that in reference to this simple and plain duty, there is a great laxity on the part of the members of the church, in many sections of the country. There seems to be no adequate sense of obligation, on the part of many, to the church of which they are members to be contributors in any sense that is worthy of the name.

No one cause can be stated which will cover all cases, but the number of those whose names are enrolled as church members, whose names do not appear on the books of the treasurer of the church as supporters of the church, is so great that we consider it fitting to call the attention of the General Assembly to this neglect, and that it may be well too, that our church Sessions should more clearly define the duties of church members at the time persons appear before them for the purpose of coming into the fellowship of the church.

Second.—It is expected that everyone coming into membership in the church, unless prevented by sickness or necessary duties, will be regular in attendance upon the public worship of the church and upon communion services; and,

Third.—To be a regular contributor to the benevolences of the church.

If the Sessions of our churches would revise their church rolls in the light of these three conditions and, making all allowance for good and sufficient reasons for the neglect of any one of these obligations, we believe the number on the church rolls, in many of our churches, would be greatly reduced; but would it not be better that our rolls be reduced in numbers and that membership in the local church should have at least as good a standing as that in the ordinary organizations of a community, even if such magnifying the church membership is secured by reducing the actual number who are upon the church rolls? There is no advantage to a church in continuing on its lists those that are neither supporters of the church nor regular attendants upon its services.

So strongly have some churches felt upon this matter, that we know of at least one church which has established a minimum membership due which is expected from every member of the church. Of course, where a family is paying pew rent, or contributing in any way a larger amount to the support of the church than the membership due, nothing is said in reference to it, but it gives a convenient way of bringing those who attempt to be careless in this matter, a reminder of their obligations, and we have been informed that this scheme of having a small membership fee from every church member is working well.

In the multiplication of the services of the church, it is important that renewed attention should be called to the duties of church membership. In many of our churches, the membership is largely recruited from the Sunday school, but it is also true that in many communities attendance upon Sunday school has been a practical substitute for attendance upon services of the church, and where the Sunday school either precedes or follows the morning public worship, the young people are satisfied with attendance at the Sunday school service and habitually absent themselves from the morning service of public worship.

Attendance upon Christian Endeavor, which usually precedes the Sabbath evening service, is considered by many of our young people, a sufficient substitute for attendance upon evening services.

The result is, there is an increasing constituency from the Sabbath school coming into church membership who are also identified with some one of our young people's societies, and who are rarely in attendance upon church services; the other services of the church being substitutes.

We have upon the rolls of our churches, a considerable constituency that are neither attendants upon public worship nor upon communion services, nor are they contributors. As long as this condition of things continues, we shall have a large number of persons in whom it will be difficult to develop the Christian grace of giving.

It is hardly to be expected that those who are members of Christ's church and feel no obligation to support, in an adequate manner, the work of Christ in their own community and in connection with their own church, can be interested in any great degree to give, from a Christian motive, to the various causes of Missions represented by our Church. There are persons who will give a pittance for any cause or object for which they are personally asked, but it is not done distinctively from the motive of obligation to Christ as Savior and Lord.

The problem of proper local church support is becoming an increasingly difficult one for many of our churches, and nearly every possible experiment has been tried in solving the problem. Some years ago, in many of the smaller churches, the money necessary to be raised to meet the local expenses of the church, was raised by a public subscription paper, and nearly everyone in the community knew what every other person in the same community contributed for this object.

In large communities, where certain churches were locally popular and where the demand for regular pews was greater than the supply, there was no difficulty in the renting of the pews at a sufficient price to meet the current expenses; but, at the present time, the trustees of many churches are compelled to resort to nearly every method known to them to obtain the necessary means for carrying on the work of the church.

The weekly envelope plan has come into very general use, so that now trustees depend frequently upon not merely the quarterly pew rents, but these supplementary offerings through envelopes and the miscellaneous offerings of the Sabbath; and the use of all these various methods for meeting current expenses makes the problem of the collections for missionary and benevolent purposes increasingly difficult in many of our churches.

As a result of this condition of things in the local church, nearly every church has more or less difficulty in raising the amount of money that is necessary to keep their church in a self-respecting condition. Many trustees are confronted yearly with a deficit in the current expenses of the church, and this deficit a few are expected to make up.

III. Neglect of the Church at Home Means Neglect of the Benevolences of the Church at Large.

In the estimation of many church members, the church occupies a secondary position; so that if they give anything, they contribute very little, with the idea that somebody else will do it. This unfair attitude of many persons towards their own church is not one which will foster large benevolence to our missionary and benevolent enterprises; so that one of the difficulties of the present hour to be considered, is this unjust attitude of so many of our church members toward their own local church. If a new sense of obligation to their local church could be created and every member realize that it is an obligation and a privilege to do for the Lord's work in connection with their own church; and that it is a means of grace to them individually thus to do; foundations might be laid for more liberal giving on the part of a church to the great causes which a church has at heart.

There can be but little growth in the Christian graces that does not involve the recognition of God's claim upon everyone of his followers for a certain portion of time and a certain portion of income for the direct service of God. In every period of the world's history efforts have been made on the part of men to keep the favor of God, and yet to withhold time and money from the cause of God; and every such attempt whether on the part of the individual or on the part of the church or a nation, has always resulted in absolute failure, in the steady lessening of faith in God; in a deterioration of the morals of the people, and an increasing neglect of God's sanctuary. One has only to read the varied history of the Hebrews in regard to this matter to have abundant illustration that it will never do for an individual that expects a continued blessing of God to offer the halt, the lame, and the blind on God's altar as a sacrifice. God will not accept a second place in the affections of His people; He demands the first.

The time has come when, for the absolute preservation of the local church, without regard to the cause of missions, the matter of systematic beneficence on the part of the people, as an act of worship, should be made a prominent subject for pulpit discourse, and for the proper education of the people as to their duties. Many people seem to be blind and ignorant as to their obligations in this matter. Every Christian should keep an account with God, and conscientiously set aside a portion of his income to be used in the Lord's work; and when the claims of God's cause are from time to time presented, should consider it a privilege and a joy to listen to the new opportunities presented for doing the Lord's work and deem it a privilege to take from the Lord's box the money previously set aside to help these enterprises.

IV. The Attitude of Many Church People Toward the Benevolent and Missionary Causes.

We have thus far called attention to the attitude of many members of the church to the support of their own local church. Now, when we come to consider the attitude of church members to the missionary and benevolent causes of the church, we find the condition of things even worse. There is no adequate or systematic giving on the part of the members of the church to any of the great causes of the Church. Some churches are enabled to report large offerings to the Boards of the Church; but there are few churches that would be willing to have the offering that is given in the name of the church to any missionary and benevolent board, analyzed; or a list of individual contributors. It will be found, in most of our churches, that ten or a dozen persons give the great bulk of the offerings made; and this is true, even though the membership be several hundred.

It is necessary to keep these local conditions clearly in mind in trying to solve the additional problem of the proper support of our missionary and benevolent work. It is well, therefore, for us to consider the difficulty that confronts the church Session, which has serious local conditions to contend with in its attempt to be loyal to the recommendations for offerings made, for example, by the last General Assembly.

V.—The Good Advice Given by the First General Assembly Relative to Overburdening the Churches.
Has the Time Come to Repeat It?

The following are the recommendations as to the giving, which were adopted, together with the pages where the recommendations are found, in the last Assembly minutes.

We call the attention of the church to these recommendations:

1. Evangelistic Committee Resolved, 7. That the committee be authorized to appeal to the churches for financial assistance in this all-important work. (Page 23).

2. American Tract Society The General Assembly earnestly urges that each of our churches make an annual and liberal offering for the support of the work of the American Tract Society. (Page 32).

3. The Board of Ministerial Relief Recommended that the apportionment scheme be heartily endorsed.
In brief, this scheme is as follows:
 - (a) Churches paying salaries of $800 and less, to give at least Ten Cents per communicant.
 - (b) Churches paying salaries of $800 to $1,200 to give at least Fifteen Cents per communicant.
 - (c) Churches paying salaries of $1,200 and upwards, to give at least Fifteen Cents per communicant, and in addition one per cent. of the salaries of their ministers.
 - (d) Churches hitherto contributing to the Board of Relief sums considerably beyond the apportionment above suggested, to continue their generous support of the Board.

The Presbyterial Committees shall be instructed to appoint one elder in each church society to make a faithful and adequate presentation of the work of the Board of Ministerial Relief and take measures to increase the offering for this board in their respective congregations.

This Assembly calls on all Presbyteries to require every church that fails to make an offering to this Board to give reasons for such omission and that these requests be not sustained unless they be special and providential. (Pages 34-35).

4. American Bible Society

The Assembly again calls the attention of its churches to the imperative necessity of continuing and enlarging their gifts to the Treasury of the Society, in order to prevent the recurrence of such dangers. For this purpose we again strongly urge our churches, so far as possible, to take an annual collection; our Presbyteries to appoint standing committees on the work of the Society; and all our people to regard this important institution as having such a relation to our own Boards and the organized work of the Church, that they should give it their earnest prayers and best support, in order that it may continue in years to come even more abundantly to fulfill the high purposes with which it was established ninety years ago. (Page 36).

5. Relief for the churches of San Francisco. Offering, third Sunday in June.

Recommended that all of our churches be asked in the most earnest manner to unite in a sympathetic effort to raise a relief fund of not less than $300,000; the collection for this purpose to be taken in each church on the third Sunday in June, or as soon thereafter as possible. (Page 41).

6. Board of Aid for Freedmen

Recommended that $300,000, the amount named by two preceding Assemblies but not yet realized, be named as the minimum amount the churches should contribute to this Board during the current year. (Page 45).

7. American Sabbath Observance. Sermon in the month of April

We earnestly recommend that each pastor of our communion preach a sermon in the month of April on the subject and that at that time an offering be made for the work of the American Sabbath Union, and that the Union be placed upon the list of benevolences of the churches. (Page 51).

8. Board of Education
- The General Assembly enjoins upon all Presbyteries the duty of presenting to our people the new and urgent need of the Board of Education for means with which to do the rapidly growing work of the church. (Page 56).
9. Board of Home Missions.
Offering Nov. 25
- On the Sabbath preceding Thanksgiving Day, our Sabbath Schools are requested to make an offering for Sabbath School work under the care of the Woman's Board.
- Offering Feb. 24
- On the Sabbath nearest to Washington's Birthday, an offering for the general work of Home Missions.
- We commend our Home Board to our church for a contribution of $1,000,000 to be spent this year for the advancing of the work committed to the care of the Board. (Page 78).
10. Board of College Aid
- Two hundred thousand dollars is the sum which the churches are asked to give to the College Board for appropriations to current expenses of colleges this year. This in addition to such individual offerings as the influence and appeal of the colleges may call forth. (Page 90).
11. Board of Foreign Missions
- The General Assembly would call upon the great church it represents to make the year a remarkable one in the history of Foreign Missions by increasing the aggregate of its annual investment in the World's Evangelization until that investment shall exceed by 33 1-3 per cent., the largest amount ever before contributed by the Church.
- Offering Christmas and Easter
- Special effort should be made to secure general and generous Foreign Missionary contributions from the Sabbath Schools on Christmas and Easter Sabbaths. (Page 101).
12. Board of Publication and Sunday-school Work
- The General Assembly urges our Sabbath Schools to make liberal offerings on Rally Day for prosecuting special work among foreigners. It commends the plan known as the "Forward Movement" in Sabbath School Missions by which the support of particular missionaries is assumed by Presbyteries, Churches, Sabbath Schools and Individuals, and recommends its wider adoption. (Page 108).
- In case of monies left or given to the Board of Publication and Sunday School work without designation as to

13. The Ministerial Sustentation Fund
14. Endowment of First Presbyterian church, Philadelphia
15. Endowment of First Presbyterian church, New York

the use of such money, or as to the securities in which it shall be invested, General Assembly hereby authorizes the Board of Publication and Sunday School work to apply such monies at its discretion, toward the reduction of the indebtedness secured by the mortgage on the Witherspoon Building. (Page 109).

The plan of Ministerial Sustentation was approved and the expenses of the Committee are provided by voluntary contributions. (Page 115).

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following Report, which was adopted:

Your Committee on Bills and Overtures respectfully reports on Overture No. 287, being a Memorial from the Presbytery of Philadelphia, requesting that the effort being made to adequately endow the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia to insure its permanent preservation, be recommended to the interest and liberality of the Church at large.

We recommend that the Assembly grant this request, for the reasons specified in the Overture, viz.: the First Church of Philadelphia was organized in 1698, in its building met the first Presbytery of our Church, and also for many years the General Presbytery, the General Synod and the General Assembly, and in 1870 the Reunion Assembly.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following Report, which was adopted:

Whereas, The Presbytery of New York, at its meeting in February, 1906, adopted the following resolutions:

The Presbytery of New York having learned with deep interest of the effort now being made to secure an adequate endowment for the First Presbyterian Church of this city; it is

Resolved, That we should regard with sorrow and dismay any proposal to move our Mother Church from its present commanding position. The beauty and dignity of its architecture make it a civic monument which should by all means be preserved, while its significance as a silent witness for the truth and as a house of prayer for all people can scarcely be overestimated.

To suffer this beautiful house to fall would be a public calamity and a reproach to the Presbyterian Church.

Therefore, Presbytery, now sheltered by its roof, most heartily endorses the effort to secure such endowment as will make it possible to maintain and extend the work of this church according to the demands of the time and of the field. And

Whereas, The Assembly has approved the similar effort to give permanence to the work of the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, similarly situated; therefore,

Resolved, That the Assembly approves such movements to maintain our historic landmarks, and commends the effort to insure the permanence of the First Presbyterian Church of New York City. (Page 174).

16. Committee on Temperance Offering Oct. 28.

The Assembly recommends that the last Sabbath in October be observed as Temperance Day in our churches, Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, and that so far as practicable offerings be taken at that time for the temperance work under the direction of the Assembly. (Page 177).

The Permanent Committee on Temperance is recommended to the churches for the sum of $25,000. (Page 177).

17. Board of Church Erection

That the commissioners to this General Assembly and the Church at large be urged to rise to the greatness of the opportunity presented in the appeal of this Board, and to prove this by an increase of contributions. (Page 181).

18. Special Committee on Christian Work Among Seamen

The expenses of this Committee are to be met by voluntary contributions and the committee is recommended for contributions for its expenses to the beneficence of churches and individuals interested in the spiritual welfare of seamen and soldiers. (Page 193).

19. Witherspoon Building Indebtedness, $410,000

The joint committee shall have the power to appoint a representative to present the cause entrusted to it to the Christian public and to the ministers and members of the Presbyterian Church. (Page 215).

20. General Assembly Assessment, 5 cents per Communicant

Every Presbytery is requested to pay in full, next year, to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, a sum equal to three and one-half cents for mileage and one and one-half cents for Contingent Expenses, or in all, five cents for every communicant under the care of their churches, as determined by their Statistical Report, herewith printed. This will entitle their Commissioners to a full share in the apportionments for necessary traveling expenses.

VI.—This is a Formidable List, but the Half, or Not More than the Half Has Been Told.

This long list—this list of causes that calls loudly for help, and all of them good, is by no means all that the churches and church members are called upon to support. What about local Bible societies, Hospitals. Children's Aid societies, Chinese work, Church extension in great cities, and the many causes recommended highly by good, though not always wise men, and presented to the pastors by a multitude of peripatetic white and colored ministers who almost weekly get into our parish?

The problem to be solved is more serious when we consider that, in addition to the general appeal for an offering from the church, some of our boards have six or eight different additional avenues of appeal to the constituencies of our congregations.

In the carrying on of the work of the church, at the present time, every church has different organizations, and the boards of the church are alert that an appeal for the cause they represent shall be made to these several organizations in the church: Viz: The Women's Foreign Missionary societies, the Women's Home Missionary societies, the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor, the Young People's societies, Mission Bands and Sunday schools. And not merely one collection from these societies, but frequently this collection is supplemented by several pleas of summer offerings and the like.

VII.—The Rills that Make Up the River.

The following is the list of the different columns through which moneys are credited as being received from our several churches, including also, special days and appeals.

Total of disbursements$34.24

The contributions have been sent according to the directions of the various societies, and individuals and session.

Accompanying this report there will be found fifty-nine vouchers from the various organizations, societies and committees to which we have contributed, according to the recommendations of General Assembly and in accordance with various appeals made to us and our societies by our missionary and benevolent boards.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

IX.—Serious Questions for the Thoughtful.

What is the duty of the average church Session that desires to be loyal to the Boards of our Church and to the recommendations of General Assembly and to the interests of the particular field which is under its immediate care? Is there any way whereby this whole matter of money for the Kingdom of Christ from the individual church member can be simplified, and a due proportion allotted to all the causes that should have recognition and proper support?

To what extent shall our churches take, seriously, the recommendations of General Assembly as to contributions for various causes and the various amounts to be recommended to be raised during the year? Has not the time come when the General Assembly, as the governing body of the Presbyterian church, shall place on record only recommendations which they expect to be carried out, or at least, a statement of the extent to which they have reasonable expectations that they will be carried out? And what is a Session, bewildered by the volume of recommendations of objects to which the members are called to give, to do? and how consistently conform these recommendations to the recommendation of the sixth chapter of the Directory of Worship, which is as follows:

(1) "In order that every member of the congregation may be trained to give of his substance systematically, and as the Lord hath prospered him, to promote the preaching of the Gospel in all the world, and to every creature, according to the command of the Lord Jesus Christ, it is proper and very desirable that an opportunity be given for offerings by the congregation in this behalf every Lord's day, and that, in accordance with the Scriptures, the bringing of such offerings be performed as a solemn act of worship to Almighty God.

(2). "The proper order, both as to the particular service of the day and the place in such service for receiving the offerings may be left to the discretion of the minister and Session of the church; but that it may be a separate and specific act of worship, the minister should either precede or immediately follow the same with brief prayer, invoking the blessing of God upon it and devoting the offerings to his service."

X.—A Campaign of Education Proposed.

Then let the united energy of the Church be devoted to the education of our people in systematic and proportionate giving, which we believe will in the near future mean much for the better support of the local church, and of the rapid extension and increase of God's Kingdom throughout the world.

This constant appeal to impulse, and the multiplication of offerings which soon become all alike to the average church member, is belittling to the great work we have in hand.

A campaign of education is sadly needed. For last year, 8,118 churches were reported as enrolled, which includes foreign mission churches.

The total amount received by our eight Boards through church offerings, aggregated in round numbers, $1,120,000, with a reported membership of 1,158,662, makes the average church offering throughout the entire church about one dollar for our eight Boards, per communicant.

During the year under review, the eight Boards of the church report that they have received in aggregate from all the churches, 34,682 offerings.

A careful analysis of the offerings reported by the Boards, indicate that at the present time there are very few of our 8,000 churches that take a yearly offering for each of the Boards of the Church. A little over one thousand churches fill all the blanks.

A careful analysis of these nine thousand offerings indicate that the same amount is duplicated in many cases for two or more of the Boards of the Church, showing that a system of division has been adopted by the Session of the Church in apportioning the money contributed for missionary and benevolent purposes by the church to the Boards of the Church. In frequent cases the size of the offering indicates a desire on the part of the Session simply to fill all the blanks.

Of the 34,682 offerings taken for the Boards of the Church during the year, nearly 3,000 of them were for sums of $1.00 or less; about 12,000 from $1.00 to $5.00, and over half of all the offerings made were for sums less than $10.00, and only 1,622 of the 34,000 offerings were above $100.

The 500 largest offerings to each of the eight Boards of the Church aggregate of this $1,120,008, $775,000.00, leaving the total amount contributed through church offerings by all the other churches at about $345,000. This divided up into 30,000 offerings, makes an average of $11.00 per offering.

There is very little change from these figures from year to year. Most of these offerings represent the contributions simply of a very few in each church. The great masses of the church membership have hardly begun to give, either to the support of the local church or to the cause of missions, in any way that is commensurate with their ability. A careful study of the Statistical Tables herewith submitted with this report, will indicate that giving is a grace at present very little cultivated, among a large portion of the membership of the church.

A change in the system of the presentation of the work of our church will, we believe, result in an aggregate increase in the amount given to the Boards and a steady tendency to educate the people in giving as a part of worship. An emphasis upon a portion of one's income as belonging to the Lord to be used in the spread of His Kingdom in the world will, we believe, bring more money to the treasury of the Church than the laying the emphasis upon the many individual needs of the work of the Kingdom of God. An offering for the world-wide work should mean more to the individual from year to year than listening to frequent special appeals.

The smallness of the offerings from individual churches to the separate Boards would rather indicate that the Presbytery rather than the individual church should be the unit and that some way might be devised whereby the missionary and benevolent funds for our church could be raised through the Presbyteries, each Presbytery knowing the amount that might be reasonably expected from the Presbytery as a whole, for the entire missionary and benevolent work of the church, throwing the responsibility upon the Presbytery, as the women of the Presbytery feel the responsibility of getting the money for Home and Foreign Missions through their Presbyterial societies. The success of the women in their Presbyterial work and the success of the Synods in their supporting of their Home Missionary work would rather indicate that the work and the responsibility for the necessary funds for the Boards of our Church and their benevolences could be left with the Presbyteries, and the amount absolutely necessary for the work of the year might be safely apportioned to the Presbyteries if the apportionment is judiciously made and made in the light of what the several Presbyteries have actually done during the past ten or fifteen years for the several causes, the aggregate amount necessary for all the Boards of the Church could be more easily raised on the apportionment basis than it is now raised by separate appeal and far more economically.

In the light of the contributions from our churches for various causes during the past ten years, is it not possible to form some general idea of what can be, reasonably, expected to be the amount that can be raised for our missionary and benevolent work for the year to come? Cannot this aggregate sum be apportioned among the Synods; and cannot representatives from the Presbyteries, within the bounds of the Synod, apportion the amount to the Synod among the Presbyteries; and cannot each Presbytery apportion this amount among its own churches; and the amount thus raised be sent to a central treasury which can be divided in due proportion to all the causes that General Assembly thinks worthy of receiving contributions; and cannot all the Boards of the church co-operate with the Sessions of all the churches in a great campaign of education on the whole subject of systematic and proportionate giving; and do everything possible to cultivate this grace?

The frequency of appeal is having a tendency in our churches, we fear, to kill out the principle of giving. As it is now, there are only very few in each church that are giving as an act of worship in obedience to the demands and directions of Scripture and if this field in our churches is to be cultivated at all, it can only be done by a unity of co-operation and unity of plan on the part of the entire church, not by multiplying the avenues of appeal to the individual church member.

In the appendix will be found the usual Statistical Tables.

In closing this report, the Special committee desires to express their appreciation of the faithful work being done in the interests of Systematic Beneficence by the various Synodical and Presbyterian committees.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

In behalf of the Committee,

DAVID G. WYLIE, Chairman,

WILLIAM H. HUBBARD, Secretary.

Report of the Standing Committee on Systematic Beneficence to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, 1907.

Your Standing Committee on Systematic Beneficence submits the following report:

The report of the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence was referred to us and in it we find much that is worthy of the Assembly's attention.

One of the hopeful signs there noted is that the "demand for information is persistent," showing that our people are waking to the importance of proportionate and systematic giving, and with the increase of knowledge on the subject there will assuredly be growth in the grace of liberality.

We think that special attention should be called to the plan of securing voluntary, but definite pledges from the church membership at the beginning of each year for the various benevolences of the church. Subscription blanks and envelopes for this purpose will be supplied free of charge to all sessions applying to the committee for them. They also have for free distribution a good assortment of literature of which the churches should take advantage.

In their endeavor to magnify the importance of giving on the Lord's day as an act of worship, the committee finds that there is a great difference between the number of those whose names appear as church members and the number of those who appear on the treasurers' books as supporters of the church. It is the judgment of the committee that, where church members have no adequate sense of responsibility for the support of their own church, little can be expected of them for the adequate support of the benevolent and missionary causes of the church. As preparatory for increased giving on the part of church membership, the committee believes a campaign of education should be carried on, on the part of all of our church sessions, to magnify the responsibility of the members of the church to their own church in at least three particulars—a regular attendance upon the services of the church, upon the communion services and a regular contribution to the support of the church. We consider the habit of regular support of one's own church by every member as the best preparation for the adequate support of our missionary and benevolent causes.

"There can be but little growth in the Christian graces that does not involve the recognition of God's claim upon every one of His followers for a certain portion of time and of income for the direct service of God. One has only to read the varied history of the Hebrews to have abundant illustration that it will never do for an individual that expects a continued blessing of God to offer the halt, the lame and blind on God's altar as sacrifice. God will not accept a second place in the affections of His people. He demands the first."

The committee further suggests that every Christian should keep an account with God and conscientiously set aside a portion of his income to be used in the Lord's work and, when the claims of God's cause are presented from time to time, should consider it a privilege and a joy to listen to the new opportunities presented for doing the Lord's work and deem it a privilege to take from the Lord's box the money set aside to help these enterprises.

The committee further calls attention to the increasing tendency to multiply the number of causes to which the individual church member is asked to contribute, and frequently this multiplication of causes has a tendency to affect the sense of obligation which the church member should feel toward the work definitely under the care of our Boards, and the time seems to have come when the whole matter of raising money for the kingdom of Christ from the individual church member should be simplified and some plan devised whereby a due proportion should be allotted to all causes that should have recognition and proper support without this frequency of appeal to impulse.

A campaign of education in the matter of proportionate and systematic giving is greatly needed at the present time in our church. This need is clearly indicated by careful analysis of the size of the offerings made to our eight Boards by our churches found in the statistical tables of the report. Last year, our eight thousand churches made 34,682 offerings to the eight Boards. If, however, every church had made an offering to each of the Boards of the church, there would have been 65,000 offerings made during the year, indicating that about one-half of the offerings were taken that should have been taken. The size of these offerings shows that most of these were only perfunctory offerings. There were 2,784 offerings of one dollar or less; 11,796 offerings from one dollar to five dollars; 6,799 from five to ten dollars, and only 1,622 of the 34,682 offerings were for sums above one hundred dollars. This record of offerings is not that of individuals, but of entire churches. The size of these offerings would seem to indicate that most of our church membership are content to offer the halt and the blind on God's altar and save the best for themselves, a condition of things which in the days of old brought a curse upon the chosen people. Is there any reason to suppose that the same action will not meet with God's disapproval now?

The statistical tables for the several Boards of our church for the last ten years indicate that there is very little change in the amount given by all of our churches for the separate Boards of our church from year to year, the variation on the average being less than five per cent. The total income of the eight Boards, last year, was $4,503,284. Of this sum, $1,097,576.00 came through church offerings and $389,117.00 came from legacies.

The following overtures have been referred to your committee for consideration.

Your committee recommends the following answer to the Overture No. 111 on "The Duties of Members to Support their Church," from the Presbytery of Newton.

1. In the judgment of this Assembly it is the duty of every member, present or absent, to contribute according to his means to the support of the church where he holds his membership.

¶12. What action should be taken in case of a failure to perform this duty, is left to the discretion of the session of the church of which the individual is a member.

We recommend the following reply to Overture No. 117 with reference to "Budget to Provide Funds for the Boards," from the Presbytery of Adams. While approving the general idea of the overture, in view of the fact that the proposed reorganization of the Boards has not yet been effected, we recommend that no action be taken.

Your committee presents the following recommendations for adoption:

1. That the pastors be urged to preach at least once a year on the duty and privilege of proportionate and systematic giving.

2. That an effort be made in all our churches to increase the number of those who set apart a definite portion of their income for the Lord's work.

3. That the portion thus set aside be at least a tenth; for, while under the gospel dispensation no definite rule can be laid down as to the amount that should be set aside from one's income as the Lord's portion, yet the whole trend of the teaching of the Word would indicate that it should not be less than the tenth.

4. The success of the Women's Presbyterial societies in raising money for home and foreign missions would indicate that a similar course might be adopted with advantage by the Boards of our church. Last year, the Women's Executive Committee raised for foreign missions $352,117.00, making a total of $753,467.00 for home and foreign missions. The total amount raised during the last year through church offerings for all the Boards of the church amounted to $1,097,576.00. We recommend to the careful consideration of the Boards the wisdom of throwing the responsibility of raising the total amount expected from church offerings upon the Synods and Presbyteries, believing that such a course will increase the enthusiasm of our Synods and Presbyteries in our missionary and benevolent work by increasing their sense of responsibility. And we recommend that this Assembly direct the Boards to apportion to the Presbyteries the amounts recommended for each Board by the Finance Committee of the Assembly. We further recommend to the Boards to submit to the Presbyteries a joint statement of the amount apportioned, to be in turn apportioned by the Presbytery to the individual churches.

5. We recommend the continued active co-operation of the Synods and Presbyterial committees with the General Assembly's committee in the work of developing in all of our churches the grace of proportionate and systematic giving

6. We recommend that the Presbyterian Brotherhood and other men's organizations of our church be urged to take up the great missionary and benevolent causes and contribute and help in systematic manner.

7. We recommend that the church sessions avail themselves of the literature furnished by the committee; samples of which can be obtained by sending a request to the secretary, Rev. W. H. Hubbard, No. 35 Franklin street, Auburn, N. Y.

8. We recommend that the Special Committee on Systematic Beneficence for the ensuing year, consist of: Ministers David G. Wylie, William H. Hubbard, George P. Williams, Chalmers Martin, John F. Carson, William R. Richards, William P. Finney, Charles E. Bronson; with Ruling Elders John Sinclair, John Stewart, W. W. Smith, E. E. Beard, H. B. Silliman and H. C. Olin.

All of which is respectfully submitted in behalf of the Standing Committee on Systematic Beneficence.

No. 72 Conestoga Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

He stood upon the world's broad threshold; wide
The din of battle and of slaughter rose;
He saw God stand upon the weaker side,
That sank in seeming loss before its foes:
Many there were who made great haste and sold
Unto the cunning enemy their swords,
He scorned their gifts of fame, and power, and gold,
And, underneath their soft and flowery words,
Heard the cold serpent hiss; therefore he went
And humbly joined him to the weaker part,
Fanatic named, and fool, yet well content
So he could be the nearer to God's heart,
And feel its solemn pulses sending blood
Through all the widespread veins of endless good.

—James Russell Lowell.

Twenty-Sixth Annual Report and Year Book
1907

Presented to the General Assembly
at Columbus, Ohio.

OUTLINE OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

1. Nine hundred and eighty-three meetings were held in ninety-six Presbyteries, located in thirty Synods. Addresses were delivered before Synods, Presbyteries, Ministerial Associations, Theological Seminaries, Universities, Colleges, High Schools, Normal Schools, Temperance Institutes, Sunday School Conventions, Y. M. C. A.'s, Chautauquas, Presbyterian Churches and Sunday Schools.

2. Fifteen million (15,000,000) pages of literature, in seven languages, were supplied to the institutions mentioned in paragraph one. This literature went into every State and Territory in the Union, to South Africa, Central and South America, Canada, Corea, India, Ireland, Scotland, England, Alaska, the Philippines, Cuba and Porto Rico.

3. Besides supplying literature free to Presbyterian organizations we have furnished it at actual cost to applicants in almost every sister Church in the United States and Canada.

4. A temperance program, including responsive readings and music, with recitations accompanying, prepared by the Committee, was used by about three thousand (3,000) of our Sabbath Schools. More than one hundred thousand (100,000) pledge-cards were ordered by Sunday School superintendents and teachers.

5. A column has been supplied each week in some of our Presbyterian papers, a supplemental lesson has been prepared for each quarterly temperance lesson in the Westminster Teacher and Senior Quarterly. Some phase of the question has been presented in each issue of The Assembly Herald. Several new tracts have been issued and nearly all of the standard ones reprinted.

6. More than forty thousand (40,000) personal communications have been sent out, including a letter to every pastor and Sunday School superintendent in the entire denomination, so far as we had their names and addresses. Many thousands of requests for information have come from elders, Sunday School teachers, Christian Endeavor officers, Missionary Societies and other interested individuals.

7. The Temperance deliverances of the Assembly have been supplied to thousands of our churches. Communication has been had with nearly every denomination in the United States relative to an Inter-Church Temperance Conference held in Pittsburgh, January 30th and 31st, which was attended by representatives of sixteen denominations.

8. Three Associate Secretaries, one lecturer on Scientific Temperance and one colored evangelist have been employed either the whole or part of the year. These, with the stenographer, are the only persons drawing salary, the Corresponding Secretary accepting a small honorarium and the Chairman nothing, though the former devotes all of his time and the latter a large portion of his time to the work.

9. The receipts for the year have been $16,920, enabling us to close our books without debt, as we have done for twenty years.

10. Thus at small expense and with a limited number of workers the Assembly's Committee has served a denomination numbering one million three hundred thousand (1,300,000) communicants, with fully twice as many adherents and reaching into almost every part of the world.

TWENTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT.

The temperance reform is one of the most vital and practical issues before the American people, and in this great reform our denomination is endeavoring to render that particular service which, by the principles of the Word of God and the indications of Divine Providence, has been committed to the Christian Church and laid upon the conscience and heart of God's people. The past year has been one of great activity and gratifying progress. The lines of battle are becoming more clearly defined, and the temperance forces are aligning themselves for the impending conflict and victory.

GENERAL SURVEY OF THE FIELD.

Within the brief compass of this report, it will not be possible to give extended information on every phase of the temperance problem, but the hearty commendation of our last Annual Report, which comes to us from every quarter, and the very great demand for it, encourages us in the belief that a "bird's eye view" of the whole field will be helpful to all who wish information on this important subject.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

He who would win the victory must not underestimate the strength of the enemy. The great strength of the liquor traffic consists in the following considerations:

1. Its appeal to the appetites of men and women.
2. Its appeal to greed for gain on the part of those engaged in the traffic.
3. The thoroughly organized and combined interests of liquor dealers.
4. The political influence of the traffic in controlling elections and legislation.
5. The financial returns accruing to States and cities from internal revenue and tax receipts.
6. The legal and governmental protection afforded. The traffic having been taxed and licensed claims due protection by the law.

It is a matter of regret that up to the present time Congress has taken no action to prevent the nullification of prohibitory laws by the issuance of federal "tax receipts," and the shipment of liquors into prohibitory territory in "original packages" under interstate commerce laws.

THE MARCH OF PROGRESS.

There is no other reform that is making such headway in recent months as the Temperance reform. The tide of opposition against the liquor traffic is rising higher every day and is registering itself in many practical ways.

THE SECULAR PRESS.—A few years ago the press was almost silent on the Temperance reform, would not even print the news items on the subject. But during the past year it is noteworthy that the daily press from Boston to San Francisco has had much to say about the temperance question, has discussed it under conspicuous headlines, has given columns and editorials, has sent reporters to gather the news and catch flying messages of victory or defeat—unprecedented space and interest in the secular press.

LEGISLATION.—The measures creating the most widespread interest, causing petitions to pour in from hundreds of thousands of voters, delegations and “hearings” on both sides, have been the Temperance measures. Since the beginning of the present year at least 250 bills concerning the liquor traffic have been introduced into the various legislatures, thus securing public discussion at the very center of civic affairs. Several Governors in their annual messages voiced fearless indictments of the saloon’s continual lawlessness and its inevitable harvest of crime and vice.

COURT DECISIONS.—February 13th, 1907, Judge Samuel R. Artman, of the Boone Circuit Court of Indiana, rendered a most notable decision, basing it upon many Court precedents and concluding with the following strong expression:

“In view of these holdings, based, as they certainly are, upon good reason and sound common sense, it must be held that the state can not, under the guise of a license, delegate to the saloon business a legal existence, because to hold that it can is to hold that the state may sell and delegate the right to make widows and orphans, the right to break up homes, the right to create misery and crime, the right to make murderers, the right to produce idiots and lunatics, the right to fill orphanages, poor houses, insane asylums, jails and penitentiaries and the right to furnish subjects for the hangman’s gallows.

“The Supreme Court of Indiana, the Supreme Courts of many other states, and the Supreme Court of the United States have already so far passed the middle of the stream upon the question involved in this case that return would now be more difficult than to go over. ‘Go over’ is merely to draw the natural, logical and inevitable conclusion from the declarations and judgments of the courts. To return would mean either to abandon the adjudication that the saloon business is unlawful at common law, or to hold that a business which has been adjudged, by the courts, to be unlawful, at common law, because it naturally and inherently endangers the health, comfort, safety, morals and welfare of the people, may be legalized for money. Some court may so hold in this case, but it will not be done by this court. If it is done by any court, it must be done by the court that has already held the business to be unlawful, because of its inherently destructive effects upon society.

“With due appreciation of the responsibilities of the occasion, conscious of my obligations, under my oath to Almighty God and to my fellow man, I can not, by a judgment of this court, authorize the granting of a saloon license.”

The above has been printed as “Senate Document No. 384, 59th Congress, Second Session,” and may be obtained through your representative in Congress, or from the public printer, Washington, D. C.

To Mr. C. E. Newlin, of Indianapolis, Ind., is largely due the credit for having this case brought to a test and to Doane & Orbison, attorneys of that city, for their able presentation of the case.

April 13th, 1907, exactly two months after the decision of Judge Artman, another still more sweeping decision was rendered by Judge Ira W. Christian, of Hamilton County, Ind., Circuit Court, in which, after reviewing at length fifty-four Court decisions, he concluded as follows:

“I am drawn to the inevitable conclusion that the business of selling intoxicating liquors at retail to be drunk on the premises where sold is dangerous to the public morals, the public safety, the public health, and that, therefore, the place where such business is conducted is per se a nuisance and needs no proof as to its injurious effects upon the public.

“Therefore if the constitution of the state of Indiana guarantees to the people their peace, their safety, their well-being, as it does in section one, article one, of the Bill of Rights, it impliedly denies the right to the legislature to pass any law which would injuriously affect the peace, safety and well-being of the people. And if the business of selling intoxicating liquors at retail is dangerous to and destructive of the peace, the safety, and the well-being of the people, as the long line of adjudged cases, already cited, have found, it clearly follows that a law creating and not restricting the right to engage in such business is antagonistic to article one, section one, of the constitution, and therefore unconstitutional.”

March 4th, 1907, the Supreme Court of the United States handed down a decision sustaining the Courts of Nebraska in making it a misdemeanor to use the United States flag on liquor advertisements.

On March 11th, 1907, the Supreme Court of the United States handed down a decision sustaining the law of the State of South Dakota in imposing an “occupation tax” upon men soliciting orders for liquor, declaring that such a law was not “restraint of trade and commerce.”

ORGANIZED LABOR.—There has been great change of sentiment on the part of the leaders of organized labor with reference to the use of strong drink, and everywhere the wisest of the labor leaders are urging men to abstain from intoxicants. Formerly the union meeting halls were generally in connection with saloons, often granted free by the saloons, but so situated that the men were obliged to pass through the saloon to reach it; and the expectation was that the men would stop at the bar on entering and leaving. But the saloon has wrought only damage to the unions and the workmen. Councils inspired by strong drink are never wise or safe. Hence the agitation for “Temples of Labor,” for halls at a safe distance from saloons, for the use of public school rooms as meeting places for unions, and constant appeals to men to cease using intoxicants. Hence some unions have written it in their by-laws and entered it into their contracts that the union man guilty of using intoxicants might be discharged instantly. There is a clear recognition that the man who drinks is the man who is going down and out. Liquor is labor's worst enemy.

ECONOMICS.—The science of economics has demonstrated that the temperance reform is the greatest financial problem of the age.

|----------------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| Direct cost of liquor traffic | $1,500,000,000.00 |
| Indirect cost of liquor traffic | 1,000,000,000.00 |
| Total cost of liquor traffic | 2,500,000,000.00 |
| Total National revenue from all sources | 762,337,000.00 |
| Total internal revenue from alcoholic liquors..... | 212,565,000.00 |
| Total cost of public schools | 291,616,000.00 |
| Customs revenue (tariff) | 300,251,000.00 |
| Farm value of wheat in the United States | 490,322,000.00 |
| Net traffic earnings of all railroads | 685,464,000.00 |
| Public debt (National) | 964,345,000.00 |
| Total money in circulation | 2,736,000,000.00 |
| Panama Canal (estimated) | 250,000,000.00 |

From the above statistics it will be seen that the liquor traffic costs nearly nine times as much as the public schools, five times as much as the wheat crop, four times the net earnings of the railroads, three times the entire National receipts, practically as much as the entire amount of money in circulation, while it returns to the general government only $212,565,000 and to the various States about $100,000,000 in license. In other words, it costs two billions and a half and returns about one-eighth of that amount after working untold and unimaginable moral and social and domestic ruin.

THE TESTIMONY OF SCIENCE.—The Educational Committee of the city council of Berlin, Germany, has issued a memorandum to mothers warning them against the practice of giving children wine or beer even in small quantities. The circular points out the fact that there are 12,000 persons in German lunatic asylums whose minds have been deranged through excessive drinking and that 200 persons are annually received in one Berlin hospital suffering with delirium tremens. It appears that the use of "light wine and beer" has solved the Temperance question with a vengeance in Germany.

Dr. T. D. Crothers, in an address before the Buffalo Academy of Medicine, Buffalo, N. Y., February 12th, 1907, says:

"Recent researches of the physiological action of alcohol on the body have revealed some very startling conclusions and pointed out facts and causes of disease not recognized before.

"The supposed stimulant effect of alcohol is found to be narcotic and its good effect is simply covering up the pain while increasing the causes, also that alcohol is among the most poisonous and seductive drugs which can be used in medicine, and that as a beverage it occupies much the same plane as that of opium to quiet pain and discomfort and nothing more.

“Good authorities declare that 50 per cent of pneumonias occur in spirit and drug takers, simply because they have low vitality and feeble power of resistance.

“The cumulative effect of these poisons not only destroys the membranes of the upper air passages, but acts on the brain centers and the powers of nerve control.

“Alcohol and narcotic drugs by their erosive properties on the delicate membranes of the throat and nose are the most dangerous, destructive agents in common use.”

Dr. S. H. Bergen, of Toledo, says of the beer drinker: “Pneumonia, pleurisy and fevers seem to have a mortgage upon him which they foreclose at the first opportunity.”

Prof. Weleminsky, M. D., of Prague, says: “It is pre-eminently among beer drinkers that diseases of the heart and blood vessels, liver and kidneys occur.”

“There are to-day in this fair State of Illinois about 8,000 epileptics. More than half of them are children. Nearly 2,000 could, if they knew enough, justly point their finger at their father or mother or both and say: ‘You are responsible for my misery. You, through the alcohol which has made you its slave.’”—Dr. Vaclav H. Podstata, Superintendent of the Northern Illinois Hospital for the Insane, Elgin, Ill.

“Alcoholism is certainly the most active co-operator of the deadly tubercle bacillus. It should be impressed upon the masses that alcohol, in whatever form it may have been administered, has never been either a prevention or a cure for consumption.”—S. A. Knopf, M. D., New York, Associate Director for Clinic for Pulmonary Diseases of the Health Department.

“Scientific investigation has established the fact that even a moderate use of alcoholic beverages impairs the acuteness of sight and hearing, including the power of distinguishing colors.”—Deutsche Monatschrift.

“Alcohol, by its power of weakening the lungs, is a frequent cause of consumption.”—M. Legendre, M. D., Paris.

“The use of alcohol weakens the lungs and makes one more liable to lung disease than he would be if he abstained from it.”—Winfield S. Hall, Ph. D., M. D., Professor Physiology Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago.

LAW ENFORCEMENT.

In many places the growing public sentiment has manifested itself in the strict enforcement of laws governing the liquor traffic, with attendant satisfactory results.

Minneapolis reduced crime 25 per cent and saved $600,000 from the saloon till the first six months of the new resume. says Mayor Jones: “I do not pose as a prohibitionist, a reformer or a radical, but we have proved one thing in the present municipal administration—namely, that the so-called ‘necessary evils’ of a great city are ‘necessary’ only so long as the people permit them to be, and not an instant longer, and that every law on the statute books touching these ‘necessary evils’ can be enforced as fully and as successfully as any other, providing the officials care to respect their oaths of office.”

Kansas City (Mo.) Star says: "The business men declare that the city was never in a more prosperous condition and that the enforcement of the prohibition law is not proving disastrous, as the jointkeepers and some of the politicians predicted."

The first Monday morning after the reopening of the saloons in San Francisco (July 9, 1906), there were 74 victims before the police courts as against five the previous Monday; 72 on Friday as against two on the previous Friday, and the second Monday 113, as against three or four the second Monday before reopening. Never again can a man with ordinary intelligence argue that high license reduces the evils of the drink curse or that prohibition properly enforced does not prohibit.

THE ATTITUDE OF BUSINESS.

The following statement was signed by one hundred business firms and prominent citizens of Washington Courthouse, Ohio, including the Mayor, County Auditor, County Treasurer, Postmaster, Recorder, Prosecuting Attorney, Clerk of Courts and others:

"We, the undersigned, business men, merchants and professional men, hereby certify that, to the best of our judgment, the closing of the open saloon in our city, about one and one-half years ago, under the operation of the Beal Law, has been no detriment to the business interests of the town. The spirit of improvement has been as good or better than before, and we believe that all merchants have had as good or better business than before, and we know of no interests of a business character (except saloon business) that have suffered any from the change.

We know of many families that have been greatly benefited by the closing of the saloons, and a great deal of money that now finds its way into legitimate trade, that formerly was spent in saloons, and we have no hesitancy in stating that in our judgment the closing of saloons has been a great benefit to the ordinary lines of retail business of our city."

Mayor Waterhouse, Pasadena, Cal., says: "No-license has caused more people to make their homes in Pasadena than any other one thing."

A Kansas City banker says: "Business has never been better. The deposits of this bank are increasing, the merchants are prosperous and farmers are happy. If it could be known that the suppression of the 'joints' is a settled condition it would be very much to the advantage of the city."
(Signed) C. L. Brokaw.

Lamar, Colo.—“I am heartily in sympathy with the movement for eradicating the saloons from the towns in the Arkansas Valley. The employer of a large number of men can only be in sympathy with this movement, and from a moral standpoint of view should give it every possible assistance. No one can dispute the fact that it is far easier to handle and control the laboring forces in towns where the liquor traffic is entirely suppressed than where saloons are established.”—(Signed) W. K. Winterhalter, Manager, American Beet Sugar Company.

Rocky Ford, Colo.—“I have been connected with the American Beet Sugar Company, of Rocky Ford, Colo., for six years. For three years we had license and for three years prohibition. We employ about 500 men and our pay-roll amounts to many thousands of dollars each month. We find that under prohibition our men are more regular, do more and better work, their families are better provided for and happier and the town shows improvement in every direction.

“I believe that 80 per cent of the merchants favor prohibition because they sell more goods and find it easier to collect their bills.”—(Signed) C. E. Evans, Assistant Manager.

The Business Men’s Association, of Creston, Iowa, reports that out of one hundred men who pay their bills promptly only three are drinking men, and that 97 per cent of those on the blacklist and refused credit for cause are saloonkeepers, bartenders and grog-shop patrons.

The manufacturing interests of Kokomo, Ind., are endeavoring to rid themselves of the saloons in their immediate vicinity. They estimate that thirty saloons which pay $7,500 license tax annually to the city damage their business interests at least $75,000. J. E. Frederick, Secretary to the Kokomo Steel and Iron Company, says: “I can hardly calculate in dollars and cents but I am safe in saying that the saloon close to our plant costs us not less than $5,000 a year, and every manufacturing plant in this city suffers in proportion.”

THE FRIGHT OF THE ENEMY.

“There has never been a time in the history of the liquor business in this country when the trade should be so thoroughly united in its stand against our common enemy, the Prohibition Party, as now; and this fact cannot be too earnestly expressed in your paper.”—N. R. Collins & Co., Distillers, in “Bar and Buffet,” New York, Cincinnati and Chicago, March, 1907.

“With more than one-half of the geographical limits of this great country under laws prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages . . . and with an organization opposing us and sworn to our destruction that lacks nothing in the way of money or brains, enthusiasm or persistent, untiring work, what—may we ask—is the wine and spirit trade doing to arrest the current of events or to alter in any way the radical conclusions which are being forced upon the people in every State, county and precinct?

“If there is one thing that seems settled beyond question, it is that the retail liquor trade of this country must either mend its ways materially or be prohibited in all places save the business or tenderloin precincts of our larger cities.”—Bonfort’s Wine and Spirit Circular.

“The future of the entire trade is threatened by the thoroughly organized plan of attack, gigantic in scope, complete and thorough in method.

. . . In less than ten years from now the retail liquor business will be generally regarded as quite as honorable and morally unobjectionable as the restaurant or hotel business; or—it will be abolished.”—Beverages, New York liquor organ.

“Our business will go to pieces in spite of all we can do. It is only a question of time when you and I will be legislated out of business.”—Bernheim, Louisville distiller, in recent private interview.

“The perusal of the columns of this journal for issue after issue should be sufficient to impress the slowest reader of the fact that the enemies of the trade are concentrating their efforts upon our interests in every direction.”—Mida’s Criterion, Chicago liquor journal.

“Developments in the political and social aspects have been decidedly adverse to trade.”—The American Brewer’s Review.

THE GOVERNMENT.—Valuable assistance has been rendered to the temperance cause in Indian Territory by the United States government. Some months ago, through the efforts of William E. Johnson, Special Agent of the Interior Department, detailed to aid in suppressing the liquor traffic in Indian Territory, all of the express companies and railways doing business in the Territory issued general orders to all agents to refuse shipment of all brewery products as well as spiritous liquors to Territory points. A furious contest followed, in which Johnson smashed up nearly 25,000 bottles of these beers which were sneaked into the Territory by tricks and deception.

Secretary of Agriculture, Hon. James Wilson, has recently issued a strong arraignment of the false representations of liquor advertisements, declaring that if they do not cease their outrageous misrepresentations in magazines and on bill-boards he will publish the names of the manufacturers indulging in the campaign of deception. The Secretary also denies any knowledge of the existence of the “United States Board of Health” in Washington, which has been concocting fulsome eulogies of certain brands of beer as paid advertisements in news columns of the press.

THE STATUS OF THE STATES.

The facts change so rapidly and constantly that it is impossible to state exact conditions with more than approximate accuracy. The following statistics were obtained from reliable sources in each State, and give the situation as it existed April the 1st, 1907:

Alabama—Local option, majority of counties “dry.”
Arizona—Local option.

- Arkansas—Local option, "dry" except nine counties.
- California—Local option, two counties "dry" and large portion of southern end of state.
- Colorado—Local option.
- Connecticut—Ninety-two out of 168 towns and cities "dry."
- Delaware—One-half of area "dry."
- District of Columbia—Licensed by Congress; people have no voice; license $800.
- Florida—Thirty-two out of 45 counties, constituting two-thirds of area, "dry."
- Georgia—One hundred and twenty-four out of 146 counties "dry."
- Idaho—License.
- Illinois—Five hundred towns and ten counties "dry," three Prohibitionists in State Legislature, three-fourths of area "dry."
- Indiana—Local option, 583 out of 975 towns "dry."
- Indian Territory—Prohibition by government treaty.
- Iowa—Sixty-five out of 99 counties "dry."
- Kansas—Constitutional Prohibition, 85 out of 105 counties have no paupers.
- Kentucky—Ninety-two out of 119 counties "dry."
- Louisiana—Local option, one-third of the state "dry."
- Maine—Constitutional Prohibition.
- Maryland—Fifteen out of 23 counties "dry."
- Massachusetts—Local option, one-half area and two-thirds population under prohibition. One Prohibitionist in Legislature.
- Michigan—County option, limited area "dry."
- Minnesota—Local option, 121 towns "dry;" Prohibition party very active with three men in Legislature.
- Mississippi—Seventy counties out of 76 "dry," ten-elevenths of area and five-sixths of the population under prohibition.
- Missouri—Local option, 42 counties "dry."
- Montana—Local option by county and town.
- Nebraska—Local option by county and town, 400 "dry" towns.
- New Hampshire—Local option, 6 out of 11 cities "dry."
- New Jersey—License.
- New Mexico—License.
- New York—Local option by town and township, 309 towns "dry."
- North Carolina—County prohibition.
- North Dakota—Constitutional Prohibition.
- Nevada—Bad liquor law.
- Ohio—Local option, 450 towns "dry."
- Oklahoma Territory—Vote on Prohibition constitutional amendment in August
- Oregon—Local option referendum, nine counties "dry," temperance gaining rapidly.
- Pennsylvania—Judges grant license.
- Rhode Island—Fifteen out of 38 towns "dry."
- South Carolina—County option, 22 counties (half of area) "dry."
- South Dakota—Town option dispensary.
- Tennessee—Ninety-three out of 96 counties "dry," only five "wet" towns in the state.
- Texas—County option, 156 counties out of 253 "dry," one-half of territory and three-fourths of population under Prohibition.
- Utah—Local option.
- Vermont—Two hundred and forty-seven towns out of 340 "dry," reaction against license.
- Virginia—Seventy-three out of 100 counties "dry," two-thirds of population under Prohibition.
- Washington—Fifty towns "dry." Prohibitionist in state senate.
- West Virginia—Thirty-two out of 55 counties "dry."
- Wisconsin—Local option, 600 out of 1,454 towns "dry," threesevenths of area prohibition, 60,000 population under prohibition.

Wyoming—Municipal local option.

One-half of the area and more than one-third of the population of the United States is now under prohibitory law. The attitude of science, industry, education, religion, journalism, sociology, law, labor, capital, business, economics, art, literature and general public sentiment all prophesy the overthrow of the liquor traffic.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

In this march of progress the Presbyterian Church has taken an honorable part.

A general summary of the work is given on the second page of this report, to which we invite special attention. The Committee furnished the churches with nearly four times as much literature, ten times as many pledge-cards, sent speakers to more than twice as many churches and supplied information by personal letter to five times as many people as it did the preceding year, while the increase in its receipts was but 50% over the preceding year.

It is worthy of note that this literature was sent in response to definite requests, the kind and amount being specified in the order; and that the requests for the service of our Secretaries was beyond all possibility of fulfillment.

We desire to express appreciation of the literature donated to this Committee by the Board of Publication as well as for the courtesy and help of its officers.

OUR WORKERS

The first of January, on account of advancing years, the Corresponding Secretary resigned the pastorate upon which he has been dependent for support, while cheerfully serving our Church in the cause of temperance. Grateful for any good that he may have been able to do in the past, he hopes now to devote his entire time and remaining strength to the work.

Mr. Lilley, as Chairman and Treasurer, has performed service which would have cost many hundreds of dollars. Not only has he never accepted a cent of remuneration, but as the records this year show, has given most generously to the support of the work, and has done so in former years without so much as allowing the fact to be made known.

Besides Mr. Scanlon, Dr. Fulton and Mr. Holman (colored evangelist), who were with us last year, we have been fortunate in securing the service of Rev. E. R. Worrell, D. D., and Miss Marie C. Brehm.

Dr. Worrell's scholarship, his familiarity with the temperance reform both practically and historically, all gave promise of the valuable service which the testimony from many States amply confirms.

Miss Brehm, who is our special lecturer on Scientific Temperance, has more than sustained her reputation as a woman of ability, culture, knowledge, consecration and tactful wisdom.

In response to a formal invitation from the Synod of California, Miss Brehm has spent two months in that State. Concerning her, Rev. D. M. Gandier, one of our Presbyterial Chairmen, writes: "Allow me to tell you how much we appreciated Miss Brehm's meetings throughout our Presbytery. She is a magnificent worker, of whom the whole Church may be proud, and for whom we should be grateful." Equally gratifying reports of all our workers reach us from nearly every part of the Union.

Elder H. P. Faris of Clinton, Mo., has again placed us under obligation by his generous contributions of time and money. Not only does Mr. Faris refuse compensation, but pays his own traveling expenses. Through him the Committee was able to be represented at several Synods which we would not otherwise have reached. Are there not other elders who are able and willing to serve their Church in a similar way?

Rev. D. C. Milner, D.D., generously visited the Synods of Nebraska, Kansas and Colorado in behalf of the Committee, and we desire to make acknowledgment of his valuable assistance.

In this connection mention should be made of the years of gratuitous service rendered by the members of the Permanent Committee. Whatever has been accomplished is largely due to their co-operation and counsel, and we believe the Church does and will continue to appreciate their service.

SEED SOWING.

Great reforms are of slow growth. Seed must be sown and roots must get firm hold. The Presbyterian Church has done much of the seed-sowing for the harvest now ripening. Her first minister on American soil, Francis Makemie, lifted up his voice against intemperance. Her second General Assembly declared her purpose to aid in making men sober citizens of a free government. Through more than a century she has uttered her voice in behalf of temperance and against the liquor traffic.

In 1818 she recommended her members to abstain from the common use of ardent spirits, and in 1829 recommended entire abstinence. In 1834 and 1842 she uttered strong protest against the traffic in ardent spirits, and a little later decreed that the Church must purge herself from all participation in the sin by removing from her pale all who engaged in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating drinks for use as a common beverage. In 1855, 1889, and 1890 the General Assembly declared strongly in favor of prohibiting the traffic by law, and recommended that ministers and congregations, while neither advocating nor antagonizing any political party, should by effort, voice and vote oppose the traffic in intoxicants and persevere in vigorous efforts until laws shall be enacted in every state and territory prohibiting entirely the traffic. This is the seed which is now bearing fruit.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE AND LEGAL SUPPRESSION.

Thus the temperance reform is a Christian enterprise that has been thoroughly interwoven with our denominational life, and, through the course of time, by a process of evolution, we have arrived at the two fundamental principles of our Church as touching the liquor problem, viz., total abstinence for the individual, and the legal suppression of the traffic by the state and nation.

These two principles the Assembly's Committee has been urging for many years. Our literature has been built upon these two great pillars of the temperance reform. Both are necessary. Total abstinence is the method that undertakes to keep the drinker from the drink. Legal suppression is the method that undertakes to keep the drink from the drinker.

Our total abstinence campaign has been especially conducted in our Sabbath schools, for which the following pledge has been prepared: "For Christ and Home and Country, I hereby enroll myself a member of the Presbyterian Temperance Union, and promise with divine help to abstain from all intoxicants as a beverage and to use my influence to abolish the drink habit and the liquor traffic."

Our other work is pre-eminently educational, arousing public sentiment to the point of determined antagonism to the liquor traffic.

THE RIGHT OF PETITION.

The national government and the civil authorities in every state in the Union recognize the right of petition on the part of both secular and religious organizations. The constitution of our Church guarantees this right, and the Church has always claimed and frequently exercised it. Our Assembly, Synods, Presbyteries, Boards, Committees and individual congregations have repeatedly done so.

In 1893 the General Assembly instructed the Permanent Committee on Temperance to memorialize Congress to join with other nations in preventing the sale of liquor and fire-arms in Africa, the New Hebrides and Alaska; in 1898 for the passage of the Ellis bill; in 1899 concerning debauchery in the Philippines; in 1900 again in behalf of the New Hebrides; in 1903 for the passage of the Hepburn-Dolliver bill; in 1904 for a prohibitory clause in the Statehood bill for Oklahoma; in 1905 concerning internal revenue. In 1901 our Board of Foreign Missions, through the Temperance Committee, presented a memorial against the opium traffic in China and the following Assembly specifically approved this measure. In 1892 our General Assembly protested against the appropriation of public moneys to sectarian schools, as prejudicial to national welfare and unconstitutional.

The Assembly of 1906 instructed the Permanent Committee on Temperance to memorialize Congress concerning federal tax receipts in no-license territory, and the instruction was obeyed.

The Synod of Washington, 1906, requested the Committee to address the President of the United States in behalf of the Nezperce Indians in Idaho, and we did so.

It is therefore evident that the right of petition is clearly within the scope of Church Temperance work.

THE SPHERE OF THE CHURCH.

The Presbyterian Church stands for the principle of separation of Church and State, and there are lines of activity which the Assembly's Committee regards as outside the sphere of Church Temperance work and therefore inappropriate to be undertaken by an agency of the Church.

POLITICS—Some of the tap roots of the liquor traffic can be cut only by legislation. Every Christian voter should take an active and intelligent interest in political affairs and register his conviction at the ballot box, but the Church in her organized capacity ought not to interfere in political primaries, or advocate the election or defeat of candidates for political office, or authorize men to conduct political campaigns, or otherwise compromise herself by political entanglement.

LAW ENFORCEMENT—We regard the execution of law as the peculiar function of civil authorities, and the Church in her official capacity ought not to employ detectives, or gather evidence, or institute proceedings in courts, or undertake to enforce laws which other men have been elected, sworn and paid to enforce.

Therefore the Assembly's Committee has never engaged in political work, has no desire or intention to do so either alone or in conjunction with similar committees, does not regard such work proper for the Church, and has so declared both in print and on the public platform.

In thus defining the position of the Assembly's Committee as related to civic affairs, we do not question the propriety or the necessity of some of this work being done by civic agencies or by individuals. It is very desirable that there should be temperance organizations to do the work which, because political, the Church cannot do. No intelligent person who has the cause of temperance at heart, and honestly desires to see the liquor traffic utterly annihilated, can question the usefulness and necessity for temperance agencies which are in no way officially connected with the Church, and are therefore free to grapple with the problem in ways which the Church cannot. But for such organizations to confine themselves to the prescribed limits of the Church which, as her representative, they would be morally obliged to do, would be to limit their usefulness and compel them to trespass upon the sphere of the Church.

It is therefore clearly evident that whatever is proper for the Church in her organized capacity to do at all, she should do in her own name and right; and whatever is unwise and improper for her to do in this manner or through her own agencies, she should not attempt to do or be asked to do through other organizations.

CHURCH DELIVERANCES.

This we believe to be the historical and uniform attitude of our Church in Christian enterprises in which she officially engages. In this connection we cite the following clearly defined official declarations.

Confession of Faith, Chapter 31, Article 4: "Synods and Councils are to handle or conclude nothing but that which is ecclesiastical; and are not to intermeddle with civil affairs which concern the commonwealth, unless by way of humble petition in cases extraordinary."

In defining the relation of the Church to societies for temperance and other moral reforms, the Assembly of 1848 declared as follows, in answer to an overture concerning the Washingtonian society: "It is, hence, beside the province of the Church to render its courts, which God ordained for spiritual purposes, subsidiary to the schemes of any association founded in the human will and liable to all its changes and caprices. . . . Recognizing these propositions as truths of the Word of God, this General Assembly, as a court of Jesus Christ, cannot league itself with any voluntary society. These societies must appeal not to Church courts, but to Church members."

In 1873, in response to a similar invitation from another Temperance Society, the Assembly replied as follows: "That while this Assembly approves of all proper efforts made to suppress intemperance, it declines to send delegates, in its name, to the proposed convention."

In 1880 the Assembly, in taking action upon credentials of friendly visitors from a Temperance Society, passed the following resolution: "Resolved, that it is the judgment of this Assembly that friendly delegates or visitors should be received only from corresponding ecclesiastical bodies."

The following year, 1881, in response to a communication asking for appointment of delegates to a National Temperance Convention to be held at Saratoga Springs, the Assembly replied: "Whilst this General Assembly feels a deep interest in the subject of temperance, it is not our custom to appoint delegates except to ecclesiastical bodies." See also similar action in 1860, 1891 and 1906.

THE INTER-CHURCH TEMPERANCE COUNCIL.

The claims of the Temperance Reform upon the Church are sacred and imperative, and the closer they become identified the better it will be for both.

For more than a century many have insisted that instead of inactively deploring the evils of intemperance, the Churches should systematically, aggressively and unitedly attack the evil themselves and cease to leave all the work to other organizations, however wise it be to leave some phases of it to them.

As early as 1811 the General Assembly appointed a Committee to devise measures to prevent intemperance and authorized the Committee "to correspond and act in concert with any persons who may be appointed or associated for a similar purpose." And Dr. Daniel Dorchester, a Methodist, in "The Liquor Problem in All Ages" says: "The result of this action can be traced through certain and definite links to the present time."

The Assembly of 1827 pledged the Presbyterian Church in the United States to the work of co-operating with the Christian brethren of every denomination in a great national effort to accomplish a universal change in the habits and customs of our country relative to the use of intoxicating liquors.

When the Permanent Committee was established in 1881, one of its assigned duties was "to initiate measures for promoting similar action on the part of other evangelical Churches."

To various subsequent Assemblies report was made of the progress of such correspondence, until in 1903, when the following specific command was given: "Resolved, That we direct the Permanent Committee on Temperance to open correspondence with the officers or judicatories of sister Churches, asking that Temperance Committees be by them appointed, with a view to mutual conference and combined effort against our common foe, the liquor traffic." The Permanent Committee's reports of 1904 and 1905 each tell of additional Churches establishing Permanent Committees on Temperance; whereupon the General Assembly of 1906 approved the following plan of federation in temperance work: "That the proper officials of one denomination shall issue an invitation to other denominations to appoint delegates to a National Inter-Church Conference to consider the feasibility of a Church Temperance Federation. When these delegates have formulated and agreed upon a basis of federation and this basis shall have been ratified by the participating Churches it shall then become operative." Pursuant to this action the Permanent Temperance Committees of the United Presbyterian Church of North America and the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America issued a joint call for a National Inter-Church Temperance Conference to be held in the city of Pittsburgh, Penn'a, January 30th and 31st, 1907.

Including corresponding members, almost one hundred persons, from widely separated portions of the United States, participated in this Conference, sixteen denominations being represented.

WHY THE COUNCIL.

Long experience and a large correspondence had convinced us that the Church in her organized capacity and in her own name and authority ought to combat the evil of intemperance and the liquor traffic. How to do this was the problem. The official Temperance Committee seems to be the answer of the Church to this question.

But there was much uncertainty and some diversity of opinion concerning the character and scope of work proper for such Committees to undertake. If they were to be active, there must be something definite before them to do. They would not duplicate the work of other organizations, therefore their own sphere must be defined. As workers in other lines find mutual conference through a common organization helpful, so the twelve Church Temperance Committees, already established, need a central agency through which they may confer and act when desirable.

Therefore in the interest of harmony and efficiency, and to avoid confused and embarrassing relations, a basis of agreement, setting forth the object, character, extent and limitations of Church Temperance work was desirable and necessary.

After mature and prayerful deliberation the Conference agreed upon the following basis to be presented to the supreme judicatories of the various denominations for consideration and to the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America with a view to becoming connected with said Council. (See Appendix A.)

SOME FACTS.

Since our Assembly deems it inexpedient to affiliate with non-ecclesiastical bodies and declines to be officially represented by them, there would seem to be a necessity for some such arrangement as is here proposed in order that we might join with other churches in exerting our largest influence.

Some, not fully understanding the situation, have objected to the plan, and for this reason we present the following facts:

1. The action of the Conference which framed this "Basis of Agreement" will be seen to be in strict conformity with the action of the General Assembly which at its last meeting approved, without a dissenting vote, the exact plan which has been followed. (See Minutes of Assembly.)

2. For more than a half century temperance advocates have insisted that the Church, in her own name and right, should espouse this cause. At least thirteen denominations, most of them at the request of our Assembly, have established Committees for this purpose and, as will be seen, three others, sixteen in all, met in conference to devise a plan by which they could co-operate.

3. In the proposed basis the Churches plainly limit themselves to gospel temperance, a field which has been almost entirely abandoned since the political phase of the question has been made prominent. Indeed, no other agency claims to do, or expresses a desire to do, the kind of work which is here outlined.

4. Both the Assembly's Committees and the Temperance Conference have disclaimed any intention or desire to participate in politics.

5. So far as we have been able to learn, every temperance organization in the United States, except one, rejoices at this union of the Churches for temperance work.

6. The governing bodies of most of the denominations will meet before the Church Federation meets, and some of the largest of them, the Methodist Episcopal, for example, as well as others, will not convene, after that, until 1912. The Church Federation, after agreeing upon a basis, would have to refer it to the denominations again for approval, and the delegates then appointed by the denominational bodies would have to come together and harmonize whatever differences of plan or platform still existed. It would take at least six years to carry out such a plan, and possibly much longer.

If the present plan or platform is objectionable, let its defects be pointed out and remedied now, but why ask a delay of so many years for no assigned reason except to consider what has already been considered for a quarter of a century?

7. Frequent Conferences have been held with the officers of the Executive Committee of the "Federation of Churches," the "Basis of Agreement" meets their approval, and they regard favorably the proposition to constitute the proposed National Inter-Church Temperance Council a Department of the "Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America."

8. The work which the Church Temperance Committees may properly undertake separately may be appropriately undertaken conjointly with decided advantage.

9. The Permanent Committee was instructed to try to enlist the co-operation of other denominations and has succeeded. Sixteen of them have responded to our invitation, and it would certainly seem inappropriate for the very Church which inaugurated the movement, and for so many years has pressed it, to repudiate the plan which it commended to others after they have accepted it.

Therefore in justice to the cause and to our own denomination, in courtesy to the denominations which have accepted the invitation which our Assembly instructed us to extend to them, we venture to express the hope that this General Assembly will not reverse the action and instruction of previous Assemblies.

FINIS.

The diversity of opinion on the temperance question as regards methods, agencies and even principles makes it a perplexing problem. When to the actual work is added the responsibility of devising and putting in operation the machinery necessary to meet the needs of a great denomination, and limited means supplied with which to do it, the difficulty becomes apparent to all experienced people. To the best of our knowledge and ability we have tried to be true to the history and traditions of our Church, to guard her interests and to execute her commands.

Church temperance work is a matter about which we should be extremely careful, persistently and patiently active, and profoundly thankful. The Presbyterian Church is at the front and the prayer of your Committee is that God will wisely guide, greatly bless and mightily use her for His own glory in the dissemination of true temperance principles and the overthrow of the liquor traffic.

TERMS OF MEMBERS.

With this Assembly, the terms of the following members of the Committee expire: Mr. William C. Lilley, Rev. C. S. McClelland, D. D., Rev. T. B. Anderson, D. D., and Mr. Graham C. Wells.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. E. R. Worrell, D. D., who accepted an Associate Secretaryship under the Committee, was filled by the selection of Rev. John Royal Harris, D. D.

The books are closed, the work is done. The record of the year must stand as made. It has cost much labor and some sacrifice which we offer, with sincere gratitude, to the great Head of the Church whose we are and whom we must serve.

JOHN F. HILL,

Secretary.

SPECIAL SUGGESTIONS.

This "report" will be found useful as a handbook of temperance information.

Our Committee has published about one hundred temperance tracts. Enclose stamps for samples.

Remember "Temperance Day," and make request for "special program" for the Sabbath School in due time.

Our total abstinence pledge is just the thing for Sabbath Schools.

Appoint a Temperance Secretary for the Sabbath School.

Arouse the Church Temperance Committee to activity.

An excellent idea for pastors to exchange pulpits and preach on temperance.

Take the Church offering for temperance early in the year, and forward immediately. Our treasury is at low tide.

The Temperance "Mite Box" will be furnished by the Committee for children's use in the Sabbath School and home. Ask for sample.

From every quarter come words of appreciation of the high-grade literature published by this Committee, almost every denomination in the United States and Canada having used it the past year.

The greatest limitation to our work is the lack of funds, and we greatly appreciate those friends of the temperance cause who make individual gifts or gather contributions for us.

Our literature is free to all Presbyterian Churches, but unless the gifts to temperance in the future become commensurate with the increasing demand for literature, we shall be obliged to request that postage expense be borne by those who order.

The restoration of the "Army Canteen" will be raised, in all probability, in the next Congress, and the Church should stand in a solid phalanx against it.

APPENDIX.

BASIS OF AGREEMENT.

Adopted by the National Inter-Church Temperance Conference Held at Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 30 and 31, 1907.

PREAMBLE.

Believing the liquor habit and liquor traffic to be the greatest menace to our beloved country and the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ; the source of political corruption, of waste and pauperism, of immorality and vice, of lawlessness and crime, of disease and death, of ruined homes and lost souls,—

And believing that the legalization of the liquor traffic is contrary to the word of God and the best interests of humanity and country,—

And believing that the time has come, in the providence of God, when the whole Christian Church in our land ought to join voice, heart and hand in a persistent and thoroughly organized campaign for temperance, and throw the whole weight of her moral influence in favor of the legal suppression of the beverage liquor traffic,—

Therefore the members of the National Inter-Church Temperance Conference, assembled in the city of Pittsburgh, representing sixteen denominational bodies, do hereby recommend the following plan for the permanent National Inter-Church Temperance Council to be submitted to the various ecclesiastical bodies for their approval.

NAME.

The name of this organization shall be the National Inter-Church Temperance Council.

OBJECTS.

The objects of this National Inter-Church Temperance Council shall be:

1. To express the unity of the Church in temperance principles and in her aggressive temperance work.

2. To promote gospel temperance in the name of the Church, with the authority of the church, supported by the Church, and responsible to the Church.

3. To secure the mutual counsel and the larger combined influence for the churches of Christ in the temperance cause.

4. Unification of church temperance effort by agreement upon plans and methods of work, and the practical measures most worthy of promotion by the whole Church, so that denominational temperance work shall not be divisive but combined in moral sweep and impact.

5. To so inculcate temperance principles as to preserve the rising generation from the ravages of intemperance and to produce a stalwart army in opposition to the liquor traffic.

6. To create a sentiment which will compel the civil authorities to perform their whole duty concerning the traffic, prevent any seeming necessity for any Christian directly or indirectly supporting, encouraging, condoning or acquiescing in this heinous wickedness, and impress upon the individual Christian his duty to refrain from giving any encouragement to the traffic.

7. To enlist pulpit, platform and printing press in behalf of better temperance laws, and to protest against non-enforcement or violation of existing laws.

8. To preserve the Church from entangling political alliance, and yet make clear the duty of Christian people to use the ballot against a traffic which is the enemy alike of church and state.

9. To make clear the duty and ability of the Church to prohibit and overthrow the legalized liquor traffic whenever she so wills.

LIMITATIONS.

1. The National Inter-Church Temperance Council shall not attempt to commit the Christian Church to any political party nor enter into any election campaign for party candidates.

2. The National Inter-Church Temperance Council shall be limited in its sphere of operation to the lines indicated in these articles of agreement. It shall not attempt to legislate for the constituent bodies on the temperance question, but only give expression of its counsel or recommend a course of action in matters of common interest to Churches and individuals. It shall have no authority to limit in any way the full autonomy of the Christian bodies adhering to it in their temperance work. On the other hand, no denomination shall speak for the Council on any matter upon which it has not specifically declared itself.

BASIS OF MEMBERSHIP.

1. The following named ecclesiastical bodies shall be eligible to membership in the National Inter-Church Temperance Council or any of its branches, and such other ecclesiastical bodies as may hereafter adopt these rules of agreement and be admitted by the National Council: Baptist, Christian, Church of God, Congregational, Disciples of Christ, Episcopal, Evangelical Association, Evangelical Synod of North America, Friends, Lutheran, Methodist, Mennonites, Moravian, Presbyterian, Reformed Churches, United Brethren, United Evangelical.

2. Any denominational body entitled to membership herein may become such when it shall have officially ratified the articles of agreement and appointed its representatives to act officially in the Council, which representatives shall be elected in such manner and at such time as each affiliated body shall determine.

3. Each ecclesiastical body shall be entitled to four members (two ministers and two laymen), and two additional members (one minister and one layman) for each 200,000 membership or major fraction thereof.

OFFICERS.

1. The officers of the National Inter-Church Temperance Council shall be a president, one vice president from each of the constituent bodies, a corresponding secretary, and a treasurer, each of whom shall perform the duties usually assigned to such officers.

2. The corresponding secretary shall be the official representative of the National Inter-Church Temperance Council, under the direction of the executive committee. He shall be charged with the correspondence relative to the work of the Council, enlisting the co-operation of other ecclesiastical bodies, devising the best plans and methods of temperance work, and maintaining an efficient temperance bureau.

3. There shall be an executive committee which shall consist of seven ministers and seven laymen (not more than two of whom shall be of the same denomination), together with the president, the corresponding secretary, the recording secretary, and the treasurer. The executive committee shall have authority to attend to all business of the National Council in the interval between its meetings, submitting report of its transactions to the annual meeting of the National Council for approval.

ELECTIONS.

1. All officers shall be chosen at the regular meeting of the Council, and shall hold office until their successors take office.

2. The president, vice president, corresponding secretary, recording secretary and treasurer shall be elected by the National Council on nomination by the executive committee for the year just closing.

3. The executive committee shall be elected by ballot after nomination by the nominating committee, consisting of one representative named by the delegates of each affiliated body present.

4. Vacancies occurring during the year shall be filled by the appointment of the executive committee.

FINANCES.

The expenses of the National Inter-Church Temperance Council for its meetings and its work shall be provided for by the several constituent bodies, pro rata according to membership, through the denominational temperance agencies.

AUXILIARY COUNCILS.

The question of the formation and operation of Auxiliary Councils shall be referred to the constituent bodies of the next meeting of the National Inter-Church Temperance Council.

MEETINGS.

The National Inter-Church Temperance Council shall hold its meeting each year (unless otherwise directed by two-thirds vote of the executive committee), at such time and place as may be determined upon by the executive committee.

QUORUM.

Delegates from a majority of the constituent bodies having representatives present shall constitute a quorum.

AMENDMENTS.

These articles of agreement may be altered or amended by the majority vote of the members of the Council, followed by a majority vote of the bodies present, each body voting separately.

RELATION TO THE FEDERATION OF CHURCHES.

It is the purpose of this National Inter-Church Temperance Council to co-operate with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, as far as the work is related to that of said Federation, in addition to reporting to the several denominational bodies forming this National Council.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved (1): That the preamble and articles of agreement which we have considered be approved for reference to the denominational bodies herein named for official action, and appointment of representatives to the proposed National Inter-Church Temperance Council for completion of that organization in accordance with instruction from the various denominational bodies.

Resolved (2): That it be the sense of this conference that the constituent bodies in adopting these articles of agreement and appointing their representatives should style their committee, "The committee on temperance and moral reform."

Resolved (3): We request the committees which called this conference to conduct the correspondence with other denominations herein named relative to becoming constituent members of the National Inter-Church Temperance Council, until at least seven denominations shall have acted favorably upon these articles of agreement, when they shall call a meeting of the official delegates of the denominations for completing the organization,—which meeting we suggest should if possible be held prior to the next meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Resolved (4): That we recognize the importance and the value of non-ecclesiastical temperance agencies in the prosecution of temperance work, and bid them Godspeed in their noble effort.

Supplement.

SCIENTIFIC TEMPERANCE.

By Miss Cora Frances Stoddard, Director of Bureau of Scientific Temperance, No. 23 Trull Street, Boston, Mass.

The principle of scientific temperance has shown steady progress during the year. Perusal of the temperance press shows a constant gain in the practical recognition of the fact that all arguments for personal abstinence or for the abolition of the drink traffic rest ultimately on the nature and effects of the substance, alcohol. The epoch-making decision of Judge Artman that licensing the sale of liquor is unconstitutional was based upon the truth that this substance "naturally and inherently endangers the health, comfort, safety, morals and welfare of the people." The same truth is stated in other words by Dr. Kelynack, editor of The Drink Problem, lately published in England, who says:

"The reformer and statesman have need ever to bear in mind that the evil of alcoholism is essentially dependent on the presence in all forms of intoxicating liquors, be they spirits, wines or beers, of a definite toxic agent . . . The chief deleterious action of all intoxicating drinks is dependent on ethylic alcohol, and it is because of this chemical body, with its characteristic action on the human subject, that most drinkers imbibe what is admittedly an agent having dangerous toxic properties."

If any additional proof were needed of the fundamentally correct position that the argument for abstinence rests largely upon a scientific basis, it could be found in the present efforts of the manufacturers of alcoholic beverages, especially of beer, to prove that their product is not only harmless, but actually beneficial to the human organism. They are openly trying to teach the public *that "beer is as healthful as milk," that it is nourishing and strengthening, that "the moderate use of alcohol is for many a man an important hygienic measure," that "the moderate use of alcohol has nothing to do with drunkenness."

These and a host of kindred statements show that the pinch of the scientific argument against alcohol is beginning to be keenly felt.

This renders all the more imperative the duty of every Christian man and woman to disseminate systematically and widely the abundant truth science is giving us about alcohol, thereby destroying the power of the old fallacies which so long have encouraged people to slip carelessly into the drinking habit.

Scientific Temperance Instruction of the children in the Schools gains yearly in favor throughout the world. North Carolina has just re-enacted the enforcing features of her temperance education law, adding some additional clauses, all of which now make it one of the best laws on the subject in the United States. The amendments were secured at the instance of a joint committee representing the different temperance organizations and religious denominations of the State. Such a committee representing both fathers and mothers gives this instruction valuable moral support.

A strong committee of educators has this year recommended a scheme for temperance instruction in the schools of Mexico. When this goes into effect, the larger part of all North America will be under some form of requirement of temperance teaching for its children and youth.

Great Britain is making steady progress in this work under the constant wise pressure of the physicians of the nation, who regard it as a measure for the public health. As a result of this instruction, they confidently expect that "as the children now to be taught have come to have homes and children of their own, the influence in increasing numbers of these homes will be found to be on the side of total abstinence. The total effect, therefore, will be cumulative and progressive, so that in the course of two or three generations much should have been accomplished."*

In Sweden, great assemblies of teachers come together voluntarily to gain information about alcohol and how to influence their pupils by proper instruction on this subject

To all nations, the United States stands out as the pioneer in making this instruction practicable. It behooves us, therefore, to see to it that we abate none of our zeal for it, lest, in the sometimes prosaic work of executing the details without which such instruction cannot be made effective, we lose sight of their importance and so neglect them.

What, then, can a Christian do for temperance education?

Fathers and Mothers can insist upon having this teaching given in the schools, not only for the sake of their own children, but for the sake of the thousands of other children who, if not taught these truths in the schools, will never be taught, and will go out into life unprepared to meet the dangers in alcohol and other narcotics.

*E. Claude Taylor, M. D., F. R. C. S.

Voters can vote for school officials who will make adequate provision for this instruction in the schools.

Members of School Boards can make a definite time and place for this subject in the course of study in the succeeding grades, not forgetting the primary grades.

"Let the early years pass and our task in teaching temperance is enormously increased because it has a gross and selfish appetite to contend with and cannot summon to its aid the nobler aspirations of a citizen."

Superintendents of Schools and other officials can select good books teaching unequivocally the reasons for abstinence, and graded to the capacities of the particular pupils who are to use them. They can furnish teachers reference books, physiological charts, and other helps.

Normal School Instructors can properly prepare their pupils to teach this subject effectively,—a greatly needed work.

Ministers can preach on the subject, or give a prayer-meeting each year to it. A most interesting meeting can be arranged from the material available.

Physicians can give the public, including the teachers, the facts about alcohol with which their medical papers are now teeming. The New York State Medical Journal says:

"We (physicians) know the vast harm that alcoholic beverages are now inflicting upon the people. It devolves upon us to instruct the public as to the dangers of alcohol just as it does to instruct them concerning the dangers of polluted water or of bad milk."

Newspaper Editors can publish short articles or use "fillers" showing the harmful effects of alcoholic drinks, and urging on the public its duty in the matter of teaching the youth these dangers.

Members of Women's Clubs can secure a discussion of this subject on club programs. It belongs there as properly as "Child Labor" or "Tenement House Reforms" since it seeks to remove one of the great causes involved in these and kindred problems.

Temperance Secretaries of Missionary Societies can treat this question in its relation to home missions. A program for this purpose is already prepared.

All Temperance Workers should endeavor to make this instruction effective. Supply teachers with outside helps. Secure better training for them in normal schools and training classes. Give them up-to-date temperance literature including scientific facts, apt illustrations, stories. Encourage the work they are doing; let them feel the stimulating pressure of co-operation and interest from the general public.

This instruction is absolutely essential to the success of other temperance work. It will help make temperance homes in the future. It will help train no-license and prohibition voters for the future. It will carry conviction to voters now as the children repeat at home what they learn in school. If each of the approximately 550,000 public school teachers of the United States were giving but six lessons a year to the 15,000,000 children actually in the public schools, there would be 46,500,000,000 temperance lessons with their facts about the true character of alcohol going into the homes of this country every year. This instruction is necessary to the permanency of all movements for prohibition, no-license, etc., because if the children of today are not taught why alcoholic drinks are dangerous, they will be beguiled as voters into accepting the old sophistries about the sale and use of these drinks so that the legislative work done today may have to be done over again in the next generation. To neglect the education of the coming home-makers and of the coming voters, would, therefore, show poor generalship at the very least.

Summary of Action on Temperance by the General Assembly of 1907.

The following resolutions were offered by the Standing Committee, of which Rev. Henry E. Dosker, D. D., was Chairman.

The annual report and year book of the Permanent Committee was commended as "a document of surpassing interest, fully substantiating our claim as standing in the very front rank of those churches which are boldly advancing the cause of moral reform."

The General Assembly in resolutions 1, 2, 3 and 4 approved the minutes and treasurer's report of the Permanent Committee; re-elected members whose terms had expired; confirmed the nomination of Rev. John Royal Harris, D. D.; increased the membership of the Permanent Committee to eighteen.

5. "That the General Assembly looks with pride and approval on the work of its Permanent Committee on Temperance during the past year, in its unremitting efforts to create sentiment against the drink habit and the liquor traffic; and that this department of our work be recommended to the Church for the sum of $25,000.00."

6. A message of greeting and sympathy was sent to the Corresponding Secretary who was unable to be present on account of illness.

7. Appreciation is expressed to the Board of Publication for its donation of $1,000.00 worth of literature to the Permanent Committee on Temperance.

8. Special attention is called to the literature furnished or recommended by the Permanent Committee. See Report p. p. 22-23.

9. "That the last Sabbath in October be set apart as Temperance Day in our churches, Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies, and that as far as possible, offerings be made on that day for this department of the Assembly's work."

10. The National Temperance Society was commended for its long and unbroken career of usefulness, and for its close connection with Presbyterianism through its officers and workers.

11. "That the General Assembly hereby request the Executive Committee of the Evangelical Alliance to make temperance reform the subject for prayer and consideration on one evening of the week of prayer."

12. The "Basis of Agreement" for the National Inter-Church Temperance Federation was approved for reference to the general Church Federation and the Permanent Committee authorized to present it to that body.

OTHER ACTION BY THE ASSEMBLY.

In response to an overture from the Synod of Indian Territory asking how it could secure representation in non-ecclesiastical bodies, the Assembly declined to authorize such representation, in substance declaring it "a matter of personal liberty, but not of ecclesiastical authority." Commendation was expressed of the Anti-Saloon League, the National Temperance Society and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Responding to a resolution from the floor, the Assembly outlined the sphere of its Permanent Committee on Temperance as non-political and defined the latter term.
